GUN REGISTRATION TO BEGIN AUG. 2

Sheriff's Department Will Make Records Of All Firearms, Collect $2 Fee For Each

The Marin County sheriff's office will register all firearms of persons in the unincorporated area under the new law passed by the board of supervisors yesterday and effective Aug. 2.

Owners will pay a $2 fee per weapon, except for bona fide collectors. They will pay $2 for each firearm or a total of $15, whichever is less.

The owner, besides giving his name and address, will have to produce the weapon so that sheriff's officers will be able to get a description —make, model, serial number and other identification marks.

In the case of historical or antique weapons, many of which lack serial numbers, it is expected that the sheriff's office will describe the features of the weapon as best as possible. Photographs of these weapons may even be taken.

A certificate of registration, probably similar to an auto registration, will be issued to the owner with a copy sent to the state Bureau of Criminal Identification and Information in Sacramento.

If a firearm is transferred to someone else, the change in ownership must be reported within 10 days and the new owner will pay the $2 fee. The transfer will be noted on all original copies of registration.

Violation of the new law, is a misdemeanor, subject to a maximum $500 fine and/or up to six months in the County Jail.

Exempt from the ordinance are servicemen and policemen, so long as their weapons are us-

BUT NO IMMUNITY

Most Police Say Guns Acceptable

By STEPHEN COOK

Though all but two of Marin County's police agencies will gladly accept weapons from citizens who want them destroyed, none want to follow San Francisco's line of granting immunity to those surrendering guns. (See related stories, pages 2, 19.)

San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto has pledged his police force to a "no questions asked" policy on gun surrenders, but Marin police and sheriff's deputies promise that a policeman's usual questions will be asked.

The serial number of the gun will be checked with state and federal agencies to determine whether the weapon has been stolen or used in a crime.

Police officers will ask the name of the person surrendering the weapon but, generally, will accept the gun even if the person declines to state his name. This at least gets the gun out of circulation, they say.

In San Francisco, the serial numbers of surrendered weapons are checked, but names are not taken. If a stolen gun is turned in, police will return it to its owner, but will not be able to follow up with a criminal investigation.

A member of Marin's Students for Kennedy group, which advocates gun surrender, yesterday urged the board of supervisors to declare a no-questions-asked policy for Marin County.

The board balked and laid the

Sausalito Prepares To Enact Gun Control

Sausalito City Councilman Alexander R. Imlay last night announced he would introduce gun control legislation within the next month for action by the city council. (See another Sausalito Council story, page 20.)

His announcement met with the unanimous approval of the three other councilmen present. Councilman Jan Paul Dyk was absent.

Imlay said his proposed ordinance would probably require the registration of all guns in the possession of Sausalito residents. The details of the ordinance are now being worked out with Sausalito Police Chief Edward S. Kreins and City Atty. Lee Jordan, he noted.

In announcing his plans, Imlay said his action was precipitated by the "very sad death" of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and the "reluctance of the state and federal governments to enact meaningful legislation. The time has come for the local community to take action," Imlay told his fellow councilmen.

Mayor Earl F. Dunphy said Imlay's proposal was "very good." The other councilmen agreed. Dunphy indicated he had talked to Dyk about the proposal over the telephone earlier in the evening and said Dyk would support the action.

Dunphy also said he hoped that Imlay's proposal would be acceptable to other Marin cities. "I think it is very important that all of Marin County has the same law," he said.

Imlay noted that Kreins has been conferring with the police chiefs of the other Marin cities so that the proposed legislation could become the basis for a uniform gun control law.

He also said he planned to review the gun control ordinance adopted yesterday by the board of supervisors in the possibility that the county law can be adopted by the cities, thus making it that much easier to establish a uniform law.

He cautioned the council that "we shouldn't panic to enact something that is unenforceable," but added "we should make our voice heard. We have a responsibility to the citizens to act," he said.

Indicated County Tax Rate Inches Up At Budget Session

Marin County's indicated basic tax rate, which had been whittled down to $2.321 at one point, inched back up to $2.324 this morning, with a change in the structural fire tax.

On Monday, the supervisors started with an indicated tax rate of $2.33, three cents over this year's $2.30 per $100 assessed valuation.

By chopping requests for added employees in the veterans service office, county clerk and elections office, and in the district attorney's office, the supervisors brought the rate down to $2.321.

But this morning, the supervisors decided that the structural tax rate, which is paid by the unincorporated areas, should remain at this year's 19 cents, instead of the 20.5 cents recommended by the county administrator. The lack of that 1.5 cents, to have been levied in unincorporated areas only means that about $13,000 will be shifted back to the basic county tax rate. County Auditor Michael Mitchell cranked in the change and announced that the basic county rate now stands at $2.324.

At the start of the budget hearings, the total proposed county budget was $28,946,808. After a day and a half of hearings department by department, the total had been cut to $28,915,608, a drop of $31,200.

The supervisors this morning approved the following budget:

Children's Center and Pre-School — $125,571 as recommended, with one position added. This year's actual spending is $106,628.

The supervisors refused to vote today on a vocational education program in data processing for high school students, which would add a half-cent to the tax rate. They will discuss it again on July 2.

Dr. Virgil S. Hollis, county superintendent of schools, pleaded for action on this program.

Peru Quake Fatal To 41

Initial reports said at least 41 persons were killed and more than 100 injured. Several hundred persons were left homeless.

Official reports from Iquitos said the major shock and subsequent settling shocks killed 30 in Chachapoyas, capital of Amazonas (department province). Another 11 persons were reported killed and 100 injured in Moyabamba, capital of San Martin (department province).

Chachapoyas is a city of 20,000 about 75 miles southwest of Moyobamba. The latter city, of 15,000 inhabitants, was reported to have suffered "enormous damage."

The telegraph office here said about 10 earth shocks had been felt since the first major quake at 4:15 a.m., Colombian time (1:15 a.m., PDT). Epicenter of the first earth movement was placed at about 40 miles north of Moyobamba,

McCarthy Scores Big In New York Primary

ALBANY (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy jolted state Democratic forces today by overpowering Humphrey and Kennedy delegate slates while a McCarthy supporter scored an upset victory in a three-way Senate race.

The Minnesota senator jubilantly hailed the results of the state's primary yesterday as one of his greatest victories. (See other political stories, page 16.)

Partial returns slowed by hand-counting of paper ballots gave McCarthy 51 of the 123 convention delegate slots at stake. Delegates who said they were remaining pledged to the ideals of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy won 20 while backers of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey had one.

The voting trend indicated that McCarthy would maintain the wide lead in delegates.

The surprise Senate victor was Paul O'Dwyer, a former city councilman and brother of former mayor of New York City. He defeated Eugene H. Nickerson, Nassau County executive who came into the race at the urging of Kennedy and Rep. Joseph Y. Resnick, of upstate Ellenville, a Johnson-Humphrey administration supporter.

An O'Dwyer spokesman said later that McCarthy would make an unscheduled campaign visit to New York City late today, presumably to capitalize on the psychological lift the victory was expected to give his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination.

There was no immediate comment from the Humphrey camp. He had not mounted a major personal effort in the state.

Thousands March For King's Dream

Widow At Helm Of 50,000

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Thousands of Americans sharing the slain Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s final dream streamed to the Lincoln Memorial today to join his widow in a memory-laden climax to the Poor People's Campaign.

To cries of "soul power, soul power," the poverty campaigners walked along both sides of the reflecting pool on the mall between the Washington Monument and the Lincoln Memorial.

Mrs. Coretta King, dressed in black with a black lace veil similar to the dress she wore for her husband's funeral, joined the marchers at noon (EDT).

HER ESCORTS

The widow was flanked by King's father, Rev. Martin Luther King Sr.; his brother, Rev. A. D. Williams King, and King's successor, Rev. Ralph David Abernathy.

In her mourning black, Mrs. King stepped off in a line 14 abreast to join the thousands of marchers already at the Lincoln Memorial for the Solidarity Day ceremony.

Patrick V. Murphy, Washington's public safety director, estimated that the crowd—which he termed "orderly, very orderly" —would exceed 50,000 before the end of the ceremonies.

Abernathy told today's rally that the poverty marchers will not be going home until they receive assurances that King's dream of equality becomes a reality.

'LAST CHANCE'

Whitney Young, sharing the Lincoln Memorial platform with Abernathy and Mrs. King, told the marchers this may be America's last chance to fulfill King's dream without violence. King was assinated in Memphis, Tenn., on April 4.

The weather was pleasant at the start of the march. The skies were partially overcast. The forecast called for possible showers later in the day.

The leaders of the march vowed it would be nonviolent, like the 1963 march on Washington led by King. Black activists gave King a handshake promise, before he was killed, not to interfere.

NEVER HAPPENED

Stocks Thievery Report Is Denied

The theft of $543,650 in negotiable stocks, reported to police Monday, apparently never happened, Sausalito Police Chief Edward S. Kreins said today.

Kreins said Wayne L. Glasgow, who reported the theft, has denied ever saying he had 330,000 shares of negotiable stocks in his luggage which he reported stolen from a parked car in Sausalito sometime between 3:30 p.m. Sunday and 2 a.m. Monday.

Instead, Glasgow told police yesterday that he was only carrying three shares of non-negotiable Walt Disney Productions stock which are not due to be cashed until 1993, Kreins said.

Sausalito police yesterday said that at 7 p.m. Monday, Glasgow reported the theft of two suitcases and a briefcase belonging to him and containing 300,000 shares of Mountain States Development Co. stock valued at $524,000, 3,000 shares of Walt Disney Productions stock valued at $19,650, clothing and jewelry valued at $3,765, several bank books, safe deposit keys and checks.

Glasgow told police Monday evening, Kreins said, that he had returned from a business trip Sunday afternoon and that he and Katrina La Berge, also of San Francisco, had driven to Sausalito for dinner. They parked Miss La Berge's car in front of 140 Bulkley Avenue at 3:30 p.m., leaving it locked, he told police. He then said he had gone back to San Francisco by taxi and when Miss La Berge returned to San Francisco she told him she had discovered the luggage had been stolen when she went to her car at 2 a.m. Monday.

Glasgow did not offer any explanation why he had waited from 2 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday before reporting the theft, police said yesterday.

Kreins said today the Sausalito Police Capt. James D. Wright and Detective Kevin J. Sharp "discovered a number of discrepancies" in Glasgow's original statement when they interviewed him yesterday.

ROWDIES, HIPPIES

County, State Aides Seek Park Solution

A group of law enforcement and state and county governmental officials discussed today how to save Mount Tamalpais State Park from hippies and rowdy teen-agers.

The meeting, at offices of the Marin Municipal Water District, was called to discuss details of nighttime closure of the 4,900-acre state park.

Robert B. Hatch, district superintendent of the state Division of Beaches and Parks, has said the park must be closed at night because of a serious fire danger, growing vandalism and improper camping practices.

George Holmboe, chief ranger at the park, said today that much of the park's problems could be avoided if kindly motorists would simply stop picking up hitchhiking hippies and rowdy children.

"We want to warn people not to . . . transport this element up to the state park where they can cause trouble," Holboe said.

Hatch said he hopes to have a state order closing the park from a half-hour after sunset to one hour before sunrise by July 1. Capt. Theodore Parnow of the California Highway Patrol urged that the closure go into operation by Aug. 1 at the latest.

The roads from Pan Toll Junction to the summit and from Rock Springs to the park boundary on Ridge Crest Boulevard will be closed and locked at night, Hatch said. Capt. Parnow urged that roads inside the park be signed to warn motorists that any cars parked at night will be subject to tow-away.

Hatch also suggested that the Marin County Sheriff's Posse might want to provide volunteer mounted patrolmen to police the park at night.

Representatives of Marin conservation groups and private property owners on the mountain support the nighttime closing, Hatch said.

Another Hanoi Copter Foray Into South Raises Tensions

SAIGON (UPI) — North Viet- and uncontested foray today after its troops lost their second battle in four days on a bloody hill near Khe Sanh.

The two actions heightened tensions along the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) where American Marines dug in a bit deeper and newly installed anti-aircraft guns bristled in case the Communists should decide to mount another offensive.

North Vietnamese helicopters flew over and south of the Demilitarized Zone separating the two Vietnams early today for the fourth straight night despite the fact that U.S.

VIET LAW SIGNED ON MOBILIZATION

Thieu Says Saigon Will Not Ask More Allied Troops, Postpones Trip To U.S.

HUE, Vietnam (AP)— President Nguyen Van Thieu signed the general mobilization law today and said his government will not ask for more U.S. and other allied troops.

"The Vietnamese government intends to take over more responsibility," Thieu told newsmen after ceremonies marking Armed Forces Day. "We do not intend to ask the United States and the other allies for more troops."

PAST VIEWS

In the past, Thieu has said more troops were needed above the allied contribution of 596,000 men to insure an accelerated victory.

Thieu said the general mobilization should add 125,000 men to the regular and militia forces of South Vietnam, bringing their number to almost 875,000 by the end of next year.

The law also makes 16 and 17-year-olds and men between 38 and 50 eligible for service in local self-defense units. More than 170,000 men already are members of these local forces.

U.S. officials say the United States has agreed to equip some of the men. Thieu is expected to ask for more arms for the recruits on his visit to Washington, scheduled for July.

Thieu signed the law with eight pens and then held them over his head to a cheering crowd of civilians watching the ceremony in front of the battle-scarred Citadel in this northern city.

Thieu was accompanied to Hue by Premier Tran Van Huong, the chairmen of both houses of the legislature, the U.S. military commander, Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, and other officials.

RISING TO DEFEND

The general mobilization, Thieu said in a speech, "will show to the people in Hanoi that not only Vietnamese men but old people, women and children are rising up to defend Vietnam and to defend their just cause .

"In response to the determination of the Communists, we will show our stronger determination and prove to them that we are all rising up to fight them," he declared.

"We will continue to destroy the enemy until the day that the authorities in Hanoi agree to sit down with the representatives of the government of South Vietnam. On that day the war will end, on that day we will bring peace to the people."

NATIONAL CAUSE

The president called on anti-Communist political groups in South Vietnam to strengthen themselves—whether they oppose the Saigon government or not.

"I don't ask everyone to support the government," he said, "only to support the national cause against communism. I accept protest against the government, I invite it."

At the news conference later in the day, Thieu said he had postponed his trip to the United States until at least July 20. He had been tentatively scheduled to arrive in Washington today.

Although he had been scheduled to attend the Hue ceremony, Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky did not show up. Thieu said Ky had sprained his ankle. Ky has absented himself from most government activities recently as his rival, Thieu, has been replacing the vice president's supporters in key positions.

State Senate Turns Down Budget Plan

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The contested $5.72 billion state budget was moved behind closed doors today, into the hands of Senate and Assembly conferees who must come up with a compromiee by the end of the month.

Without any debate, the Senate voted yesterday 36-1 to reject the Assembly's version of the record appropriation bill. That triggered creation of the two-house committee that will write the final budget. The deadline is the end of the fiscal year, June 30.

The Senate's chief fiscal spokesman, Chairman George Miller Jr. of the Finance Committee, made it clear he didn't like the Assembly changes.

The lower house's Democratic majority had boosted the budget $26.1 million over what the Senate wanted and made big cutbacks in University of California extension and research services to farmers.

It is $21.1 million more than Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan asked when he proposed the measure.

"I suspect it won't go any higher than the Assembly version and I suspect it will be somewhat lower," said Miller, D-Martinez.

And he predicted that the $9.4 million agricultural cutback that touched off a fight in the Assembly will be restored "whether in whole or in part." That money finances such services as aid to 4-H clubs and research that has produced everything from new pesticides to a tomato picking machine.

Violence Hits As France's Vote Nears

PARIS (UPI)—Scattered violence erupted across France today and the nation headed into the critical last four-day stretch of a two-week National Assembly election campaign.

In the eastern French city of Metz, two leftist candidates, Claude Faregeot and Ferdinand Gerard, were injured seriously when Fargeot's car was booby-trapped. The car was wrecked by an explosion when Fargeot switched on the ignition.

In Paris, three parked cars were destroyed by fire during the night. Three others were burned out in Paris the previous night. Police said the assailants were unknown.

In the big southern French city of Toulouse several shots from heavy caliber revolvers were fired through windows of three stores belonging to known Gaullist supporters.

In Paris, a commando group of unidentified youths broke into a high school, seized the telephone switchboard and damaged several classrooms. They left extremist leftist propaganda behind.

The outbreaks were disclosed as France attacked critical economic problems fostered by its weeks-long upheaval. The crisis has cost the government billions in lost production and in tourist visits.

Frenchmen vote Sunday for a new National Assembly. The balloting will decide if President Charles de Gaulle's government remains in power.

Labor unions claimed 200,000 French workers were continuing the general strike that started 34 days ago in the aftermath of student riots against the government. Renault auto workers went back yesterday as the strike front continued to crumble slowly.

There was no report of any deaths.

Pro-Rhodesia Peers' Vote Stirs Uproar

LONDON (UPI) — Angry members of the House of Commons today vowed they would abolish the House of Lords for its defiance in rejecting Britain's long-sought world trade ban against Rhodesia.

At least 70 members of the majority Labor Party joined a campaign to silence forever the peers' weak voice in British affairs, so weak the trade ban rejection will be ineffective.

That number falls far short of the votes necessary to pass such an abolition, however. Of Commons' 630 seats Labor holds 349 and parliamentary sources said the Labor leader in the lower house, Fred Peart, would block anything as drastic as dissolution of the House of Lords.

The upper house voted 193 to 184 yesterday to veto a government order—already passed in Commons—to ban all trade with Rhodesia. The former African colony declared itself independent of Britain three years ago in a dispute over government plans to give Rhodesia's black majority full voting rights.

The order goes back to the House of Commons where it received a strong 319-246 endorsement Monday. Conservative Party leaders in the upper house have indicated they will not try again to defeat it.

The Lords' session Tuesday brought out dozens of "backwoods" members who rarely show up for sessions. The chamber was so crowded some members had to sit on the floor.

NEW HAZARDS

Drugs Held No Cure Of Smoking

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAN FRANCISCO — New evidence that smoking is harmful to both women and men was given to the American Medical Association by several investigators today—along with a report that drugs now in use to deter smoking don't help.

Dr. Charles Schuster Jr., University of Michigan pharmacologist, told the AMA's annual convention that lobeline sulfate, widely used in smoking clinics, had no effect on the number of cigarettes smoked by test subjects.

INCREASES SMOKING

He said subjects who were given damphetamine, an appetite depressant, increased their smoking by 20 to 25 per cent.

Meprobamate, a tranquilizer given to overcome tensions built up when people quit smoking, "had no effect whatsoever on smoking behavior," he said.

The only thing that helped, he added, was injection of nicotine equivalent to that which goes into the blood stream from smoking two cigarettes.

HITS DEFENSES

Dr. Gareth M. Green of Boston said cigarette smoke hurts one of the body's natural defenses against inhaled foreign particles. This defense is made up of tiny macrophages which rest on lung membrane and eat germs, viruses and irritants in smoke and smog.

Dr. Colin R. Woolf of the University of Toronto challenged what he said was a general impression that smoking might be less injurious to women than to men.

Dr. Woolf said the use of cigarettes by women has risen sharply since World War II and there has been a progressive increase in the prevalance of coughing, wheezing, chest colds and lung disorders in women.

In another development, policy-makers pointed the 311,000-member association toward a possible tougher stand against medical societies' barring doctors because of race.

The AMA's Massachusetts delegation yesterday pushed through the 242-member House of Delegates a move to consider changing by-laws so state medical associations could be ousted by the AMA for repeatedly barring members on the basis of race.

The house, by voice vote, asked the AMA Council on Constitution and Bylaws to prepare amendments for the Dec. 1-4 AMA sessions in Miami, Fla.

In other official business yesterday, Dr. Dwight L. Wilbur, chief of medical services at San Francisco's French Hospital, was installed as the new AMA president. He succeeded Dr. Milford O. Rouse, a Dallas, Tex., internist.

In a convention sidelight, about 500 of the delegates are expected today to find out for the first time they may have heart disease.

They will take advantage of a computerized physical examination.

The "Preventicare" checkup, connected to a U.S. Public Health Service computer in Washington, flashes a complete evaluation of an electrocardiogram back to the doctor before he can button his shirt.

Senators May Shift, Speed LBJ's Gun Law

WASHINGTON (UPI) —President Johnson's bill to ban all mail order sales of guns is expected to be given overwhelming approval tomorrow by the Senate Judiciary Committee, sending it to the floor for a vote.

The committee, which rejected a similar proposal only hours before the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King in April, is said to have had a dramatic change of heart and a large majority now favors the legislation. (See related gun control stories pages 1 and 19.)

The assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, renewed demands by President Johnson, and an almost unprecedented mail outpouring appeared to account for a switch of at least five votes since the 10-6 defeat of the measure in April.

If the committee approves the bill it could reach the Senate floor before the July 4 recess. Supporters feel they have the votes to win there. The Senate on a 53 to 29 vote refused to include rifles and shotguns along with a ban on the mail order sales of handguns in the omnibus anticrime package.

The crime measure, given final approval by the House just after Kennedy's death, was to go into effect at midnight tonight if President Johnson failed either to sign or veto it.

The administration bill would in some respects duplicate the gun section of the anticrime bill. It would ban the mailorder sales of all weapons; prohibit interstate shipments of ammunition; limit over-the-counter sales of firearms to state residents; set 21 as the minimum age for the purchase of handguns, 18 for rifles and shotguns; require dealers to keep record of sales; outlaw the sale of weapons such as machine guns, bazookas, mortars and antitank guns.

Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., said he would suggest eliminating controls on ammunition. He said ammunition is now under some federal controls, but they have been impossible to enforce.

Rhodesians Expel Wire Service Aide

Prime Minister Ian Smith's regime refused to give any reason for declaring Royle a prohibited immigrant. He had been based in Salisbury since April 10.

ed in the course of their normal duties. Also exempt are gun dealers, already required to register their store weapons with the state.

However, the law applies to visitors in the unincorporated area more than seven days, as well as residents.

Undersheriff Sidney Stinson was unable yesterday to estimate the number of firearms in the unincorporated area.

The gun registration law embraces only one-third of Marin County's population of 201,000.

Unless Marin's 11 cities conform, the measure that will become effective Aug. 2 requires only persons in the unincorporated area to register all firearms.

The Fairfax and Sausalito city councils were the first to react to the supervisors' decision. Fairfax Mayor Robert R. Souza asked the council at a meeting last night to adopt a similar ordinance and set discussion for July 8. Sausalito Councilman Alexander R. Imlay said such an ordinance would be introduced next month.

The supervisors passed the gun registration measure, 4-1. Dissenting, Supervisor John F. McInnis said he favored gun control but preferred state legislation.

Passage followed preliminary approval Monday night of a similar ordinance by the San Francisco Board of Supervisors. The San Francisco measure is scheduled for final approval July 1.

McInnis told an audience of about 50 persons that if all California counties were to join San Francisco and Marin it would "generate only chaos."

To colleagues' arguments that widespread gun controls on the local level would force the state into action, McInnis said:

"I see this only as the weakest road in that direction."

Supervisor William A. Gnoss retorted that, in any event, some form of control was needed while the Legislature decided whether to act on the bills before it.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr hoped the actions of Marin and San Francisco would "put pressure on the legislators in Sacramento to do what should have happened long ago."

He recognized that state adoption of a broad gun registration measure would pre-empt local ordinances.

Strong audience support for passage of gun controls in Marin came from representatives of the Students for Kennedy group, some of them still wearing their blue and white Kennedy campaign buttons.

One, Alfred Kerr, 15, of Terra Linda, pleaded for more punch in Marin's maeasure. He asked that all visitors, regardless of their length of stay, be required to register their firearms and sought annual re-registration of weapons.

Mrs. Winifred Frederick of Lagunitas expressed stiff opposition to gun registration, warning the supervisors against acting because of a "great emotional feeling."

She doubted whether the majority of Marin County residents favored gun controls and proposed a November referendum on the ordinance.

Mrs. Frederick said she deplored violence and warned it would continue unless its causes were identified and eliminated. Gun controls will not help solve the problem, she added.

A physician who identified himself as a gun collector noted that "restrictions are meaningless without stepping up penalties for the illegal use of firearms."

GUNS

The sheriff's policy has been to accept guns at any time, but "any gun coming to our attention which has been used in the commission of a crime will be thoroughly investigated by members of the inspectors bureau."

The sheriff's office, in fact, takes the name of every person surrendering a gun and gives him a receipt.

Of all county police agencies, only the police departments of Sausalito and Belvedere have said they prefer not to accept weapons from citizens wishing them destroyed.

Chiefs William S. Woodington of Belvedere and Edward Kreins of Sausalito said they prefer to concentrate on registering, rather than destroying, guns.

Kreins said he would probably accept a gun for destruction if someone insisted. His reluctance was prompted by groups who wanted police to oversee a large gun burning demonstration, he said.

Acting Police Chief Joseph Brusatori of San Rafael said he will accept guns from anyone, even those not wishing to identify themselves. The serial numbers of all guns not registered will be checked with state and federal agencies, he said.

All other chiefs in the county said they follow the same policy. Most said they do not expect to find any wanted weapons being surrendered at their departments.

"The crooked guy isn't going to bring in a gun," said Chief Frank Nelson of Corte Madera. "It will be the people who just don't want them in their homes anymore. Really, we don't care who turns in the gun, as long as we get the weapon out of circulation."

WAR

Marines had added antiaircraft guns at Khe Sanh and three other allied bastions just south of the DMZ.

But when the Communist helicopters showed up anew, the American guns were silent, according to a report from the front.

What the North Vietnamese helicopters were up to remained unclear. Equally mysterious was the refusal of the U.S. military headquarters in Saigon to say they even existed.

A military spokesman in Saigon said today that "we have received more reports of helicopter sightings last night." But he added, "I am not lending any credence to the reports at this time."

(However, according to the Associated Press, Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, U.S. military commander in Vietnam, and Gen. Cao Van Vien, chief of South Vietnam's joint general staff, had flown into the area to check on the copter sightings.)

In Tokyo today Gen. William C. Westmoreland, former U.S. commander in Vietnam and newly named U.S. Army chief of staff, said that use of helicopters by the North Vietnamese forces is "a new tactic which will make the enemy far more vulnerable."

Westmoreland said, however, that the move did not necessarily mean an escalation of the war by Hanoi.

Before the new helicopter sightings were reported, U.S. Marines anchored themselves on a ridgetop fortress nine miles south of their Khe Sanh base, and hurled back a new North Vietnamese attempt to take it.

When the fighting was over, at least 131 Communists lay dead, U.S. military spokesmen said. The battle technique was almost identical to that used by the Communists when they tried to overrun the same hill last Saturday, and lost 196 men in the process.

U.S. Seeks Secret Viet Peace Talks

PARIS (UPI)—The United States assured North Vietnam today it wants no permanent military bases in South Vietnam and called for secret talks that could lead to another 1954 Geneva Conference.

Hanoi rejected the plea and countered with stiff new demands to get the American out of the country.

The only tractability shown by the North Vietnamese at today's ninth session of the Paris Vietnam talks was a statement by a member of the Hanoi delegation that chief negotiator Xuan Thuy would be willing to receive U.S. presidential candidate Sen. Eugene McCarthy if he comes to Paris in July.

U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman asked today that the current talks be conducted in secret with an end to propaganda statements by both sides at end of the sessions. Instead, Thuy issued another propaganda statement accusing Harriman of failing to show good will.

At the session, Thuy met Harriman's call for a military pullback by both sides with a three-point program he said must be complied with before any peace talks can begin.

The three points, which showed no softening of Hanoi's hard line, demanded:

Immediate end of all acts of war including air and sea attacks and artillery shelling from the Demilitarized Zone.

And no demands from Washington for reciprocal acts of "restraint" by Hanoi.

Following today's session, it was reported Harriman will fly to the U.S. probably on Friday to attend a family weekend and for consultations in Washington.

Two Nabbed In Burglary Probe

Two men, who were sighted by Corte Madera police with a cigarette machine in the back of their car, were arrested yesterday on suspicion of burglary.

Raymond McFarland, 25, of 22 Tamalpais Avenue, San Anselmo, and John Polman, 22, of 1552 Point San Pedro Road, San Rafael, told police they had permission to take the machine. It had been reported missing Friday from the Doug Dicker automobile agency at 195 Casa Buena Drive, Corte Madera, police said.

When police found that the men did not have permission and that attempts had been made to pry open two other coin machines, the two were arrested. They were freed on $625 bail each and were to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 2 p.m. today.

Pacific Fleet Plans Eight-Day Bay Visit

OBITUARIES

Elizabeth Day, 87, Succumbs

Mrs. Elizabeth (Bessie) Day of 29 Matilda Avenue, Mill Valley, died yesterday after a short illness at a local convalescent hospital. She was 87.

Mrs. Day had been taken to Marin General Hospital on March 29 after she fell outside her home and broke her hip. She was subsequently transferred to the convalescent hospital where, yesterday morning, she collapsed in her wheelchair and died, according to a report by the Marin County coroner's office. An autopsy report is pending.

A native of Canada, Mrs. Day had been a resident of California and Marin County for 17 years. She was married to Capt. William P. Day, a merchant marine captain with the South East Orient lines. Captain Day died in 1962.

She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Marjorie E. Thiede of Mill Valley; a sister, Kathleen Oliver of Mill Valley; and three grandchildren.

Private family services will be held tomorrow at the memorial chapel of Russell and Gooch, Mill Valley. Friends may call at the chapel after 6 p.m. today.

Polite Thief Attempts To Calm Victim

A 21-year-old San Rafael woman yesterday was taken on a tour of her home by a burglar who wished to calm her fears by proving he had no cohorts, and who then had her sit on a bed while he made his exit through the front door.

That was not how he got in, San Rafael police said after Genetha Day called them to her home at 120 Coleman Drive to report the incident shortly before noon.

They found that a bathroom window had been forced open. Because it is seven feet above the ground, police theorized that the burglar, a Negro about 25 years old, had help in making his entry. The only items missing were a half dozen silver dollars.

Miss Day said that she surprised the man when she opened the front door. She asked what he was doing there and he replied that he thought it was the home of a friend of his.

She started to back out the door, but he grabbed her wrist and pulled her inside, causing her to fall. They then made their tour of the house. Miss Day said the man was polite and apologized several times for the incident.

McCARTHY

and delegates pledged to Kennedy in 30.

While the Minnesota senator's feat impressed political observers, O'Dwyer's triumph was even more startling. He was expected to finish last in a three-way race but, running as a McCarthy adherent, managed to edge out the favored Nickerson.

With unofficial returns from 12,341 of the state's 13,408 districts counted, O'Dwyer had 264,808 votes, Nickerson 248,450 and Resnick 214,703.

On the Republican side, supporters of Richard M. Nixon put up challengers for only 11 of the 82 delegate slots. The remaining 71 went automatically to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

WAYNE A. BAGUIO

Requiem Mass for Air Force Sgt. Wayne A. Baguio will be offered at 10 a.m. Friday at St. Rita's Church, Fairfax.

MRS. EMELIA RISCHMULLER

Mrs. Emelia M. Rischmuller of Alameda, mother of George P. Rischmuller of Greenbrae, died yesterday in an Alameda rest home after a short illness.

Mrs. Rischmuller, 88, was the widow of George W. Rischmuller, a retired farmer.

Hub School Bonding Future Held Hopeless

"The future of bond issues . . . appears hopeless for this district," Richard Kreuzer, chairman of the citizens committee which backed the unsuccessful $510,000 bond issue in the June 4, election, told the San Anselmo School District board last night.

Kreuzer said the district contains a large number of voters who do not have school children and that, in view of rising of property taxes, these people constitute a "large group of 'no' votes in each election."

Kreuzer suggested property tax relief in addition to the possibility of unification with districts which have an industrial tax base as solutions to San Anselmo's problems.

The school board again discussed the suggested 1968-69 budget of $1,825,350 but took no action on the recommendation of Supt. Stephen L. Parodi, who said that until the district knows what state financing is going to be available the budget should not be adopted.

He told the board members that if Senate Bill 95 passes, the district will have a choice of losing money on double session kindergartens now being run in the district or changing to single session 200-minute kindergarten programs. This would bring a bonus from the state, he explained but would require more classrooms and teachers.

The San Anselmo School District board last night also:

COLLEGE — Signed a contract with the College of Marin for students to work in district schools in clerical and assistant capacities.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted resignations from Wildraene Cole, Sleepy Hollow school teacher; Marian Merritt, Wade Thomas school teacher; Jacques Delourme, Marti Moran and Neil Peck, all Red Hill school teachers, and Yvonne Hickey, parttime district music teacher.

Pike's Not Highest

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Pikes Peak is probably the best-known Colorado mountain to tourists, but there are 29 other Colorado peaks that top Pike's altitude of 14,110 feet.

Thelma Mae Calderoni, 49, of 40 Warner Court, San Rafael, was fined $230 and placed on a year's probation. San Anselmo police arrested her April 14 on Scenic Avenue.

ANCIENT ARKS GIVE WAY TO PROGRESS

Senate Advances Bolinas Lagoon Extension Bill

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill to extend to 1971 Bolinas Harbor District's deadline to improve the lagoon yesterday passed its second legislative test — despite strong opposition by the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

The Senate Finance Committee, in a unanimous voice vote, sent the bill to the Senate floor with a "do pass" recommendation, in this case tantamount to Senate approval. It previously passed the governmental efficiency committee.

The bill (SB 1012) was introduced by Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, at the request of the harbor district's board of directors. McCarthy declined to drop the bill, saying it is up to the district board and the supervisors to resolve their differences.

The bill probably will reach the Assembly early next week.

Wheelbarrow Burglars Take $800-Plus Loot

Eight burglaries, including the theft of a $550 television set from a Tamalpais Valley home were reported today by sheriff's officers.

Ruby M. Cullinan, 202 Cardinal Road, told deputies Monday that the set, a $250 phonograph, four men's wristwatches, over $100 in cash in a bag, and four phonograph record albums were taken.

She said the burglars, who entered by breaking a rear door window, apparently wheeled the loot from the house to a fence in her wheelbarrow, then loaded it into a vehicle.

The money and album were dropped during the loading and recovered by the victim, officers said.

Bertrand Talbot, owner of Talbot of Tiburon Travel Service, 609 Strawberry Town and Country Village, reported Monday that intruders forced the building's front door, then entered and pried open a small safe.

He said $25 in petty cash and an undisclosed amount of traveler's checks were taken. A tool used to force the safe was left at the scene, deputies said.

Jean E. Adams, Callender Way, Inverness, told officers Friday she discovered that someone forced the front door of a home of her father-in-law, Benson Eschenbach, one mile north of the Marshall boatel.

Taken were a vacuum cleaner, a bottle of liquor, kitchen utensils, a television set and speaker, and towels.

Burglars apparently entered an unlocked rear door of the home of Warren P. Betts, 742 Marin Drive, Tamalpais Valley, taking a high caliber rifle with telescopic sight, a box of shells, and about $20 cash. Betts reported the loss Sunday.

Walter R. Shoaff Jr., 153 Carson Road, Woodacre, told deputies Sunday someone forced a bedroom door off his sundeck. Stolen were six boxes of ammunition, a small quantity of jewelry, and $4 cash.

A small amount of horse riding gear was taken from an unlocked stable on Ivy Lane in Woodacre, Nancy Regan of 205 Butterfield Road, San Anselmo, reported Sunday.

Jim Mack Johnson, 18 Evergreen Avenue, Mill Valley, said Saturday that someone broke a window of his car parked at 65 California Avenue, Homestead Valley, making off with an auto stereophonic set worth $100. He said the burglars also unsuccessfully placed an ignited rolled newspaper in the car's gasoline tank pipe in an apparent attempt to burn the vehicle.

Burglars forced a window of the car of Gary Nelson, 9 Brookside Drive, San Anselmo, stealing a purse containing $2 and papers. Nelson told deputies Sunday the car was parked near McClure's Beach.

Machine Rifled At Auto Wash

The Robo Car Wash at 20 Bellam Boulevard has been hit for the second time in five days by a thief or thieves. Both incidents involved vending machines.

Yesterday Conrad O. Mannes, manager of the establishment, reported to San Rafael police that two of the machines there had been pried open. An unknown amount of coins was taken.

Friday a money bag containing the day's receipts, between $250 and $300, was taken from Mannes' car as he helped a man extract a soft dring from a stubborn machine.

Boys Suspected In Glass Damage

San Rafael police said today that two boys, aged 3 and 6, are suspected of having broken a sliding glass door and several windows at two San Rafael construction sites with rocks and a BB gun.

The door, valued at $60, was broken at 15 Canyon Road, while the windows were broken at 47 Upper Oak Terrace. Damage there was also $60. Police warned neighbors that firing a BB gun inside city limits violates an ordinance.

YOUNGEST COMET SPOTTER

Mark Whitaker, a 16-year-old Bishop, Tex., high school junior, is the youngest person ever to be credited with discovering a comet. Confirmation of the discovery was made yesterday by the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory. It is named the Whitaker-Thomas comet in honor of the teen-ager and Norman G. Thomas, a professional astronomer in Arizona, who confirmed Mark's June 14 finding. The discovery was made with his four-inch telescope while tracing the asteroid Icarus. (AP Wirephoto)

Bridge's Elusive Monkey Now Eying Army Career?

The monkey seen skittering about the lofty superstructure of the Golden Gate Bridge is apparently loose in San Francisco's Presidio.

Bridge officials said they received a telephone call from a woman who said her son had seen a monkey on the grounds of the Army base yesterday.

"I guess he took a hike," said Edward R. Moore, bridge captain.

Bridge officials discovered that that the monkey had apparently found a home amid the supports of the span after he reportedly snatched a workman's orange Friday. Efforts to catch him have failed.

San Francisco Gunmen Kill One Policeman

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A policeman was killed and his partner wounded early today in a gun battle with two robbery suspects in Golden Gate Park.

The gunmen, both wounded, were later tracked down in the park by police units equipped with dogs.

Slain in the shooting was Peter McElligott, 25, who had been on the force two years. His partner, Frank C. Reed, 24, was wounded in the hand and chest.

The shooting occurred when the two officers stopped a car resembling one used in a service station holdup a few minutes earlier. The suspects opened fire as the officers approached them, then tried to flee in their automobile. The car smashed into a nearby tree, and the gunmen fled on foot.

The suspects were identified as Edgar Allen, 19, and Donald Ray Caldwell, 20, both of San Francisco. They were taken to Mission Emergency Hospital for treatment.

While the search for the gunmen was going on, an unidentified person fired at least seven shots from a military rifle into the Taraval Police Station, narrowly missing one policeman. Most of the Taraval personnel were taking part in the search at the time.

Police said the shots were apparently fired from an M1 rifle from a vantage point across the street from the station.

New Marin City Home, Office Hit By Arson

Arsonists last night struck two buildings in Marn Marin City, causing about $4,000 damage to one, Marin County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom reported.

The first, and most seriously damaged, was an unfurnished three-bedroom home at 62 Buckelew Street, built recently by Oak Knolls of Marin. Two neighbors telephoned firemen at 10:07 p.m. to report the home was ablaze.

The fire was brought under control in 16 minutes by two units from the Marin City station, Bloom said, but it must have been burning almost 25 minutes before it was reported, he added.

A flammable liquid, probably gasoline, had been thrown over the floor and walls of the kitchen, and the house "reeked" of the liquid, said Bloom. A rear door had been forced open.

The other fire was at Oak Knolls' office at 899 Drake Avenue, and was reported at 10:22 p.m. when neighbors saw two persons leaving a rear door of the office. Firemen found the offices had been ransacked, furniture had been overthrown, and several fires had been set in papers thrown around the office.

Damage was minor , Bloom said.

No sign of forced entry was found, but firemen found a key to the office on the floor near the door.

Ray's Attorney Doesn't Plan To Fight Extradition

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The attorney who tentatively has agreed to defend James Earl Ray says he does not plan to return the accused assassin of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. to this country from England.

Arthur J. Hanes, a former FBI agent and former mayor of Birmingham, Ala., made the comment here late yesterday as he boarded an airplane for Washington, D.C., to check on passport arrangements for his upcoming trip to England.

He was accompanied by his son, 26-year-old Arthur J. Hanes Jr., who also is an attorney.

In an interview with Radio Station WSB, the elder Hanes was asked specifically if he intended to fight U.S. demands that Ray be returned to this country for trial in the King slaying.

"I'm not going over there for that purpose," Hanes said. "I do not expect to engage in those legal maneuverings."

He was asked, too, if he planned to request a chance of venue once Ray is returned to Memphis, Tenn., for trial.

"No sir, I will not," Hanes said. "I feel that the people of Memphis and the people of Tennessee are fair-minded and just— like most Americans. I feel that once they are presented the evidence and the testimony, coupled with the law the judge will charge them with, they will give a fair and just verdict."

Hanes said he had no personal knowledge of the prisoner.

Committee Cuts Foreign Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The House Foreign Affairs Committee today sliced nearly $600 million from the lowest foreign aid request in the 21-year history of the program.

It approved a total of $2,364,225,000 for world-wide economic and military assistance programs. The President had asked approximately $2.9 billion. The current year spending level is slightly more than $2.2 billion.

The committee passed the reduced bill 24 to 9, but Republicans pledged to continue their fight for an additional $400 million cut when the bill reaches the floor.

DOMINICAN SYMPOSIUM

'The System' Blamed For Youth Troubles

By JIM BREWER

The problem with the "turned-on" generation may be the "tuned-out" educators, the director of the Marin County Human Rights Commission charged yesterday.

Addressing more than 250 Bay Area teachers and educators at the Dominican College symposium, "Youth: Growing Up Absurd?" Director Austin J. Thompson said the problems of today's youth may be linked to "the system" and not the children.

Thompson's remarks opened the second day of the week-long program and a two-part morning lecture titled, "Is it 'The System' that Stifles the Young?"

"Any kind of denial by the system, whether it be the stifling of the child who is too bright and often bored, or the stifling of a child because his culture is ignored, results in depriving both the child and society," Thompson said.

Thompson pointed to four areas where he said the educational system has fallen down: "It has historically failed to prepare the child for a changing society; it has perpetuated myths such as special classes or ability groupings; it has ethnocentrized the different cultures; and the system in general, and teachers in particular, have made a mockery of professionalism."

Turning to classroom environment, Thompson said, "excessive grouping, which leads to large concentrations of labeled youngsters, such as Negroes who have been labled 'low ability,' serves to reinforce feelings of anxiety and decreases motivation.

"When gifted learners are denied contact with other youngsters, they are also denied moral depth and reality experiences which are tools of awareness. They are thrown into intense and rather unproductive competition with other 'gifted ones'," he said.

"You are a witness to what happens when college students are confronted with a world which they have been denied access to," Thompson told the group.

The Negro educator drew resounding applause when he lashed out at contemporary educational philosophy saying, "Education must become more than a bulletin board-oriented profession." He also received scattered applause when he said, "Grades are totally meaningless."

"If the young can learn physical science, they certainly can learn social science," he continued. "We must have courses which examine cultures and cultural change."

Thompson called upon the group to "stop professional bickering" and "rise to defend" those who are trying to institute educational innovation.

"The very child who has often been considered the classroom menace may well become the savior of the system,'' Thompson concluded before another long round of applause.

Marilyn O'Rourk, an elementary school teacher who spent last year working in the Negro district of East Palo Alto, continued the lecture saying the problem is not as much the system's as it is the people in it.

The antipoverty worker emphasized that "if the people within the system adapt to change, the system will change. I am a product of middle class schools," she said. "I too am culturally deprived. Teachers must be educated into the cultures of their students."

Mrs. O'Rourk said that the elementary school system is a system of "do's and don'ts." And high school, she added, is a system where the student must know all the "do's and don'ts' to operate.

"If he can't cut it," she continued, "he's a dropout. And if he gets through, he's a "pushout" and not qualified to work."

She called for "sweeping revisions" in the educational system. "We must practice what we preach," she declared, "teach the child and not the subject."

In conclusion, she said there is an urgent need for a lower student-teacher ratio. "There's no reason why teacher aides can't be trained to take some of the burden," she said.

Today's program will include a presentation by musician Lou Gottlieb on "The Alternate Society," and a panel discussion on the hippie drop-outs.

Brandt Visits East Berlin To Cut Travel Red Tape

BERLIN (UPI)—Foreign Minister Willy Brandt said today he warned the Russians that East Germany has provoked a new Berlin crisis in order to block agreements to end East-West tension.

Brandt journeyed across the Berlin Wall yesterday to visit Soviet Ambassador Pyotr Abrassimov and came back to West Berlin early today. His nine-hour visit was aimed at taking Communist pressure off the isolated city.

Grim-faced East German border guards, usually quick to pour machine gun bullets into fast moving cars, waved Brandt's limousine past an East-West checkpoint without stopping when it returned him to West Berlin in the hours before dawn.

In Bonn, diplomatic sources said West German leaders were urging the United States, France and Britain to retaliate against East Germany with travel barriers of their own.

Since East Germany is not recognized as a sovereign state by non-Communist nations all East Germans seeking permission to travel outside the Communist bloc must go to an Allied travel board.

In the past, the board has met East German harassment by denying them travel documents.

The new Communist measures involve travel fees and lengthy paperwork to be performed by West Germans seeking to make the 110-mile trip from West Germany to West Berlin, a city island in the middle of East Germany.

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (UPI) – Surgeons said Monday a man who was partially blind regained his full sight after they transplanted part of a baboon's eye into his own.

Dog Is Sought In Biting Case

An elderly Greenbrae woman may have to udergo the painful and dangerous Pasteur anti-rabies treatment if a black French poodle that bit her Sunday is not located, Larkspur police reported yesterday.

They appealed to the public to help locate the dog that inflicted a deep puncture wound in the leg of Mrs. Sara M. Fletcher of 5 Corte Encanto. The attack occurred at about 8 p.m. Sunday as she was walking in front of Petrini's Market in the Bon Air Shopping Center.

The dog was last seen running behind the Bon Aire Apartments on the 500 block of South Eliseo Drive. It had been playing with another dog.

Hub Council Compares Differing Public Works Project Budgets

Improvement of a short stretch of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and the Red Hill Avenue-Sequoia Drive intersection were the only major street projects recommended to the San Anselmo City Council by Administrator-Controller A. C. Kaeppel in a budget study session last night.

Charles R. Leitzell, public works director, wanted to improve Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from Bella Vista Drive to the Fairfax city limits, at a cost of $50,000, and do the intersection work.

TAX IMPACT

Kaeppel differed with Leitzell on several proposals, claiming they would add 8 cents to the tax rate. The council, attempting to stick to the present rate of $2.06 per $100 assessed valuation, was noncommittal, but it is expected the administrator's recommendations will be accepted.

The total proposed budget is $1,124,652, up from last year's $1,008,237.

The council is expected to decide on all proposals at a final budget meeting at 7:45 p.m. tomorrow in the city hall. However, Mayor Duane C. Ragan said last night it could require two sessions before the budget is adopted.

PROPOSALS DIFFER

Leitzell's total requests for major street improvements was $165,750. Kaeppel recommended $38,000, well under last year's $304,240.

Improving and widening Drake from Bella Vista Avenue to Sais Avenue, in front of the Red Hill Shopping Center, was listed at $6,000 in the proposed budget.

Leitzell's request for street maintenance, which included 16 residential streets, was $151,088. Kaeppel, who included two of the residential projects, recommended $91,704, $6,000 more than last year.

Kaeppel told the council he recommended the two streets which Leitzell designated top priority: Repair Hilldale Drive and patch and chip seal San Anselmo Avenue, at a total cost of $2,880.

Councilman James F. Reed recalled, "The major recommendation from last year's town meeting was for an active street improvement program."

Leitzell also requested a $600 street tree survey; $1,900 for a part-time summer street employee, and $1,000 for street striping under contract with the county. Kaeppel included these items in his recommendations.

In the storm drains fund, Leitzell asked $17,700, but Kaeppel pared it to $11,100 by omitting two proposed improvements. Neither was a top priority item.

Under street lighting, Kaeppel and Leitzell generally agreed, and the total recommendation was $24,300. No major changes were asked.

Leitzell's traffic signal request was $19,600 and included replacement of worn controllers on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. Kaeppel cut the item and came up with a recommendation of $2,500.

Building Inspector Robert Golcher requested only one new item for his department, a two-way radio for his vehicle. He told the council he was working on inspections of "homes of vagrants" and he might need help.

Kaeppel included the item in his recommendation of $14,746 for the department.

Budgets for street sweeping and the municipal shop remained about the same as last year with recommendations of $14,559 and $13,449 respectively.

The engineering and administrative budget also remained about the same, with a recommendation of $30,826.

The council also studied in detail the planning department budget, up about $9,000 from last year.

Kaeppel recommended $12,345 with the major increase for the city's share to update the master plan.

Also included in the planning budget is $600 for printing and distributing revised copies of the city's zoning and subdivision codes.

The budget for the design review committee remained about the same with a recommendation of $150.

Mayor Ragan said the major problem now facing the council is where to get funds to pay $26,029 in back taxes and insurance on the Robson-Harrington Park.

He said the council has three choices: A one-time additional 10-cent tax levy; spread it over five years with an extra 2 cents per year; or eliminate some other expenditure from the budget.

He urged residents of San Anselmo to let the council know what they prefer, either by calling the council members or coming to the meeting tomorrow night.

Indecent Exposure Case Is Reported

An 8-year-old Novato girl was the victim of indecent exposure at 8 p.m. Sunday night in the playground of Lynwood School, police reported yesterday.

The man who exposed himself to the girl was driving a black car. He was between 20 and 30 years of age and had black hair, according to the description given to the police by the giri.

U.S. Marshals Carry Away Balky Draft Card Burner

NEW YORK (UPI) — David Miller, the first man to be indicted, tried and convicted for burning his draft card, was picked up and carried away from a group of sympathizers by four deputy marshals in front of Manhattan Federal Court today and taken off to begin serving a two-and-one-half-year jail term.

Miller, who destroyed his draft card three years ago, tried and failed to reduce his sentence in legal moves before the U.S. Court of Appeals and the Supreme Court.

A bench warrant had been issued for his arrest when he failed to surrender at 10 a.m. today to begin serving his sentence. He joined a demonstration on his behalf after stating he did not intend to cooperate with the order.

"I will have to be carried away rather than walk under my own power," he said.

Miller claimed that the destruction of his draft card, as well as his refusal to surrender, were both "a symbolic act of conscience."

In a prepared statement, he had said he would be outside the federal court at the demonstration, where he was taken into custody by the marshals.

A SURPRISE VISITOR

The sub, USS Grenadier, had a surprise visitor last Sunday when it surfaced some 210 miles southeast of Miami. The visitor was Hugo Vihlen, who is nearing an end of a 4,700-mile solitary voyage across the Atlantic from his home on the west coast of Africa to Homestead, Fla. (U.S. Navy photo via AP Wirephoto)

Father, Son Take Oaths In Air Force

Like father, like son, applied to the oath of enlistment given to two men Monday at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Sworn in together were T/Sgt. Richard N. Stone and his son, James, both of 93 Langley Lane, Hamilton Air Force Base.

Sergeant Stone will complete 20 years of service with this enlistment. This is the first enlistment for his son. Both will serve four years.

Sergeant Stone, who is assigned to the Western Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Center at Hamilton, left immediately for Eglin Air Force Base, Fla. to attend an H3E Helicopter school and advanced medical course for pararescuemen.

Advisers Oppose Rooftop Signs Along Highway

Rooftop signs should not be allowed on frontage roads, the Mill Valley Architectural Advisory Committee agreed last night.

The committee suggested that rooftop signs, now existing along the Highway 101 frontage road recently annexed to the city, be given a long amortization period but that no new rooftop signs be allowed, secretary Jeanne McLean, reported.

A proposal by the city to allow rooftop signs on the frontage road recently came under fire from the county planning commission.

The committee also declared itself against tote signs, those signs which have removable letters and are often used to advertise grocery, liquor or automobile sales, Mrs. McLean said.

The committee's comments, which came during a workshop review of the city's sign ordinance, will be presented to the planning commission Monday during a public hearing on proposed revisions to the sign ordinance.

Hospital Board Orders Church Land Report

The Marin Hospital District board last night voted to have a new appraisal made of the property along Bon Air Road which the district hopes to buy from the Catholic Archdiocese of San Francsico.

The board's attorney, Harold F. Riede recommended the new appraisals because the hospital and the archdiocese disagree on the value of the land.

An earlier appraisal by the hospital district had set the value at $91,800. The hospital plans to use the land for additional parking after realigning Bon Air Road.

The hospital board's negotiating committee withheld the archdiocese's valuation and Archbishop Joseph T. McGucken, who is handling the matter, was out of town today.

David F. Benson of San Rafael was hired to make the appraisal and the board agreed to pay him $125 a day. Riede said he did not think the total cost would be more than $1,000.

In other action last night the board discussed interim solutions for space that will be needed by various departments before master plan expansions can be undertaken. No action was taken, but the board was informed that the X-ray, pharmacy and laboratory departments will soon outgrow their present facilities.

The board also awarded a contract to Sylvania Corp. for patient television. The charge will be $1.75 a day to patients, with 40 per cent of the fees being turned over to hospital volunteers as a commission.

A bid for furnishings for the new community mental health center which had been approved by the Marin County Board of Supervisors was also approved by the hospital board, with one change in laundry equipment. The total was $86,613 after the revision.

Three Marinites Earn Diplomas

Joanne C. Olson of Corte Madera graduated cum laude from the California Lutheran College in Thousand Oaks, Ventura County, Calif.

Jerome J. Kirkpatrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Kirkpatrick of 54 Serra Way, San Rafael, graduated cum laude with distinction in history from Darthmouth College in Hanover, N. H.

Alice Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick S. Allen of 131 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Ross, graduated from Pine Manor Junior College in Chestnut Hill, Mass.

Private, Church Schools Get Aid

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Gov. Raymond P. Shafer signed a bill today providing $4.3 million in aid to private and parochial schools in Pennsylvania this year.

The American Civil Liberties Union has said it would go to court to block the law.

"Our aim is not to aid a particular religion or belief, but to educate a child to be a good and decent citizen with the knowledge and ability to live a productive and full life," said Shafer as he signed the bill. The Pennsylvania House gave final legislative approval Monday.

Sanitary District To Hire Students

Directors of Richardson Bay Sanitary District last night authorized plant Superintendent Max Graefe to hire three students as temporary workers this summer.

The youths will do maintenance work on equipment and landscaping at the plant and its pumping stations, as needed, at an hourly rate of $1.75, according to Douglas de La Fontaine, secretary.

The board asked engineer J. Warren Nute to bring cost estimates and a more detailed plan for expanding the landscaping at the Trestle Glen plant, to the July 16 meeting, de La Fontaine reported.

San Francisco Transit Fare Increase Sought

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Municipal Railway Manager John N. Woods asked the Public Utilities Commission yesterday to raise fares from 15 cents to 20.

That would produce an estimated $5.6 million additional revenue to meet rising costs, Woods said.

McCarthy Camp Says LBJ Ruling Convention Leadership Selections

REP. CARL ALBERT
To chair convention

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

President Johnson was the center of a dispute in Democratic ranks today with Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's camp accusing him of packing the national convention staff with key backers of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and the Administration. (See New York primary story, page 1.)

The issue arose late yesterday minutes after party leaders announced the selection of Sen. Daniel K. Inouye of Hawaii to keynote the late August convention, House Democratic Leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma to chair it, and House Democratic whip Hale Boggs of Louisiana to head the platform committee.

The choices, McCarthy aide Stephen A. Mitchell said, mean "it's obvious that President Johnson is back in the saddle and leads the national committee like a mule under halter."

Inouye and Boggs were early supporters of Humphrey for president, and Mitchell noted that Boggs and Albert see Johnson every Tuesday when Democratic congressional leaders breakfast with him at the White House.

The McCarthy aide also took a swipe at the selection of Illinois Gov. Samuel Shapiro to head the convention's rules committee.

"I can't imagine anyone with less qualifications or experience in national politics," he said.

Others named, but not rapped by Mitchell, were New Jersey Gov. Richard J. Hughes, credentials committee chairman, and House Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, permanent chairman of the last two conventions, honorary chairman.

The nominations for convention posts were drawn up by Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey and endorsed by the convention arrangements committee.

In other political developments:

Nelson A. Rockefeller—Pressing his concentrated campaign to head off Richard M. Nixon in the race for the GOP presidential nomination, the New York governor canvassed for congressional support in Washington, then hopped to New Jersey for a meeting with convention delegates. He told Capitol Hill lawmakers 60 GOP congressmen could ride to victory on his coattails if he is the nominee.

McCarthy — The Minnesota senator broke off his campaigning for the Democratic nomination today to appear at the Solidarity Day demonstration climaxing the Poor People's Campaign in Washington. He was not scheduled to speak. Yesterday, he called in Cleveland, Ohio, for decentralization of the presidency. "When a cabinet becomes 'my cabinet' or a party becomes 'my party,' the processes of government are distorted," he said.

Hubert H. Humphrey—Controversy swirled about the Vice President's views on the Vietnam war, but he withheld comment himself. Campaign co-managers Sens. Fred Harris, D-Okla., and Walter Mondale, D-Minn., indicated Humphrey had no intention of repudiating his past public support for Johnson's Vietnam policies as publisher Bill D. Moyers has predicted. Syndicated columnist Carl Rowan reported Humphrey told him his private views on the war were the same as his public ones.

It was also disclosed today dismissal notices have been sent to about a quarter of Humphrey's 200 salaried campaign workers as part of an economy drive.

Powell Wins House Seat; Vote Light

NEW YORK (UPI)—Adam Clayton Powell, seeking his 12th term in the House of Representatives, defeated his former press secretary yesterday in the Democratic primary race in Harlem's 18th Congressional District.

Powell, however, failed to poll his usual landslide margin. He defeated John H. Young by a vote of only about 3-2 in light balloting.

Powell, excluded from Congress by his House colleagues more than one year ago for alleged misuse of public funds, won a special election to fill the vacant seat last year. But he declined to claim the seat, preferring rather to fight the exclusion in the courts in hopes of preserving his seniority.

The veteran lawmaker declined to campaign for re-election, remaining instead at his island retreat on Bimini in tbe Bahamas. He made just one weekend appearance in Harlem.

Justice Hall Name Idea Is Rejected

If the Civic Center Hall of Justice is to be named in honor of anyone, it should be named after the world famed architect who designed it, Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, declared yesterday.

Other supervisors agreed and shelved a suggestion that the Hall of Justice be named the Kennedy-King Hall of Justice in honor of Robert F. Kennedy and Martin Luther King.

The Kennedy-King suggestion, made by a member of the county planning staff, was presented to the supervisors by County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker.

Storer said the fountain in front of the Civic Center could be named in honor of Kennedy, as suggested by the Human Rights Commission. As for the Rev. Martin Luther King, Storer said it might be fitting to name the Manzanita Center at Marin City as the King Memorial.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr quickly rejected that idea. What Marin City wants to name the Manzanita Center should come from the community itself and not from the outside, said Behr.

School Library Open

The Tamalpais High School library will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. through Aug. 9 for the use of all young people in the community, whether they are attending summer shcool or not, according to Sidney Thompson, librarian.

Black Point Mobile Home Plan Vetoed

A proposed mobile home park in Black Point was rejected by a 3 to 2 vote of the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday.

Supervisor Chairman Ernest N. Kettenhofen and John F. McInnis voted for the John Kenney project of 1,800 mobile homes plus apartments, conventional homes, marina, and commercial area on the old Sartori ranch west of Black Point and south of Highway 37.

But the other three supervisors, supported by a dozen vocal residents of Black Point, voted down the request to rezone the Black Point master plan.

William A. Gnoss, moving for rejection, said he is convinced that taxes from mobile homes would be far lower than from conventional homes.

Thomas T. Storer seconded the motion. He said the supervisors voted for the Black Point plan three years ago, and "I will not vote to amend the master plan in this fashion."

Both Kettenhofen and McInnis argued that mobile homes should be allowed because conventional homes are not selling. Rahter than let the land lie idle, the mobile homes park should be allowed, because it can always be converted to something else later, explained Kettenhofen.

Attorney E. Warren McGuire and planner David Van Pelt, representing Kenney, promised an integrated community of lagoons, shopping areas, marinas, golf course, open spaces and landscaping.

McGuire gave figures that showed the mobile homes would have fewer children than conventional homes and would be less a tax burden than conventional homes.

Jesse Fisher of Black Point Inn, who favored the mobile home park, produced a petition with "almost 100 names." He said he did not circulate the petition; people just came to the Inn to sign.

"I challenge the validity of the petition," declared Mrs. Franklin Miller. "We got 144 petitions at the people's homes. The other petition was signed at the bar."

A half dozen people who signed in favor of the mobile homes had already retracted, Mrs. Miller said. Among the letters of retraction, she said she got this note: "In a weak moment, I signed at the bar. I'm sorry."

Opposing what she called "trailers," Mrs. Miller declared: "We don't want Black Point to turn into another honky tonky town."

About 20 residents spoke up both for and against the proposed development, with opponents in the majority.

Meeting Postponed

Due to a lack of a quorum, the meeting of the North Marin County Water District board, scheduled for 8 p.m. yesterday was postponed until 8 p.m. next Tuesday at the district administration building.

Ballard Is Appointed To Agriculture Post

R. Allan Ballard, assistant agricultural commissioner for the last eight years, was promoted to the top spot yesterday by unanimous action of the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

Ballard succeeds the late Agricultural Commissioner Richard T. Straw, who died of a heart attack on June 7.

The supervisors hired William L. Blackwell, who is employed with the state Department of Agriculture, as agricultural inspector at $700 per month.

Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

CABLE TV — Passed a resolution asking the state Public Utilities Commission to extend its authority to cover cable television. The supervisors put off until July 16 a discussion of complaints received on poor cable television service in certain areas of Marin, notably the Strawberry area.

APARTMENTS — Approved planned apartment zoning for Alan Kay, who wants to put in 77 apartments on 3.5 acres of land at Waldo Point opposite Marin City. The area is at the corner of Butte and Sacramento streets, on the east side of Highway 101.

SIDEWALK — Approved the construction of a sidewalk on Los Ranchitos Road between Las Gallinas Avenue and Constance Drive. Whether property owners in the block would share in the estimated $3,000 cost will be decided later.

UNDERGROUNDING — Approved the designation of a portion of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Kentfield, between Maple Avenue and Ash Avenue, as an underground utility district.

ARCHITECTS — Named architects Martin Del Campo of San Francisco and Jan Smekens of Greenbrae to a committee which will select an architect to design the Novato Branch Library.

SENATE BILL — Voted to oppose SB-1183, which would limit the availability of leased housing assistance to the poorest of the low-income population. Donald O. Stutsman, executive director of the Housing Authority of Marin, said the bill is so restrictive, it would impair the leased housing program in Marin.

DAN'S GROCERY — Permitted Kenneth L. Hosfield to keep his soft drink sign at Dan's Grocery at 254 Shoreline Highway, Tamalpais Valley, until Sept. 1.

"Next time, Henry, you better believe it!"

College Board To Discuss Old Buildings

The Marin Junior College District board will discuss whether or not to demolish three main buildings at the College of Marin at a meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow in Room G-1 of the physical education building.

The board will consider the demolition of Harlan Hall, Austin Science Building and the communications building as proposed under the college master plan as well as new building locations.

Also on the agenda is an offer from the Ross Valley Medical Center to lease, with option to buy, the center to the college for office space.

The tentative budget for the college will be voted on by the trustees and administrative salary raises discussed.

Last month the trustees granted 5 per cent raises to all personnel except administrative and tomorrow they will consider pay hikes for them ranging from 3.68 per cent to 16.4 per cent.

Also on the board's agenda is a request for authorization to ask for bids for a football and track field estimated to cost $539,000 and discussion of plans for a science center to be constructed on the site of the present football field.

Sonoma State Sets Deadline

An unprecedented increase in applications at Sonoma State College for the fall semester has prompted a July 19 deadline for prospective students, H. J. Soeters, dean of admissions and records, reported.

He said eligible students whose applications are completed after July 19 will be admitted with the understanding that their fall registration must be subject to the availability of classes.

He said continuing students for the fall semester who registered in May must pay their fees by Aug. 2 or have their early registration cancelled.

Better Homes Drive Set In Valley

Members of the San Geronimo Valley Association have launched a drive aimed at repair of older homes occupied by hippies which they fear are fire and health hazards.

Mrs. Mary Furdas, treasurer, said the association may seek inspections and enforcement by officials of the county fire, health, and building departments.

She said the problem in San Geronimo Valley is similar to that in Larkspur reported in Monday's Independent-Journal.

The San Geronimo Valley Association also:

NARROW ROADS — A discussion of widening narrow roads so fire trucks will be able to use them safely was postponed because County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom was unable to attend.

RUMMAGE SALE — Members learned a "rummage roundup" in May sponsored by the association, the Woodacre Improvement Club, St. Cecelia's Catholic Church in Lagunitas and the Community Presbyterian Church in San Geronimo netted $2,200 which was divided among the sponsors.

NO SUMMER MEETINGS — The association will hold only executive board meeting in July and August, a usual procedure. The next meeting will be Sept. 23.

Poverty War Pact Issues Ironed Out

The board of supervisors and representatives of the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council reached quick agreement yesterday on two disputed provisions in a contract to extend the War on Poverty.

At issue were conditions that would have required the EOC to give the county early notice of development of antipoverty programs and to submit special monthly fiscal statements and an annual progress report.

The supervisors approved the contract last month and sent it to the EOC. The council voted last week to strike the two provisions, but otherwise endorsed the contract.

Attorney Gil Medeiros, a council member, told the supervisors that the EOC felt the provision for early notice of programs would "unduly interfere" with council operations. He added that submitting statements and reports beyond what was sent to federal officials would be burdensome.

He said the EOC was prepared to offer the supervisors duplicates of reports compiled in program planning stages and periodic reports of continuing programs.

Supervisor John F. McInnis said it was "essential we be kept aware of general activities" but that he was not interested in detailed reports submitted to federal agencies. He hoped for a "brief, narrative report" from the supervisors' staff on progress of the EOC. The other supervisors agreed.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr proposed holding quarterly workshop sessions with the EOC staff. Council representatives quickly agreed to that and the supervisors agreed they would be content with copies of financial statements furnished the federal government.

The contract, scheduled to go into effect July 1, was sent to County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney for rewording. The pact resulted from federal requirements that local community action agencies realign governing boards to include more government officials and representatives of the poor.

Only Three Taken By Draft Board

Marin's Selective Service Board reported three young men were inducted into the Army this month.

They are Ralph A. Gatto Jr. and Martin P. Balzarini, San Rafael and Clarke N. Andrews, Mill Valley.

The board's quota for the month had been 32, reported Mrs. Joy M. Kinzer, executive secretary of Local Board No. 25.

The quota is seldom reached because of deferments and enlistments among those scheduled for induction.

The July quota ia 14, Mrs. Kinzer reported.

Redwood Empire Office Marks Fifth Birthday

A tourist service operated in San Francisco by the Redwood Empire Association last week welcomed its 122,405th visitor as a climax to its first five years of operation.

REA's information center, an official agency of the City and County of San Francisco, also is supported by eight other counties to the north, by the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District and by more than 600 firms and individuals, including numerous cities and chambers of commerce.

Six days a week the reception counter at 476 Post Street, just west of Union Square, helps travelers learn about Fisherman's Wharf, Muir Woods, the wine country, the redwood coast, fishing rivers and lakes of the Redwood Empire.

Tourist season inquiries run above 1,000 per week, according to REA Pres. Edwin A. Frediani, San Francisco attorney. The association maintains a similar office on Interstate 5 north of Grants Pass, which turns southbound motorists down the Redwood Highway (U.S. 199/101).

Interim Successor To Sumbardo Voted Down

The unanimous vote followed a two-hour closed meeting — in which the council interviewed city department heads for the proposed interum job—and public debate, sometimes fiery, over whether the city will need a full-time administrator in the future.

TO DELAY DECISION

Whether the council will name a permanent replacement for David J. Sumbardo, who has resigned his $13,200-a-year post effective June 26, will be decided within three months, the council announced after the closed meeting. Public hearings on the question are planned.

On June 10, the council voted 3-2 against starting an immediate search for a permanent administrator.

The council last night said its decision not to name an interim administrator meant that more office chores will have to be absorbed by City Clerk Francis Lestanguet. The council voted to pay her $300 extra for the 90 days.

Summoned into the closed meeting were Mrs. Lestanguet, Police Chief James R. Orr, Fire Chief Charles M. Thornton and Street Supt. Edgar Phillips.

COUNCIL CONSENSUS

Later, Councilman Adelaide Wilson announced, "The consensus of the council was that we did not want to elevate a department head at this time."

Councilman Frank J. Egger said before the closed session that Mayor Robert R. Souza's plan to discuss hiring an interim administrator was a surprise to him.

He said he thought the June 10 vote had settled the issue and asked, "How did this all come about? What gives?"

Souza replied he had sent notices to all councilmen June 13 and had received replies from everyone but Egger.

EGGER OBJECTS

Egger also objected to the closed meeting. "The people have a right to speak on the issue," he said.

Earlier, audience opinion on continuing the administrator's job was mixed. A spectator asked whether Francis J. O'Connell, newest council member, wanted to retain the administrator's post.

O'Connell said he sought to determine this from upcoming budget negotiations and attacked a "little group of opposition" whose "hysterics" infavor of an administrator were threatening any attempts to reach a decision. "I'm getting hot, I'm getting real hot," O'Connell added.

RESERVES COMMENTS

When O'Connell had finished, Planning Commissioner E. Ross Parkerson stepped to the front of the room and said, his voice rising: "We're very rational and reasonable. The hysteria is on your side. I resent your comments."

The Fairfar City Council Also:

GARBAGE — Approved an increase in garbage rates from $2.25 per month on level land to $2.50 and from $2.50 to $2.75 on hilly land, deferring until July 8 approval of a contract with Fairfax Garbage Disposal. The council, at the request of one resident, urged a provision for quarterly billing of residents be inserted in the contract.

COMPLAINT — Heard Leo P. Cronin, chairman of the planning commission, urge the removal of an unidentified member of the firehouse site selection committee because he had received gifts from special interest" groups. Souza said he would investigate.

APPOINTMENT — Named Mrs. Wilson to serve as the city's representative on the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council, which is being reorganized to include more representatives of government and the poor.

CODES — Adopted the uniform building and mechanical codes.

BUDGET — Set budget hearings for 7:30 p.m. June 28 and July 1 and hoped to adopt the budget July 8.

FIREARMS — Set July 8 for discussion of a gun control ordinance similar to that passed yesterday by the county supervisors for unincorporated areas of the county.

Piling Permit For Floating Dock Is Sought

A permit to drive piling for the construction of a home and floating dock in Richardson Bay at Belvedere has been requested from the Army Corps of Engineers by Larry Boeck, through his architect, Allan Steinau of Belvedere.

The Army said factors such as navigation, recreation, fish and wildlife conservation, water pollution, conservation of natural resources and the public interest in such matters as aesthetics or ecology will be considered in determining whether to grant a permit.

Interested parties may submit in writing, in triplicate, any objections that they may have to the proposed work not later than July 13, to Army Corps of Engineers, 100 McAllister Street, San Francisco.

Hans Meyer of Deak and Co. of San Francisco will speak on "Foreign Exchange Today" at the Marin Coin Club meeting tonight at 7:45 at the Mill Valley Methodist Church Hall, Sycamore and Camino Alto avenues.

New Category Of Secretaries To Be Discussed

Selection of a new group of "super secretaries," as requested by the Marin County Board of Supervisors, will be discussed by the Marin County Personnel Commission tomorrow at 3 p.m. in Room 413 at Civic Center.

Maren Rinne, personnel analyst, will present her findings and recommendations on the "super secretary" category, which will include five to seven secretaries who will get higher pay and special distinction because of the responsibility of their jobs.

Commissioners will also discuss a grievance procedure, which will be added to the county's employer-employee relations policy. Robert M. McCreadie, a new commissioner, will be introduced. He will succeed Victor P. Reed, who resigned.

The first "rodeo" in Texas was held at the town of Pecos on July 4, 1883.

$5.5 Billion Homes Loan Bill Gains Committee Nod

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The House Banking Committee approved today a $5.5 billion housing bill designed to provide some 1.2 million new or renovated homes over a three-year period.

The measure, which must be approved by the House, is an authorization bill and Congress would have to appropriate the actual funds later to make the program operative.

President Johnson requested a $6.3 billion housing measure. The Senate has approved a $5 billion bill which is similar to the House committee proposal.

The committee also adopted an amendment by Rep. Richard Hannah, D-Calif., to allow the savings and loan institutions to make loans on mobile homes and household equipment in addition to their present limited lending authority which is restricted to conventional FHA mortgages.

In addition, the measure would let savings institutions invest in high interest-bearing time deposits issued by commercial banks. The main purpose or the measure is aimed at providing new or refurbished housing for low and moderate income families. It would establish a home ownership program to let some 500,000 people in the low income brackets purchase their own homes.

Special Tiburon Rec Session Set

A special meeting of the Tiburon Parks and Recreation Commission has been called for 8 p.m. tomorrow at city hall to discuss three items.

A trails map of the Tiburon Peninsula will be presented by Walter Horchler, county senior planner. Commissioners will consider plans for a proposed Ayala Day Festival and a joint city-school district proposed park, according to Polly O. Smith, chairman.

Beach Area Sewage To Be Studied

Requirements for sewage discharges by the Bolinas Community Public Utility District and Stinson Beach County Water District will be considered by the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow in San Mateo City Hall.

The two districts are considering a joint sewage system, and engineers have suggested a joint discharge point be either at the mouth of Bolinas Lagoon or at the mouth of the arroyo north of Bolinas Mesa.

The staff of the regional board recommended against a third proposed discharge point in the arroyo itself.

The Bolinas district now dumps untreated sewage continuously at the mouth of the lagoon, but the district's engineering study recommended that sewage, even when treated, be discharged there only at ebb tide when the tide would carry wastes out to sea.

Transplanted Heart In Legal Controversy

HOUSTON (UPI)—The heart of a murder victim, used to keep a transplant recipient alive for a week, has become the subject of what could become a precedent-setting ownership dispute between medical and local government officials.

Houston's medical examiner, Dr. Joseph Jachimczyk, said yesterday he needs the heart of Clarence A. Nicks to complete his autopsy on Nicks' body and said he would not issue a death certificate until he gets the heart.

Newell E. France, administrator of St. Luke's and Texas Children's Hospital, said the hospital has the heart and intends to keep it.

The heart was transplanted into John Stuckwish of Alpine, Tex., May 7. Stuckwish died May 14 and hospital pathologists removed his heart for clinical study.

"We don't recognize the medical examiner's jurisdiction over it," France said. "This is a precedent setting thing. If we were to give it to him, that might mean that in all future cases in homicides, the heart would belong to the medical examiner.

France was concerned that Jachimczyk's actions could cut down on the amount of donors that could be used by Dr. Denton Cooley, who has performed four heart transplants this year.

Jachmczyk has already told Cooley he should not use any more homicide victims as heart transplant donors, but Cooley told Jachimczyk he planned to use any person whose family would approve.

Nicks, 36, was the only homicide victim whose heart was used in the transplants.

Rifle Leader Claims Reform Push 'Idiotic'

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The president of the National Rifle Association said today that proposed legislation to restrict the sale of firearms "won't save a single life this year or any year."

Harold Glassen, a Lansing attorney, said in an interview that the pressure for new laws is "idiotic" and results from frustration because of the loss of political leaders.

Glassen said proponents of gun control "are acting like a bunch of children. They don't act like mature human beings."

He said, "There is no law—control of weapons, control of firearms—that is in any way going to reduce crime."

Glassen said that the NRA opposes federal gun legislation but not state law in the field.

Glassen, elected president of the NRA in April 1967, added:

"The President stated that America should not be ashamed—I'm paraphrasing his remarks—that it wasn't 200 million Americans who killed Kennedy. It was one of them.

"It happens that we have about the same number of guns in America as we have people. And I point out to you that it killed Robert Kennedy.

It was, he said, "the misuse of one."

Chapter Forming To Aid Ex-Mental Cases

A Marin chapter of Recovery, Inc., an organization aimed at preventing relapses in former mental patients and in aiding nervous patients, will be formed in a meeting at 8 p.m. today in the Co-op Center, 71 Tamal Vista Boulevard, Corte Madera.

The Recovery system, based on the work of the late psychiatrist Abraham A. Low, is a self-help method involving panel meetings and individual self-help. It is not intended to supplant care by physicians, nor to provide dignosis or treatment, according to the organization.

Ask Caution In Surrender Of Firearms

Turn in your firearms if you like—but please unload them first.

Lt. Art Rotter said the assassination of Sen. Robert Kennedy has brought a rush of people to Harbor Station, bent on handing over their weapons.

With a wave of her arm she spilled its contents clanking on the desk of a detective. It was a .25-caliber automatic, fully loaded, with the safety off.

Sheriff Orders Staff To Lay Down Arms

BOSTON (UPI)—The Suffolk County sheriff has ordered his deputies to lay down their arms. He said he hopes to create "the prototype of a peacekeeping force which relies on anything but weapons."

Sheriff John Sears said yesterday the order banning his officers from carrying guns, except in "rare" instances, is effective immediately.

In Washington, a Justice Department spokesman said he believed it was the first effort in the nation to create a weaponless police force. Police in Great Britain do not carry guns.

Sears, recently appointed sheriff, acknowledged that not all his deputies are happy with the order. "A couple feel strongly that they should carry guns" he said.

But, he added, "Frankly I don't believe that weapons are necessary. That doesn't mean we'll never carry guns. There might be just that rare instance when we'll want to. Our men will still be able to shoot and shoot straight. And they will spend enough time on the shooting range to be sure they can."

But, he added, he wants to "reassure the public that really great police work is possible without weaponry and that the best police forces find that most of their time is devoted to preventive medicines."

The 200 deputy and special sheriffs on Sears's force are resposible for law enforcement in Boston and the surrounding towns of Revere, Chelsea and Winthrop.

Sears said two of his deputies are Black Belt karate and judo experts and are teaching the others the art of self defense.

Fire Budget Review

The preliminary budget of $216,446 for 1968-69 will be reviewed by the Kentfield Fire District board at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the fire house.

Novato Puts Off Cleanup Drive Until October

The dates for Novato's cleanup campaign have been changed by the City Beautification Committee, the sponsors, according to City Mgr. J. Julien Baget.

The new dates are Oct. 12 and 13, and 19 and 20. The original dates were Sept. 21 and 22, and 28 and 29, Baget said.

On the suggestion of chairman Richard Burgi, the committee asked that the Novato City Council consider creating a full-time position of landscape maintenance man for the city for the coming fiscal year, Baget said. He would be responsible for the islands on Highway 101, tree trimming and other such work, Baget said.

BUSY BEES TAKE A REST

Ex-Dancer Wins Magazine Libel Case Of $1.8 Million

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Former night club owner and dancer Lillian Reis was awarded $1,825,000 yesterday in a libel suit against the Saturday Evening Post magazine.

Miss Reis, who was convicted in a widely publicized burglary trial several years ago, claimed invasion of privacy and libel from a Post article, "They Call Me Tiger Lil."

She sought $2 million in damages for the story published in 1963.

A jury of seven men and five women deliberated six hours before awarding the money to Miss Reis and her two daughters.

Her lawyer, Robert Simon, told the jury that the article had caused Miss Reis and her daughters mental anguish and had pictured the former dancer as "the personification of evil."

Miss Reis had been convicted in 1964 of a burglary at the home of John B. Rich in 1959, after two long trials. She is free pending her appeal.

Teacher's Car Looted At Beach

Three burglaries including the looting of an Illinois school teacher's car near Muir Beach were reported yesterday by sheriff's officers.

Shirley J. Henderson of Galesburg, Ill., told deputies Saturday her car parked two miles north of Muir Beach on Highway 101 was entered and $410 in traveler's checks and cash taken.

Also missing are airline tickets, she said. No forced entry was evident.

Alfred O. Hersvick, 263 Blackstone Drive, Marinwood, told officers Sunday someone ripped a bathroom screen, entering his home to steal a blanket, a man's watch, and $7 cash.

Burglars also cut a rear window screen at the home of Donald A. Kuntsler, 311 Richardson Drive, Mill Valley. He reported Saturday that a small quantity of clothing was stolen.

Plea Of Innocent To Morals Charges

Luther Underwood Dodson, 54, of 149 Montego Keys, Novato, pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court Tuesday to two counts of lewd and lascivious behavior with a child.

Preliminary hearing will be set at 1:30 p.m. Friday Dodson is accused of commiting the acts with a 6-year-old girl in his home June 10.

Sausalito Eyes Marin City Work Ideas

A program which would provide summer jobs and limited training in fire fighting for Marin City youths was approved in principal by the Sausalito City Council last night. (see another Sausalito council story, page 1.)

Under the program, proposed by Sausalito Fire Chief Charles E. Masten, four boys would be hired through the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council's summer youth program to work 30 hours a week for six weeks this summer. The youths would spend half their time doing general maintenance and repair work and the rest of the time in fire science training program.

In a written report to the council, Masten said the program would "get needed service work accomplished" and "prepare these boys for possible future employment in the fire service."

The youths' salaries, at approximately $1.60 an hour, would be financed by federal funds through the summer youth program, Mgr. George M. Patterson said. In addition, the city would contribute 50 cents an hour as incentive pay, he said.

The city would also have to pay for the salary of an off-duty fireman to act as supervisor and for uniforms for the youths. Total cost to the city would be $872 to be financed out of the proposed 1968-69 budget, Patterson noted.

The council indicated final approval of the program would hinge on working out the financing of the program in the proposed budget and the availability of youths to participate in the program.

The Sausalito City Council also:

TAXI STAND — Approved a request by Sausalito Yellow Cab Co. for a second taxi stand in the downtown area, the location to be determined by the city manager.

REQUEST — Heard a request from the Sausalito Citizen's Council board that the city be "more firm" in denying encroachment applications, variances for side and rear yard set backs and tandem parking permits.

LIBRARY — Received a letter from Sausalito Foundation trustees urging that Caledonia Street be given prime consideration as a site for the library and that it not be located on the waterfront.

CANOPY — Approved an encroachment for a canopy over the entrance to the Sausalito Hotel at 16 El Portal.

LEGISLATION — Opposed proposed Senate Bill 117 which would create a tax ememption for personal effects and household furnishings and Senate Bill 624 which would decrease Northern California's share of gas tax monies for state highway improvements from 45 to 40 per cent.

ONE-WAY STREET — Agreed to make El Portal a one-way street going east and Park Street one-way going north around Vina Del Mar Park.

BONDS — Agreed to release the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. from franchise bonds required in 1953 because of the company's "financial resources, stability and permanence on the California scene."

ORDINANCE — Introduced for first reading an amendment to the city's zoning ordinance to require notice by mail to property owners within 300 feet of an affected property of any variance or use permit application under consideration by the city. The ordinance now requires both publication of a legal notice in a general circulation newspaper and mailed notice.

RESIGNATION — Accepted with regret the resignation of Rev. James M. Moher from the recreation commission. Father Moher said he was resigning because he has been transferred to a new parish in Daly City.

APPOINTMENTS — Named Robert L. Mayer of 70 George Lane, a stockbroker, and John P. Vetromile of 127 Buchanan Street, a public utility company rate engineer, to the recreation commission replacing Father Moher and Willard Hall, who recently resigned.

Five Variances Win Approval In Tiburon

Variances include a rear-yard setback for Gilbert Patterson at 86 Sugarloaf Drive, front yard setbacks for Douglas M. Christensen at 184 Stewart Drive and Donald R. Lingruen at 30 Geldert Drive, and for Triangle Builders, Inc. at numbers 7 and 9 Roseville Court.

DINNER ON THE porch or patio has a touch of Oriental splendor when the menu includes Cantonese Spareribs, rice and iced tea. For dessert there are ice cream and fortune cookies.

Oriental Dinner For A Warm Evening

This is a special summer night for a family celebration, a birthday, an anniversary, or a just-be-glad-it's-summer occasion.

The menu is Oriental, keyed to the chimes and the lanterns. It features Cantonese spareribs served with fluffy rice.

The ribs are a perfect outdoor finger food. The Cantonese glaze is made sweet with brown sugar and pineapple and tangy with the addition of lemon juice.

CANTONESE SPARERIBS

2 pounds spareribs
3 tablespoons brown sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ cup bottled lemon juice
1 can (1 lb., 4 oz.) crushed pineapple
2 tablespoons dried onion flakes
1 chicken beef boullion cube
½ cup water

Drain and reserve pineapple, pouring juice into a saucepan with ½ cup water. Bring mixture to boil, and dissolve boullion cube. Add brown sugar, cornstarch, salt, lemon juice onion flakes, and cook until sauce thickens, stirring constantly.

Cut ribs into sections which fit easily on barbecue grill, and cook for 1 hour 20 minutes, turning occasionally. Brush ribs with glaze. During last 20 minutes of cooking time, when ribs are tender and turned for last time, spoon on crushed pineapple and allow it to brown. Makes four servings.

GREEN AND GOLD SALAD

Arrange pineapple chunks or tidbits, canned grapefruit segments and slices of avocado in sherbert glasses. Blend together ½ cup pineapple syrup (drained from pineapple), 1 tablespoon lemon juice and 1 tablespoon honey. Spoon over the fruits.

Straight From Hawaii Comes Papaya With Curried Shrimp

Straight from Hawaii to Marin comes this recipe for papaya with curried shrimp. You can make it for your own Polynesian style table the way that it was developed by Chef Wuest of the Illikai Hotel in Honolulu.

PAPAYA SURPRISE

Curry Sauce

½ cup curry powder
1 onion, chopped
1 celery stick, chopped
2 apples, peeled and sliced
2 oz. flour
¼ cup pink sauterne
½ pint cream
1½ qt. chicken stock
1 oz. cornstarch
Butter
Lemon juice
Salt

Preparation:

Saute onion, celery, apple in butter 2-3 minutes. Add flour and curry powder. Stir well. Add sauterne and chicken stock, cover and simmer for 25-30 min. Mix cornstarch and cream, and add to boiling sauce. Add lemon juice and salt to taste. Strain sauce.

Approximately 6-8 shrimp to each papaya.

Saute 1 chopped onion in butter, add shrimp. Sprinkle with white wine and simmer for 2-3 minutes. Add curry sauce and simmer for 10-15 minutes.

Cut papaya lengthwise on top and remove seeds. Cut small piece off bottom of papaya to stand up. Fill papaya shells with shrimp curry and place on buttered sheet pan. Sprinkle with shredded coconut and bake for 15-20 minutes in 375 degree oven.. Serve with rice.

Liver Is Boon For Budgeting

Liver is a boon to budgets that tend to stray. Like other meats, it's first class protein. It has neighter bone nor fat.

Cooked gently and for a relatively short time, there's little shrinkage. Then, too, this variety meat is harmonious with many foods, none of which are expensive, particularly when in season: tomatoes, green pepper, mushrooms, rice, carrots, celery and onions.

'Tis Season Of The Peach

The season of the fresh peach isn't too long, so enjoy one of these frozen peach tortes at least once during the season.

For 6 to 8 servings combine 2 cups mashed fresh peaches (about 5 or 6) with 1 cup sugar and 1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice. Fold in 1 cup (½ pint) whipping cream, whipped. Coarsely crumble enough macaroons to make 1 cup. Spread ½ cup of the crumbs in bottom of a 1-quart shallow pan. Cover with peach mixture and sprinkle remaining macaroon crumbs over top. Cover with foil or plastic wrap and freeze until firm, about 4 to 6 hours.

Skewer Veal For Next Barbecue

2 pounds veal shoulder steaks
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
1 teaspoon salt
Pepper
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
2 eggs, slightly beaten
2 cups cornflakes, crushed
3 tablespoons lard or drippings
¼ cup hot water

Cut veal steaks into boneless 1-inch squares. Thread squares onto wooden or metal skewers. Mix mustard, salt and pepper, and butter or margarine together and rub on skewered veal. Dip in eggs, then in cornflakes. Brown on all sides in hot lard or drippings. Add water. Cover tightly and cook slowly for about 45 minutes, or until tender. 6 servings.

Meat Costs

Today, annual meat expenditures for a family of five take less than five per cent of total disposable income, for which they can purchase 885 pounds of meat, 250 pounds more than in 1938. And in 1938, meat purchases took a larger percentage of annual income.

German Style Potato Salad Und Frankfurters For Patio Supper

In the case of the frankfurter and German-style potato salad made with bacon, the potatoes cook in advance.

In the Sausage-Bean Duo, summer sausage in bite-sized pieces and bologna in small strips offer contrast to two kinds of beans: pork and beans in their tomtao sauce and garbanzo beans (a variety of chick-peas) which are drained.

This German-style potato salad with frankfurters is hot, and might well be served from the skillet on the porch. The sausage-bean combo is cold, with dressing poured over it just before serving.

MEIN FRANKFURTERS UND POTATO SALAD

1 pound frankfurters
6 large or 8 small potatoes
½ pound sliced bacon, cut in ½-inch squares cup vinegar
¼ cup water
2 tablespoons sugar
1½ teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon celery seed
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 cup finely sliced celery
⅓ cup chopped green onion
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1 tablespoon finely cut pimento

Cook potatoes in water to cover until tender. Remove peeling from potatoes and slice about ¼-inch thick. Brown bacon pieces lightly, reserving ¼ cup drippings. Combine bacon drippings, vinegar, water, sugar, salt, pepper, celery seed and prepared mustard. Mix well and bring to boil. Add the potato slices, bacon, celery, green onion, parsley and pimiento to the vinegar mixture. Mix lightly. Top potato salad with frankfurters. Cover tightly and cook slowly 10 minutes or until heated through. 4 to 5 servings.

SAUSAGE-BEAN DUO SALAD

½ pound bologna, cut julienne-style
1 cup diced celery
2 tablespoons pickle relish, drained
¼ cup sliced green onions
1 can (16 ounces) pork and beans in tomato sauce
1 can (16 ounces) garbanzo beans, drained
1 tablespoon vinegar
¼ cup Italian dressing
Lettuce

Combine summer sausage, bologna, celery, pickle relish, onions, pork and beans and garbanzo beans. Chill. Mix vinegar with dressing. Just before serving, pour dressing over salad mixture and toss lightly. Serve on lettuce. 6 to 8 servings.

WHAT'S AHEAD FOR FALL

Fall fashions included in the Couture Business Council's press week show a great variation of hemlines and styling. They are, left to right, a short evening dress with a basic foundation of black velvet by Marie McCarthy for the Larry Aldrich collection. The cossack styling is outlined by gold and beaded embroidery. One of the few very short skirts is part of the Junior Sophisticates collection. The dress and jacket combination is done in a brilliant green contrasted with a brief navy bodice fashioned with a high collar. The skirt falls softly from gathers above the waist and features a banded hemline. The short jacket is closed by three buttons. The coatdress from the Monte-Sano collection is of gold and black plaid. Noting the trend of the season are the shirt sleeves with buttoned cuffs, stand-up collar, belted waist and asymmetrical closing. The definition of feminine softness is seen in the satin gown from the Hannah Troy collection. The pale green gown is shaped with a high sculptured neckline, long sleeves with wide jewel encrusted cuffs and a long softly gathered skirt. A bib of jewel embroidery adorns the bodice which is cropped slightly above the natural waist by a darker colored satin.

Film Brings Social Activity

A group of Marinites are looking forward to a "Petulia party" in San Francisco and a prepublic showing of the film in which they appeared in small parts.

The party will be held June 26 at 10:30 p.m. at Sabella's on the Wharf in San Francisco for members of the Screen Actors Guild and Screen Extras Guild, after the group gathers at the North Point Theater for a private screening of the film.

A benefit performance of "Petulia" will be held the same night in Marin to aid the Landmark Society.

Marin actors and actresses attending the San Francisco party will be Cliff Aberham of Bel Marin Keys, Col. and Mrs. H. R. Davis (Alice Davis) of Belvedere, Mrs. James C. Phelps (Claire Merrill) of Tiburon, and Mrs. V. O. Hampton of Larkspur, Mrs. L. W. Waldon and Dan Caldwell.

The filming of the movie was done last summer and included Sausalito and Tiburon waterfront locations, as well as the Russell Keil home at Keil Cove in Tiburon and Muir Woods. The Sausalito sequence was a Mexican Village scene. San Francisco hotels, hospitals, night spots, the Japanese Tea Garden and other city locations are also shown in the film.

Colonel Davis, who retired from the U.S. Army after serving 30 years with the Corps of Engineers, plays a naval officer in the film, and his wife, Alice, is featured in a charity ball scene at the Fairmont Hotel. She also appears at the Japansese Tea Garden and in the intensive care ward at Children's Hospital. Alice Davis also had a speaking part in "Bullitt," filmed this spring in San Francisco and also including a number of Marinites in the cast, and she has appeared in "I Spy," "The Graduate," and "Yours, Mine and Ours."

The six day filming of the charity ball scene at the Fairmont turned the work day around for the Marinites appearing in it. Shooting began anywhere from 11 p.m. to 2 a.m. and continued to 7 a.m. For Colonel Davis that was only the beginning of his day. After breakfast he left for a full day at the office, then dinner and a few hours sleep, and back to the Fairmont.

Mrs. Hampton, who has been modeling since she was 14 years old, appeared in the Fairmont lobby and Children's Hospital scenes.

Cliff Aberham also appears in the Fairmont scenes and has a close-up in the roller derby sequence at Winterland, appearing with George C. Scott and Shirley Knight. He also worked in "Bullitt."

Mrs. Phelps (Claire Merrill) played the part of the wife of Joseph Cotten in the scene taken at Keil Cove in Tiburon.

The film stars Julie Christie, Richard Chamberlain, George C. Scott and Shirley Knight and was directed by Richard Lester. Some of the stars and the director rented homes in Sausalito during the filming last summer.

CLIFF ABERHAM of Bel Marin Keys appears in the roller derby scenes with George C. Scott and Shirley Knight in the film "Petulia" and will attend the screen actors and extras guild party after the screening June 26.

FAMILIAR FACES? Col. and Mrs. H. R. Davis of Belvedere are among Marinites who appear in the film "Petulia" and who will attend the cast party and private showing in San Francisco next week. Alice Davis also appeared in "The Graduate," "Yours, Mine and Ours," and has a part in the just-completed Steve McQueen film, "Bullitt."

Meeting For Parents With Cardiac Children

A meeting to explore possible interest in Marin for summer recreation for children with cardiac conditions has been set Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Marin County Association, 1363 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael.

Because of the interest of a San Rafael mother with a cardiac child, the Heart Association and Marin Easter Seal Society are cooperating to see if Marin parents with cardiac condition youngsters would favor a small day camp-style activity program geared to the ability of such youngsters. The mother, Mrs. Sheldon Deutsch of Lucas Valley, said that a program slowed down to a comfortable pace for the cardiac child would give these children a chance to come in contact with others like them.

Normal in every other way and attending regular schools, the cardiac children may find that they can't keep up on the playground, Mrs. Deutsch said. Her own 10-year-old daughter, eldest of four children, finds that her energy is dissipated fast, her coordination is not as good as other children's, and she needs a respite from the superactive pace at school and with her brothers and sister.

"The playground moves too fast," Mrs. Deutsch points out. "We have been taught to treat the cardiac child normally in every way and do, but a recreation program that lets the child go at his own pace, with other children like him, would give him a breather during the summer," she said.

Mrs. Deutsch telephoned agencies and schools to see if any such program for cardiac children existed in the Bay Area and found none. Now, the Heart Association and Easter Seal Society is ready to organize a trial program this summer in Marin if there is response from parents who are interested. School nurses have also been contacted who may know of other children with a similar condition.

Mrs. Deutsch said that if a small trial program can be set up in Marin this summer, next summer a more extensive Bay Area program could be arranged.

She said that parents with cardiac condition children who would be interested in summer recreation may telephone her or the Easter Seal Society or the Marin County Heart Association, and attend the meeting Tuesday.

Rumanian Singer Permitted To Wed

FRANKFURT, GERMANY (GF) — For Rumania's popular singing star Pompilia Stoian and West German construction engineer Till Wener, establishment of diplomatic relations between their two countries last year marked more than political improvement. It paved the way for marriage after years of waiting, bringing a happy ending to their lengthy romance.

Love first blossomed five years ago, when Werner took a summer vacation to Rumania's Black Sea coast, where he met Pompilia. But their subsequent efforts to obtain an official okay for marriage were blocked as the Iron Curtain made itself felt. At that time, Bonn had relations with only one East European capital, Moscow.

Despite seemingly insurmountable barriers, Werner and Pompilia continued seeking permission from authorities to exchange vows, an effort that paid off after relations were established last year. Bucharest's Foreign Minister Corneliu Manescu's secretary personally invited Pompilia to come by and smiled:

"You ought to look around for a few weeks when you go over there before marrying."

A short time later, the songstress received permission to leave Rumania and marry Werner. She arrived in Frankfurt the beginning of this year and the couple immediately departed on a dream trip to the four corners of West Germany.

The wedding date has been set for this coming August in Bucharest.

One Mistake Gives Background For Worries About Neighbor

DEAR HELEN:

We've been married 16 years and have five fine children. I know my husband is wonderful but other women know it too. Years ago, he confessed one infidelity. No repeats.

He is an avid gardener and keeps busy outside when he's home. Now my neighbor is an unmarried woman. Lately she has started working in her garden every day but only when my husband is around. At first I thought it was a coincidence but the minute he walks out the back door, there she is, watering, pulling grass, etc. As she wears a negligee over her nightgown, when she bends down — well, sometimes my husband's hoe hits a flower instead of a weed.

Her other obvious attempts to attract him include borrowing all kinds of tools, asking his advice, acting like the sweet little helpless female.

I keep wondering, if she's such an ardent gardener, why doesn't she work in the mornings when it's cool and my guy is off at work?

I know he loves me and his family and wouldn't intentionally do anything to hurt us but a man can be tempted and she's tempting.

Am I making too much of this?

—WORIIED

DEAR WORRIED:

Probably.

Happily married men seldom fall for desperate women — and any gal who gardens in a negligee at 5 p.m. is either desperate or a frump.

Work outdoors with your husband making sure some of the kids are with you, this to show her what a compatible family you are. Mainly, turn the situation into an inside joke at your house but never laugh at him. Just smile sympathetically about the poor thing next door who can't resist his charm. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

About the neighbor lady who brought in the dinner because this man told her he was sick when he was really hungover, as usual:

You aren't very perceptive, Helen, if you didn't realize that dame was wearing a halo of pure brass. She just wanted to make the wife look silly. The dinner said loud and clear, "You're a lousy mate or your husband wouldn't be staying out until 4 a.m., and I could do a lot better by him!"

I had a husband like this man for 30 years. He needled me into screaming at him just so the neighbors would hear and feel sorry for him. He had everyone thinking I was a she-devil, but no one knew the insults and quiet cruelty I suffered. To others, he was an angel. Oh how he loved to suffer and get sympathy from other women!

Why don't you see through these catty females? And blister these no-good husbands! You seem to take the man's side when there's any doubt about who is guilty. For example, you told the wife who was jealous of her daughter-in-law that it was probably over-active imagaination. That old buzzard was as guilty as a pup. Anyone could see it from reading her letter.

—DOWN WITH MEN

DEAR DOWN:

Not "anyone" could see it, friend: Just someone whose reactions are colored by her own personal experience. You're sour on all men (and most women) because you got a lemon. I give 'em fair shake because I didn't. Come to think of it, my reactions are just as affected by experience as are yours, except I'm prejudiced in favor of people. I kinda like it that way. —H.

USO Seeks To Sponsor Corps To Assist Social Activity

MARIN GIRLS are being urged to apply with the USO for a new Marin USO Mobile Unit. Partners are needed for on-base social activities at Hamilton Air Force Base, Fort Baker and at the three Marin Nike sites. Interested young women may contact the Planning Chambers at the Marin Civic Center June 26.

Marin girls, between the ages of 18 and 25, are invited to provide hospitality for hundreds of servicemen. The men, from all areas of the nation, are checking in and out of Hamilton Air Force Base and other county military installations.

This call, which might be labeled a call-to-duty, however pleasant, is issued from the Bay Area United Service Organization. The staff is urgently seeking junior hostesses to team up for dances, softball games, picnics and barbecues, scrabble, cards and social activities.

Prospective junior hostesses for a new Marin USO Mobile Unit will be interviewed by volunteers of the USO and the Volunteer Bureau of Marin, both United Bay Area Crusade agencies. Girls may come to the planning commission chambers, third floor of Marin Civic Center at 7:30 p.m., June 26.

For Marin girls who work in the city, special arrangements have been made to make application from noon to 2 p.m. that day in the Bay Area USO Club, 1017 Market Street, San Francisco. They may also telephone USO Field Director Chris Asimos at the club.

Miss Asimos said that hostesses in the new unit are needed for regular social activities at Hamilton Air Force Base, Fort Baker and for the men stationed at the three Marin Nike sites. Buses from a central point will be provided by the Army or Air Force.

At present, these social activities are being covered by young women in the USO mobile units from four other nearby counties: San Francisco, Contra Costa, Alameda and San Mateo.

Two attempts by USO to form a corps of Marin hostesses have failed, she said. Whether sociability of Marin young women is lacking or community support is the weak spot, it is hoped this endeavor can overcome the problem according to officials.

Also needed, in order to put the county group into operation, are older women to serve as senior chaperones. These would accompany the hostesses in on-base activities, interview prospective applicants, answer inquiries and serve on the USO governing board and other community leader-type assignments according to the USO field director.

As an example of the rather critical situation in the lack of Marin's hospitality to servicemen, Miss Asimos said that at dances, picnics and other twice-a-month activities at Hamilton Field, between 200 and 400 men attend. The usual contingent of girls numbers 35.

The mobile units visit Fort Baker six times a month for social affairs for men stationed there and at the Nike sites. The ratio is about one girl for every four men, she said.

Requirements for junior hostesses include willingness to give two evenings a month for the on-base visits. Other regulations are that the applicant be of good character, be graduated from high school and either employed or continuing her education, that she be single and never have been married and well-groomed and fun to be with. Miss Asimos stressed, too, that girls of all races and creeds are needed to bring the ratio in better balance at social functions.

She said that if potential hostesses are unable to make the June 26 meeting they may telephone her or Mrs. Marion Kelley, executive director of the Volunteer Bureau of Marin, 725 A Street, San Rafael.

Hemlines Are Not Important

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — New York fashion designers seem to feel that the way to settle the great debate on course of the hemline is to ignore it. Maybe it'll go away.

Or, as in the case of Jacques Tiffeau, just dismiss it with the comment, "Skirt length doesn't mean a damn."

BUT NOBODY on Seventh Avenue, the heart of New York's ready-to-wear industry, is chattering about one skirt length. The message is, the choice is up to you, from above the knee — the predominant daytime length still — to anywhere in between, with the midis and the maxis showing throughout collections, particularly in coats and capes.

The long and short of it is perhaps best summed up by designer Tiffeau's statement to buyers during the firm's Tiffeau & Busch shows last week.

"It's not how long you make it, it's how you make it long," he proclaimed in a takeoff on a cigarette commercial, then went ahead to show above-knee dresses for day topped with maxis, or just below mid-calf, coats. The dresses, sleeveless and slim cut, came in either wools, suedes or kids, their long coats in assorted wools.

TIFFEAU'S FIRM is one of the more than 110 individual designers or manufacturers participating in the next several days of fall and winter fashion shows for visiting reporters. By the time the shows end June 28, the reporters will have seen a total picture of the new in all phases of ready-to-wear.

The first maxi on the Tiffeau scene was in camel's hair, cut straight at the back, self-belted in front, worn over a simply cut brick-toned wool dress. Then camel, plus the earth tones, plus Tiffeau's beloved pearly gray showed throughout the collection.

The way to wear the maxi, either coat or cape, is with its hemline meeting the tops of soft, crushed kid boots, Tiffeau believes. And prepare for the booted look to go on into cold weather, even though Women's Wear Daily, the trade publication, announces that "boots look dated."

BUT BOOTS, even embroidered to match short formals, showed in major fall collections.

Camel and gray is a favorite color pairing throughout fall collections. Donald Brooks uses it in suits, coat-dress combinations, or in coat dresses. And the all-gray comes on strongly with firms like Chester Weinberg's. Watch for gray jersey tops finished off with colorful or white satin skirts in evening wear.

The leather industry must be humming a happy tune. There's leather for trim, leather to make entire dresses for casual daytime wear, and people like Tiffeau pair suede tops in brilliant colors with black or bronzed satin for floor length evening dresses.

The designer putting the label on the outside of the garment continues. Weinberg showed simple, basic suits or dresses in toned-down shades with wide, back-flowing scarves in brilliant hues. The print spelled out: "CHESTER" in bold letters.

Engagement Announced

When guests arrived at the Walnut Creek home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Carlsen, the future bridegroom's parents, they received scrolls resembling diplomas inscribed ''Diane-Dick'' with an engagement ring between the names.

The future bride is the daughter of Lt. Col. (ret.) and Mrs. Michael K. Abraham of Novato and the sister of Michelle and Jacqueline Abraham. She was graduated from Terra Linda High School and attended Chico State College and College of Marin.

Dick has a twin brother, Donald, and a sister, Pam. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Carlsen and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Arce, all of Oakland, are his grandparents. He was graduated from Las Lomas High School in Walnut Creek and while at Chico State was a member of Delta Psi Delta fraternity. He is employed by the Emporium in San Francisco.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM WAGNER

Novato Pair Given Fifty-Year Honors

Fifty years of activity, centered on Black Point, will be noted by Mr. and Mrs. William Wagner of Novato today. Ever since their wedding June 19, 1918, the couple have been deeply involved in water sports including boating, swimming and fishing. Mr. Wagner had discovered the location in 1910.

"We have no special formula for raising our family," said Edna. "They were just good children." The children are two daughters, Mrs. Albert (Edna) Johnson and Mrs. Gene (Pat) Naugle, both of Novato. There are five grandchildren with one granddaughter being married recently.

When Mr. and Mrs. Wagner repeated their wedding vows, he was a carpenter's mate for the U.S. Navy stationed on Goat Island. He had grown up in Alameda and she in San Francisco. They were married in a small ceremony in San Francisco where their married life began. Edna continued working for the telephone company and later changed to a head cashier job with a hardware firm. William was a painter for the city of San Francisco.

The couple enjoy their water sports but do include a few other interests. Edna is a member of the Black Point Women's Club and of the BB's which she describes as having once been a sewing club but is now more for just visiting. William bowls for the Novato Leagues and enjoys going hunting.

A family dinner will be held at the Naugle home with the families and grandchildren present. Honored will be the couple, who say they have not led an unusual life, just enjoy being residents involved in Black Point activity.

'All Must Be Gravely Concerned' Says Church Woman Of The Year

NEW YORK (UPI)—Ferment yes, lawlessness no!

This in essence sums up the views of one of America's leading churchwomen as she ponders today's violence culminating not only in race riots but in assassinations of political and civil rights leaders.

"The cauldron bubbles, the ferment is healthy, it is necessary if things are to settle. But all of us must be greatly concerned with a mental attitude that says the way to overcome an obstacle is to shoot somebody. Civilization learned a long time ago that you can't solve a problem by anarchy or the gun.

"Lawlessness, violence cannot be countenanced by either white or Negro."

The words are those of Mrs. Stuart E. Sinclair, of Greenfield, Mass., the 1968 Church Woman of the Year of the Religious Heritage of America, Inc. (RHA). She is one of the few women on the executive committee of the National Council of Churches and for three years was president of Church Women United with a membership of 12 million.

Edna Sinclair puts the church right on the spot.

"We must have the conviction that we can't keep some of our people down," she said, in an interview. "We in the church have not looked at the causes of apathy in our country. I'm afraid some of our people don't want to...there's a rigidity against change.

"But we have the responsibility to human beings."

In truth, Mrs. Sinclair challenges church membership. "It is a fearful thing," she said, "when we don't trust our own leadership."

Mrs. Sinclair calls on all in religion, Christian and Jew alike, and no matter what denomination in the church, to help the disadvantaged including "the 10 million who are hungry.

Schools Budget Expected To Raise Fairfax Tax Rate

A budget totaling $853,057 and expected to increase the tax rate 2.9 cents was adopted last night by the Fairfax School board.

The current tax rate if $3.035 per $100 assessed valuation with the 3.5 cents going to education of the physically handicapped, according to Supt. H. Reginald Hammond.

This portion of the tax rate is set by the county and has not yet been determined, but Supt. Hammond predicted it would rise. If it stayed the same, the tax rate would be $3.064.

The budget was trimmed from a preliminary figure of $869,000, with most of the cuts coming in maintenance and capital outlay items, Hammond said. The board hopes to replace the items if the income is greater than the current estimate, he added.

One of the items is development at White Hill School, he reported. A discussion of playground development at White Hill, which will be done in cooperation with the Little League, was on last night's agenda, but was delayed until the next meeting when league representatives are expected to attend.

Hammond said most of the increase comes in added personnel, salary increases and benefits.

The Fairfax School District Board Also:

INSURANCE — Delayed a decision on an insurance proposal which would double this year's expenditure of about $2,000 until the insurance agent can develop another plan at a lower cost.

DEER PARK — Heard a report on landscaping which is being done with the help of Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts from Troop 39. The Scouts are doing some rock work and a new flag pole is being installed.

SEX EDUCATION — Learned that the three-week television program "Time of Your Life" has been postponed until evening time is available on KQED, the educational network station.

CONTRACTS — Approved contracts for Miss Gaye Chaffin, fourth grade; Miss Cheri Garcia, kindergarten; and for Mrs. Patricia Krusinski whose earlier plans for a year's leave had changed.

MEETING — Set the next meeting for 7:45 p.m. July 9 at the district office, instead of July 2 as previously scheduled.

Clausen Seeking Urban Protection

I-J Special Report

WASHINGTON — A bill designed to reduce the population move to the urban areas was introduced yesterday by Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District.

It would authorize Congress to concentrate public works projects in communities with populations between 10,000 and 100,000, Clausen said, to encourage private industry to relocate from urban centers to smaller communities.

The key to big city problems, said Clausen, "lies in the redistribution of jobs and people." His program, plus "proper tax incentives and other inducements," would help both ghetto dwellers and rural unemployed, he said.

Stone Sculpture, Jewelry Display

Stone sculpture and jewelry, created by Don and Nina Martelle of Fairfax, are on display in the Fairfax branch of the Marin County Library, County Librarian Virginia Keating announced today.

The display will continue to the end of this month.

The Fairfax artists, who call themselved Donina, used as their medium serpentine, a variegated rock found in Marin County and designated as the official rock of California.

Novato Convalescent Hospital Wins Nod

A $1 million, 185-bed convalescent hospital in Novato was approved and a 99-bed general hospital in Northgate Industrial Park rejected Monday night by the Marin County Health Facilities Planning Commission.

The Novato facility would be built by Novato Investment Co. and operated by Hy-Lond Hospital Inc. of Sonoma, Alfred C. Bangert, commission chairman, reported. It is planned for a five-acre tract in Novato about five blocks from London House, 820 Tamalpais Avenue, another convalescent hospital operated by Hy-Lond.

The general hospital plans were presented by the Marin Medical Foundation, a group which now operates two convalescent hospitals in Marin.

Bangert said the proposed hospital was to be known as Redwood General Hospital and was intended for a five-acre plot at the industrial park.

Bangert said plans for it were not approved because present expansion plans of other hospitals will meet the needs for beds for at least five years because the state hospital plan holds that additions to existing hospitals should be encouraged before new ones are started to avoid duplication and expense; because the hospital is close to another general hospital which has plans for expansion; because the land is insufficient for proposed expansion to 300 beds and because plans as presented were not as comprehensive in services as a general hospital should be.

The commission also agreed to work in conjunction with the Bay Area Health Facilities Planning Commission in implementing comprehensive health planning, and adopted a work manual to use as a basis for a master health facilities plan for Marin.

Boyle Park Projects Atop List

Boyle Park was given top development priority over the Mill Valley small craft harbor by the Five-Year-Plan Committee of the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission Monday night.

The city's five-year park development plan was reviewed by commission members Richard J. Young and James Rutledge and Parks and Recreation Director Don Dimitratos. The committee also agreed to rename itself the Three-Year-Plan Committee, Dimitratos reported. He said the development of neighborhood parks and construction of a restroom in Boyle Park, listed as top priority projects in the five-year-plan, have been completed, leaving only Boyle Park and the small craft harbor areas, including the city's portion of Project 17, for development.

The plan was adopted by the parks and recreation commission two years ago.

Projects remaining to be completed at Boyle are the children's playground, picnic and parking areas and an additional tennis court. The small craft harbor area is undeveloped.

Rutledge will report on the committee's recommendation at the parks and recreation committee meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the Mill Valley Library board room.

Plea Of Innocent To Check Charges

George Michael Stiltner, 20, pleaded innocent in Marin Superior Court yesterday to two felony counts of having completed checks in his possession with intent to defraud other persons.

Jury trial was scheduled for the week of Sept. 23. Stiltner, of Novato, is accused of having the checks May 9.

Novato Collision Injures Five; Driver Cited

Three adults and two children were injured in an accident in Novato, with the driver of one car cited for hit-and-run driving, police reported yesterday.

James William Helmer, 49, of Sacramento, eastbound on Center Road, made a left turn at Story Book Court about 9 p.m. Sunday, and collided with a car driven by Dennis Dionigi Galloti, 37, of 55 Stanford Court, Novato, according to police.

Helmer left the scene of the accident and was later found at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Helmer at 779 Story Book Court, according to police. He was taken to Novato General Hospital where he was reported by the hospital in good condition with a fractured right arm, today.

Marjo Ann Winters, 37, of Sacramento, at first said she was driving Helmer's car, but later changed her story, according to police.

Their children, Dennis Jr., 8, and Elizabeth, 10, received bruises and were treated and released from the hospital. Another daughter, Margaret, 6, was uninjured.

Regular meeting of the board will be held July 1 instead of July 4 due to the holiday.

The board regularly meets at 7:30 p.m. on first Thursdays at the firehouse on Tiburon Boulevard.

Trevino Skips Tourney To Ponder Financial Offers

TORONTO (AP) — An aura of mystery surrounded the disappearance of Lee Trevino from the scene of the Canadian Open Golf Championship yesterday morning and became more bewildering later in the day.

Trevino, of El Paso, Tex., was reported to have withdrawn from the 72-hole tournament because of the serious illness of his daughter. It was later learned, however, the child had only a slight cold and Trevino wanted time to review a series of financial offers received following his U.S. Open victory.

Trevino arrived here Monday to practice for the Open, which starts tomorrow and ends Sunday. He was fresh from his victory in the U.S. Open the previous day and the toast of the town when he arrived.

A band was on hand to welcome his arrival and Trevino predicted he would add the Canadian title to his U.S. Championship after playing an 18-hole practice round.

But he boarded a plane for home early yesterday morning and it was hours before anyone would comment on his sudden departure. Finally, a Professional Golfers Association official said Trevino had formally withdrawn from the tournament because of the illness of his 3-year-old daughter.

VIRUS

Early yesterday afternoon, Danny O'Neil, representing Trevino, told a news conference that the El Paso professional had withdrawn because his daughter had contracted a virus and was running a fever in the neighborhood of 100 degrees.

"Lee wanted to play here more than anything else in the world," said O'Neil. "He was certain he could win it and, besides, he wants to play golf seven days a week."

But late yesterday afternoon a story reporting Trevino's arrival in El Paso placed a different light on the matter.

The story said he would take a week's rest and review the flood of financial offers that have flowed in since his U.S. Open victory. The story also said his daughter had only a slight cold.

Trevino said he will rejoin the PGA tour in two weeks for the Cleveland Open.

AND A BAND

The El Paso story said that 600 persons and a band greeted Trevino on arrival. There were city and county citations, a cake, a medal and a motorcade waiting for him.

Trevino's name has been withdrawn from the list of 147 professionals and three amateurs in the Open, which carries total prize money of $125,000 and and a first-place purse of $25,000.

Three other withdrawals were also announced before the starting draw was completed yesterday. U.S. professionals Bob Goalby and Gay Brewer decided not to play. Goalby is suffering from a shoulder injury and Brewer's daughter was reported to be undergoing surgery.

Practically every big-name golfer on the U.S. circuit is here for the tournament over the par-70, 6,792-yard St. George's Golf Club layout.

Billy Casper played an 18-hole practice round yesterday, although he did not keep score. Arnold Palmer arrived late in the day and played 11 holes—the first 10 and the 18th. Jack Nicklaus was scheduled to arrive today.

Also here are three-time winner Sam Snead, two-time winners Doug Ford and Jim Ferrier, Gary Player of South Africa and Tony Jacklin of England.

JIM GILMARTIN

No Place On Field For The Head Man

LITTLE LEAGUE — I don't mean to belittle the Continental Football League, but I was amused to read a recent news release that portrayed the so-called professional circuit as a Mickey Mouse operation.

The Associated Press story out of Charlestown, W. Va., said: "Former National Football League back Billy Barnes was named head coach of the Charleston Rockets to the Continental Football League, succeeding Sam Fernandez, who was made an assistant.

The move will enable Fernandez, also Rockets general manager, to continue playing as linebacker."

DON AHERN

Now to fully understand the significance of that announcement, let us present some hypothetical situations pertaining to San Francisco teams, to wit:

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Charles "Chub Feeney was named president of the Giants today, succeeding Horace C. Stoneham, who was made his assistant.

Or, try this one on for size.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Jack White was named president of the 49ers today, succeeding Lou Spadia, who was made an assistant.

The move enabled Spadia to continue playing right guard.

An Assistant To Humphrey

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey was named president of the United States today, succeeding Lyndon B. Johnson, who was made an assistant.

The move will enable Johnson, also the supreme commander of the Armed Forces, to continue fighting with the infantry in Vietnam.

I think if the Continental League wants to achieve major league status they'd better keep those front office men off the field.

DON'T FENCE ME IN — Don Ahern of Novato, a 1964 grad of San Rafael High and son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Ahern, was graduated from the U.S. Air Force Academy recently with honors in fencing. He captained the Falcon sabre team and finished his career with a 33-12 won-lost record, which is pretty sharp, if you get the point, you gay blades, you.

OH, BOY! — Novato High football-golf coach Al Scott is distributing cigars this week after his wife, Mary Ann, gave birth to an eight-pound, eight-ounce son at 2:14 p.m. Sunday at St. Mary's Hospital, S.F. Kenneth Albert Scott, who should be a terrific halfback, has two older cheerleaders in the family, Lisa Ann, 5, and Stefanie Ann, 2½.

And while we're visiting the heirport, the 49ers' George Donnelly and Tommy Davis also are new members of the stork club. Their wives recently presented them with sons.

Airplanes, Ships Look For Lost Yachtsman

LONDON (AP) — Ships and aircraft scoured the Atlantic today for a French yachtsman drifting in a rubber dinghy after abandoning his yacht on the singlehanded trans-Atlantic race.

As the search went on, bitter argument was revived among yachtsmen over multi-hulled craft, many saying they're unsafe.

Jean De Kat, 27, messaged yesterday that he was abandoning his 50-foot trimaran Yaksha in heavy seas about 600 miles west of Ireland. He reported his mast and rudder were broken and one of the yacht's three parallel hulls was torn away.

Weather ships, freighters, the 25,000-ton liner Empress of Britain and British Atlantic Patrol planes from Northern Ireland converged on the spot. The first report of wreckage came from the Dutton, a U.S. Navy ballistic missile support ship.

Search experts directing the Royal Air Force's Shackleton Patrol planes rated De Kat's survival chance as good provided visibility held and he had been able to get his dinghy's cover up.

Trimarans' great virtue is speed. Even in moderate breezes a multihull can reach up to 20 knots because instead of heeling it stays upright and the sails catch up in the wind.

But in heavy weather the risk of capsize is high and the strain on the bridge between the parallel hulls immense.

Conventional Yachts, though their speed seldom exceeds 10 knots, are less prone to capsize. Even if they are knocked down by squalls their heavy ballast keels are usually enough to right them again.

A's Lose Close One; Giants Bombed

Oakland To See Bunker

OAKLAND (UPI) — Wally Bunker, a local hero of sorts who has fallen on bad times, makes his first big league start of the season for the Baltimore Orioles tonight at 7:30 in their final game of five-game series with the Oakland A's.

Jim "Catfish" Hunter, winner of half of his 10 decisions this year, including a perfect game, pitches for the A's who dropped a 3-2 decision to the Orioles last night and thereby lost a chance to go over the .500 mark for the first time since May 8 when they were 13-12.

The Orioles, who snapped a five-game losing streak to cling to second place in the American League race, won the game in the eighth when the A's infield missed a double play.

WIN IN EIGHTH

Andy Etchebarren led off the inning with a single, advanced to second on a sacrifice, to third on a short single to right and scored as Fred Valentine grounded to short. Bert Campaneris flipped to John Donaldson to nail Don Buford at second but Donaldson's relay to first failed to catch Valentine by an eyelash.

The Orioles had tied the score at 2-2 in the seventh on Brooks Robinson's two run homer after the A's staked Jim Nash to a 2-0 lead in the sixth.

NASH LOSES

Rick Monday, the A's leading hitter, doubled after two out and Tom Phoebus, the eventual winner, hit Sal Bando and walked Reggie Jackson to fill the bases. Mike Hershberger then came through with a two-run single.

Jim Nash took the loss, his fifth in 10 decisions and his first since May 17. When B. Robinson homered off him in the seventh Nash's consecutive scoreless inning string was snapped at 23.

Phoebus was on rocky feet in the eighth but worked his way out of a jam. Monday tripled leading off the inning and the A's seemed a cinch to tie the score. But Phoebus got Bando on a grounder to short, struck out Jackson and then retired Webster on a grounder to second after walking Hershberger.

FINAL CHANCE

When Dave Duncan led off the A's ninth with a single and Phoebus wild pitched him to second, Pete Rickert came on to get pinch-hitter Danny Cater to line into a doubleplay and after Campaneris singled, he got Donaldson on a force.

Bunker, Rookie Of The Year in 1964 when he posted a 19-5 record for Baltimore, was called up from the minors on Monday. He was sent down to work his way back after a seizure of arm trouble and wildness at Rochester of the International League. Bunker started 10 games and posted a 6-1 record with a 2.70 earned run average.

Buchholz, Riessen Triumph In London Tennis Tourney

LONDON (AP) — Earl Buchholz of St. Louis and Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., blazed to third round victories today in the London Grass Court Open Tennis Championship at Queen's Club.

Buchholz, a professional, defeated Frank Sedgman of Australia, 6-3, 6-2, and amateur Riessen downed Antonio Palafox of Mexico, 6-0, 5-7, 8-6.

Other winners in today's play included pro Roy Emerson of Australia who defeated Ron Holmberg of Highland Falls, N.Y., 6-3, 11-9.

In women's early action, Mrs. J. De Plooy of South Africa ousted Mary Ann Eisel of St. Louis, 6-3, 6-4, but Stephanie De Fina of Hollywood, Fla., defeated Mrs. Bill Bowery of Australia, 6-4, 6-4.

Clark Graebner, the bespectacled tennis star from New York City, pulled off the big upset yesterday when he defeated Australian professional Fred Stolle, 6-4, 11-9.

Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., was defeated by Tom Okker of the Netherlands, 1-6, 6-3, 6-4, yesterday. Another U.S. Davis Cup star, Cliff Richey of San Angelo, Tex., lost to Australia's Bill Bowery, 6-4, 6-3.

Stolle just couldn't find an answer to Graebner's booming service. The Australian managed only 19 points in Graebner's 25 service games.

If Spain wins the European "A" zone of the Davis Cup it will have to face the United States on a concrete court at Cleveland, Ohio. Then it will be Manuel Santana's turn to face Graebner's service.

Don Dell of Bethesda, Md., non-playing captain of the American team, said: "I have no compunction about playing the Inter-zone finals on a fast court. In Clark Graebner and Arthur Ashe we have the players to take advantage of it."

Raiders Sign Back

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Raiders said today they have signed their No. 7 draft choice, George Atkinson. He is a 6-2, 185 pound defensive back and Southern Conference All-Star from Morris Brown in Atlanta. He's a 9.7 sprinter.

Marichal Gets Call For S.F.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Juan Marichal, who won but 14 games last year, goes after number 13 tonight against the Philadelphia Phillies with well over half of this season's contests yet to be played.

The San Francisco Giants high-kicking right-hander, who has lost only two games, will oppose Larry Jackson, 6-6, as he tries to end the team's three-game losing streak.

BOMBED

Two of them came last night as the Phillies blasted the Giants 10-2 and 9-1 behind the pitching of southpaws Woody Fryman, 10-5, and Chris Short, 5-7, and two home runs each by Richie Allen and Cookie Rojas.

Rojas' second homer of the evening and seventh of the year sent the Phils ahead to stay in the third inning of the second game and they pulled away to a 5-0 lead with a four-run burst in the fifth.

Ricardo Joseph drove in one run with a single. Tony Gonzalez tripled home two more and Tony Taylor's run-scoring single ompleted the uprising.

MORE RELAXED

Gonzalez, who's played every game since the Phillies got their new manager, Bob Skinner, has hit in seven straight contests.

"I'm much more relaxed knowing I'm going to play every day. When I don't, I get tight and I lose my timing," he said.

Tony Taylor also drove in another run in the sixth with a single, chasing Giants' starter Mike McCormick, 5-9. Roberto Pena greeted reliever Ron Herbel with a run-producing single

Westrnm Prediction Coming True For Mets

PHILADELPHIA — Wes Westrum recalled a prediction he made this spring aboutt he New York Mets. He had predicted a possible first division finish for them.

"They no longer are patsies," said the man who was Casey Stengel's right hand man when the Ol' Perfesser was running things in Shea Stadium.

Westrum, now back with the Giants as first base coach, ran the Met shop after the perfesser retired. So he had intimate knowledge of what he was talking about.

Tom Seaver was a walkaway winner of the National League's Rookie of the Year honors last season but even before the 1967 campaign started Westrum predicted a brilliant career for him.

It came as no surprise to Westrum that Seaver finished his rookie year with an amazing 16-13 record. No Met pitcher ever before won that many games.

"SEAVER," said Westrum at the outset of the 1967 season, "is the greatest pitcher the Mets ever signed."

Now that Jerry Koosman is off to an even greater season than Seaver enjoyed, Westrum is willing to revise that statement.

"Seaver and Koosman are the greatest pitchers the Mets ever signed," said Westrum.

KOOSMAN, a breezing winner over the Giants for his 10th victory, can't miss duplicating Seaver's Rookie of the Year triumph if he has just reasonable success against the rest of the league. Against the Giants he looks like Sandy Koufax. In 23 innings this year the Giants have touched him for only one earned run.

Seaver and Koosman are the one-two punch of the Mets. But they aren't all the Mets now throw at the enemy. There's Dick Selma, who was Seaver's teammate at Fresno High, and there also is Nolan Ryan, the Texan overlooked by everyone except the Mets in the 1965 draft.

AMONG THEM, Seaver, Koosman, Selma and Ryan have won all of the Met victories this season except a couple picked up in relief by Ron Taylor and Alvin Jackson. The four young men who brought respectability to the Mets already have completed a score of games this season and the All-Star break is still three weeks away.

Until they came along the Mets rarely got a complete game out of a starter. There always was an interminable parade of pitchers to the mound.

SUPPOSE THE METS do climb into the first division? Will the young pitchers, now enjoying such spectacular success, remain loose? It's one thing pitching for a second division club from which nobody expects miracles.

But just suppose that club does make the first division and Shea Stadium fans begin to take the Mets seriously, what then? Will the brilliant young pitchers bend under the pressure and tighten up?

Angels' Paul Schaal Through For Season?

BOSTON (UPI)—A spokesman at the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary says Paul Schaal might be lost to the California Angels for the rest of the season.

The Angel third baseman was struck in the head by a pitched ball in a game at Boston last week by Jose Santiago of the Red Sox.

NOT CERTAIN

"There is no prognosis for this season," the spokesman said. "The doctor is not certain, and there is no way to determine it at this particular time."

The spokesman continued, "A lot will depend on the way he recovers in the next couple of weeks. He certainly will be able to play next season but we'll have to see during the next few weeks about this season."

Schaal, 25, will not undergo surgery, according to Dr. John Kirkjian, who has been treating the infielder since he was transferred from Santa Maria Hospital in nearby Cambridge.

DIZZINESS

Dr. Kirkjian said Schaal still was suffering from dizziness.

The spokesman said the infielder would remain at the infirmary "at least for the next week—maybe more."

Schaal suffered a fractured skull, punctured eardrum and damage to his inner ear when he was hit on the back of the head last Thursday as he turned away from a fast ball.

He did not lose consciousness. Schaal is hitting .212 this season.

Two New Managers Do Double-Takes

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Harry Walker and Bob skinner, baseball's newest managers, did double-takes last night but it was the New York Mets and San Francisco Giants who couldn't believe their eyes.

The Houston Astros, who had lost six straight games and fallen deep into the National League cellar, made Walker's first day a rousing success by sweeping a twi-night doubleheader from the Mets 3-2 and 6-5.

Skinner, who succeeded Gene Mauch as Philadelphia skipper on Sunday, got his first two victories as the Phillies walloped the Giants in a twi-nighter 10-2 and 9-1.

Elsewhere, league-leading St. Louis edged the Chicago Cubs 1-0, Cincinnati defeated Atlanta 7-5 and Pittsburgh nipped Los Angeles in 10 innings 3-2.

"You can't do a lot of things at this stage," Walker said after replacing Grady Hatton at the Houston helm yesterday afternoon. One of the things the Astros have almost always been able to do in the seven years of their existence is beat the Mets.

They won the opener on Jim Wynn's seventh-inning homer and took the nightcap on Bob Watson's seventh-inning sacrifice fly after blowing a 5-0 lead. Ironically, Watson had replaced Wynn after the Houston slugger aggravated a groin injury.

Denny Lemaster hurled a six-hitter in the opener, fanning 10, and rookie Jim Ray picked up his first major league victory in the second game with six innings of shutout relief.

Skinner, like Walker a former hard-hitting big league outfielder, was managing the Phillies' San Diego farm team in the Pacific Coast League when he was tapped to replace Mauch. He lost his debut to the Dodgers but looked on in delight last night as the Phils pounded out 13 hits in each game, posted their first doubleheader sweep since last August and climbed into third place.

Mack Jones turned on his former Atlanta teammates by crashing a two-run homer in the ninth inning that powered the Reds past the Braves. Pete Rose cracked five straight hits for the Reds, including three doubles, while rookie catcher Johnny Bench batted in two runs with a homer and double.

Bobby Tolan's first homer of the season and Nelson Briles' eight-hit pitching carried the Cardinals past the Cubs. The Cards increased their lead to 5½ games over Atlanta in winning for the 17th time in their last 21 games.

Matty Alou's run-scoring single in the 10th inning scored Maury Wills from second base and gave Pittsburgh its seventh straight win and put the Pirates in a virtual tie for sixth place.

and Fryman lashed a two-run double.

Richie Allen smacked two bases-empty homers, a double and single and scored three runs as Short breezed past the Giants in the opener with a seven-hitter.

EACH SIDE

Allen's first homer went over the left field roof, his second over the right field roof. Rojas drilled a two-run homer for the Phils while solo shots by Willie McCovey and Jim Hart accounted for San Francisco's runs.

BOATING

By STAN DAVIES

Dawn Of A New Era— The Two-Boat Family

The day of the two-car family has come and gone, but all indications are that 1968 will see the growth of the two-BOAT family . . . and it looks like the second boat will carry sails.

The boom in sailing — the recreational phenomenon of the past two years — undoubtedly is the result of the discovery that what used to be an expensive and exciting sport is now a relatively cheap and exciting sport.

One reason for the change in attitude is the change in sailboats themselves. It used to be that owning a sailboat automatically meant joining a yacht club. Nowadays many sailboat enthusiasts have their own yacht club in their backyard and trailer their boats to any water they like.

ALSO SAILBOATS are now faster and more exciting to handle. They plane and skim over the water like power boats. They have simplified rigging that doesn't require a large crew to handle, and, above all, they are now made of sophisticated materials that make them cheaper and within the reach of more people. These materials also make the making easier and the maintaining effortless.

If you are as bored with power boats as many people are, the next logical step is to try sailing. You'll discover an exhilaration that power boating can't give and a sense of accomplishment that can be surpassed only by learning to fly.

WHY NOT get started? Here are a couple of small starter boats that are good ones for beginners to buy or build.

The Sunfish has a single sail rig, but the others are slightly more sophisticated and have two sails.

All have removable or pivoting centerboards, and rudders which lift up in shallow water so you can land or take off at a beach. You can store any of these boats in your garage or trail it easily from beach to beach. When you come to buy your first boat, look for these qualities:

A HULL of glass fiber (which needs practically no maintenance) or of plywood (which needs only a yearly paint or varnish job — no caulking or extensive refastening).

Sails made of synthetic fabrics.

A mast and boom rigged with slots or tracks, so that the sails are easy to put on and take off.

EVEN THOUGH the new boats are easy to master, it's still a good idea to go sailing with a knowledgeable friend to learn the fundamentals before you sail alone. And just so you will at least understand sailing jargon, get a good fundamental guide.

A good text is Royce's "Sailing Illustrated" . . . It's loaded with drawings and sketches that make understanding the sport simple.

There's one thing about the boats described here. Most of them are class boats that may be entered in races against others of their class . . . once you have learned to handle them.

SUNFISH

Material: glass fiber. Length: 13 feet 10 inches. Beam: 4½ feet. Weight: 139 pounds. Capacity: Two adults. Sail area: 75 square feet.

Sunfish has a small cockpit and two-boom sail running across the mast. The standard flip-up rudder makes it easy to launch or land at a beach. But you need warm weather and warm water for these boats because you sit so close to the waves and often get wet. (Better wear a life jacket — the old hands do.)

If you capsize — and most beginners do — these boats are so easy to right you don't even need to bother with the messy business of lowering the sail when it's in the water. Sunfish, and its bigger brother Sailfish, are light enough (between 82 and 142 pounds lbs. in various models from 11 ft. 7 in. up to 13 ft. 10 in.) that you can easily put them on top of the car or stow them in the garage for the winter.

Y-FLYER

Material: Plywood. Length: 18 ft. Beam: 5 ft. 8 in. Weight: 500 lbs. Capacity: Four adults. Sail area: 161 sq. ft. Developed by Alvin Youngquist of Toledo, Ohio, to provide an exciting small lake sailer for his son, the blunt, flat-bottomed Y-Flyers are especially popular on small shallow water everywhere. The Y-Flyer has a simple box section than an amateur can build easily.

Harnquist New Face In TOC

Don't be too surprised if you haven't heard of Ken Harnquist in Marin County golf circles.

Harnquist, who will represent the host San Geronimo Club in the Marin Golf Tournament of Champions, is in a queasy position.

He is not even club champion, since San Geronimo titlist Les Sherman is unable to play and he is not exactly a deeply imbedded native of Marin County.

"It's not great being second-best," the 38-year-old Ross man said. "But I'll be doing my best."

"I can't ever tell what I'm going to do," he said. "I used to think I was a pretty good putter. But now, one week I take 27 putts, the next 38. It's unpredictable."

Harnquist, who works for a computer firm in Palo Alto, will have the home court advantage, so to speak, but even he has not been burning with activity of late, like many of the other entrants.

"I haven't played much lately," he said. "I've been too busy remodeling our house. My game isn't what it should be. I think I've played about a dozen times this year."

Harnquist is a Midwestern (Illinois) transplant, by way of Southern California and has lived in Marin since 1963.

He likes San Geronimo because it's challenging.

"It's a beautiful course," he said. "It's long and tough. It's challenging. That's why I like it."

Harnquist is a five handicapper, lowest in the San Geronimo club. He's a golfer with college experience at Rockford, Ill. This tourney will be a new thing, a slight departure from weekend golfing.

"I think it's something you get used to," he said. "It's one thing shooting around and then getting used to the pressure of a tournament like this."

Pitchers Get A Helping Hand

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Helping hands gave Cleveland's Sam McDowell and Baltimore's Tom Phoebus the means to an end. Helping themselves got the Washington Senators nowhere.

Stan Williams pitched a perfect ninth inning to nail McDowell's 4-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox and Pete Richert protected Phoebus' 3-2 nod over Oakland in the ninth as the Indians and Orioles pulled out of embarrassing tailspins last night.

The Senators exploded for eight runs in the last two innings at Minnesota, twice overtaking the torrid Twins, but still came up on the short end of a 9-8 count that ran their losing string to seven games.

First place Detroit edged Boston 2-1 and California subdued the New York Yankees 3-1 behind rookie Tom Murphy in other American League games.

McDowell, Cleveland's southpaw strikeout king, braked the Indians' skid after seven straight losses, striking out seven and yielding six hits before giving way to Williams in the ninth. McDowell, 7-5, had a four-hit shutout until the Sox scored in the eighth on a walk and singles by Ken Berry and Wayne Causey.

The Indians did all their scoring in the sixth against Gary Peters, Max Alvis' two-run single capping the rally.

Washington, trailing 4-0 with two out in the eighth, struck for six runs—two on Frank Howard's 23rd homer and the last three on Paul Casanova's first of the year.

But Ted Uhlaender slammed a three-run homer in the bottom of the inning, giving the Twins a 7-6 edge. Back came the Senators on RBI singles by Ken McMullen and Mike Epstein in the ninth for an 8-7 lead.

Then Rich Rollins singled with one out in the Twins' ninth and Frank Quilici tripled him home before scoring the winning run as Cesar Tovar grounded to second baseman Bernie Allen, who bobbled the ball and missed his chance for a play at the plate.

Quilici, surfacing for the first time since he played a key role in the Twins 1965 pennant drive, has stroked eight hits—five of them for extra bases—in 22 at-bats, a .364 clip.

The victory, fifth in a row for the Twins, left them in fourth place—one-half game back of Cleveland, one behind Baltimore and nine off Detroit's pace.

The Tigers rolled to the 12th victory in their last 15 starts behind Earl Wilson, who got ninth inning help from Pat Dobson and beat Boston for the seventh time in eight decisions since the Red Sox dealt him to Detroit two years ago.

Jim Northrup doubled home a first inning nrun off loser Jose Santiago, then singled in the sixth and eventually scored on a single by Willie Horton.

THE PENNEY STORY

Dear Sir: We believe you, but...

By ROBERTA NASH

"Of course we trust people who make what we sell," a technician in Penney's Testing Center said to me, "but we just can't take quality for granted.

"We have to doubt, doubt, doubt, and test, test, test . . . to make sure our customers get all the quality we promise."

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, June 19, the 171st day of 1968 with 195 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase.

The evening star is Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1912 the U.S. Government adopted the 8-hour day for all its employees.

In 1934 Congress created the Federal Communications Commission to regulate interstate communications by wire and radio, including radio and television broadcasting.

In 1967 United Arab Republican President Gamal Abdel Nasser named himself premier with complete power.

A thought for the day: Willa Cather once said, "There are all those early memories; one cannot get another set; one has only those."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

If A Player Knows How To Count, This Slam Bid Is An Easy Action

In the kingdom of the blind, the one-eyed bridge player wins most of the marbles. This is especially true if the one-eyed player knows how to count.

SOUTH RUFFS

West led the ten of diamonds, covered by the jack and queen. South ruffed, led a heart to dummy's ten and returned the queen of spades for a finesse. West gratefully scooped up the king of spades and shifted to a club. Down one.

Every reader can see that South could have captured the king of spades by playing the ace, but how could South know that the king was unguarded? Do the remarks about one-eyed players mean that South should peek into the West hand? Not at all. Actually, even a blind player should make this slam.

READ EAST HAND

The first trick shows that East started with the ace-queen of diamonds. West would not open away from the ace of diamonds, particularly against a slam.

At the second trick South should lead the queen of clubs. When East shows up with the ace of clubs, South knows that West has the king of spades. East would not pass (particularly in third position) if he had ace-queen of diamonds, ace of clubs and the king of spades.

LEAD ACE

Once South has discovered that East cannot possibly have the king of spades there is no advantage in finessing. He should lead the ace of spades and close his eyes. When he opens them, he will discover the king of spades on the trick and a warm smile on his partner's face.

DAILY QUESTION

Dealer opens with one club, and the next player passes.

What do you say?

Answer: Double.

If partner responds in diamonds, which is likely, you will make a jump rebid in spades. You want to get to game unless partner has a really ghastly hand.

Battling Sarge Doesn't Forget

Addressed to Mrs. Lula Crain, it read: "Happy Easter, Mother Dear — Love, Your Son."

The ad was placed by Marine Sgt. J. R. Cowan, who had written the newspaper and explained that he couldn't find a conventional Easter greeting card where he was.

At the time, Cowan was participating in the fighting around Khe Sanh in South Vietnam.

OLD MISTAKE PAYS OFF

Way back in 1904 a waffle baker at the St. Louis World's Fair rolled up a waffle that had gone wrong, filled it with ice cream — and invented the ice cream cone! This boon to the ice cream industry has become ever more popular, and new home consumption ideas such as Nabisco's take-home, nested dozen displayed by a New York model, have boosted this year's pace 6 per cent over last year's record sales. Computer Leasing Trade A Vulnerable Operation

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Could you give me your opinion of Levin-Townsend Computer? Also what about Brunswick, the only "dog" in my $70,000 portfolio? — B.K.

A. Considering the size of your portfolio, I would say you were exceedingly astute to hold only one loser. And I might add that Brunswick now appears to be on the "road to recovery." A broader product base coupled with increasing personal income in the United States have improved sales and profits. Bowling products, now accounting for about one-fifth of sales volume, are supplemented by other sporting goods, boats and motors and medical supplies.

As to your first question, Levin-Townsend Computer is certainly one of the most attractive of the computer-leasing companies. However, there are certain drawbacks in this field that an investor should understand fully before committing any funds in this relatively young industry. Data-processing equipment, which Levin purchases from IBM, must be leased continually for six to seven years in order to recover initial cost. Since average length of lease is two to three years, each machine has to be leased two or more times. Unfortunately for leasing companies, one of the characteristics of the computer industry is rapid obsolescence. This means the possibility of machines becoming outmoded and thus unleasable prior to becoming profitable.

Levin, however, is making efforts to spread its risks by expanding into other areas. Earnings have moved ahead rapidly with another excellent gain expected in 1968-69 figures. At the end of this month, stockholders will vote on a 3-for-2 split, which will be accompanied by a dividend increase. An option to buy 74 per cent of the common stock of Exquisite Form has been negotiated by Levin. This will combine the two companies' interests in Florida land.

Because of the very real possibility of a breakthrough in the computer industry causing a major problem of obsolescence for Levin, this issue should be considered only by those who are well able to afford a risk.

United Air Lines Plans Major Bay Area Spending

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—President G.E. Keck of United Air Lines announced a $160 million expansion program yesterday for its San Francisco engineering and maintenance base, already the largest facility of its kind in the world.

The announcement was made in a joint news conference with Mayor Joseph L. Alioto.

"This is a good strong economic development which may help solve some of the social problems in the Bay Area which beset us," Alioto said.

The UAL's $44 million installation near San Francisco International Airport will be enlarged to accommodate the line's growing subsonic jet fleet and future supersonic aircraft, Keck said.

Keck estimated $100 million will be spent for construction, tooling and equipment by the end of 1971. This will be followed by further expansion totaling $25 million in 1972-75 and $35 million in 1976-80.

"These are firm plans," Keck said. "There are no ifs and ands about them."

The program will increase the company payroll in the Bay Area, where 12,000 now are employed by UAL with an annual payroll of $108 million.

"We expect a combined personnel total of about 24,000 for San Francisco, Oakland and San Jose by 1975," Keck said. "Based on current dollars, the yearly payroll will amount to $216 million. The forecast for 1980 is 32,000 employees and a payroll of $228 million."

Major items in the expansion program include an $11 million hangar and adjacent five-story office building, a $34 million expansion of the turbine jet repair facility, a $15 million enlargement of the present main shop and office building, a $5 million plant maintenance and medical building, a $2 million jet engine test cell, a new cafeteria and additional ground equipment.

The plans, Keck said, were based on a contemplated UAL fleet of 618 jet aircraft by 1980.

Public Accountants Urged To Improve Their Reports

FRESNO (UPI) — Delegates to the annual meeting of the California Society of Certified Public Accountants today were urged to stop talking and take action to improve reports to investors.

"The time has come to stop debating comparability, uniformity and other irrelevant phases that only obscure the painstaking requirements for progress," said Leroy Layton, chairman of the Accounting Principles Board.

He said the process for development must deal with the specific alternative reporting procedures which have become available to management, and must examine circumstances surrounding each.

Monday, Karney Brasfield, Washington, D.C., told delegates the recent trend of government to rely on the CPA to audit billions of dollars being spent on Medicare and other new social programs is going to help safeguard effective use of taxpayers' funds.

Reed Trustees Worry Over Budget Increase

Trustees of Reed School District last night approved a budget of $2,051,607 but expressed concern over the rising costs of the district's educational program.

A special meeting was set for 8 p.m. on July 16 at Del Mar School to discuss setting up a citizens committee to study possibilities of either decreasing the program or increasing the tax rate, or both, in the 1969-1970 budget.

Expenses of $1,981,661 next year were estimated at 13 per cent more than this year's figure of $1,754,670, according to Asst. Supt. William G. Vanasen.

No salary raises were included for teachers or principals, except for automatic step raises. Neither was a raise provided for Supt. H. Joe Edgington, whose salary is $19,425.

Vanasen's salary was raised from $7,750 to $8,750. Edgington said he was the lowest paid assistant superintendent in the county.

The budget allowed for hiring of five new teachers at $8,500 each, several library and clerical aides at $22,200 and teacher aides at $20,209. Teachers' salaries this year totaled $1,075,712. Vanasen said teachers retiring and being replaced would offset each other to keep the total about the same for 1968-69.

An additional bus trip added $3,000 to the cost of busing pupils to schools. The addition of one full-time and one part-time custodian added $5,840.

Total maintenance of schools was figured at $42,700, up by $13,895 from last year's $28,805.

There were decreases of $1,920 figured for site improvements and of $3,365 for capital outlay.

Cuts were made in the budget to arrive at a salary of $15,000 for Lynn Jenks, director of research, who was previously paid by federal and private funds. Trims were $3,700 from general administration, $300 from office supplies and gasoline. Salaries for playground supervision and outdoor education were decreased by $3,850. Salary for a proposed crossing guard at Reed School was eliminated at $1,500 and $100 for ground supplies. A total of $1,400 was chopped from maintenance, $3,000 from proposed figures for lights, benches, architectural fees and equipment for Del Mar School, and $1,150 was taken from undistributed reserve funds.

An estimated raise of 11 per cent in property assessment values was figured into the budget. Trustees did not anticipate a rise in the present 3.375 per $100 assessed valuation tax rate for the district because of operating expenses but expected it would be raised 20 or 30 cents due to a bond issue of $1,600,000 passed last June for the construction of Reedland Woods School and an addition at Granada School.

Trustee Leo Souza suggested the board hold a meeting before final adoption of the budget in August to discuss the rising total and how to meet it in the 1969-70 school year. With a reserve fund of $70,296 and increasing costs, he was concerned the district would run out of money before the end of the 1968-69 school year. "Something's got to give," he said.

Vanasen estimated the district might overspend its budget by as much as $100,000.

"It is a pessimistic picture and every year it's going to get worse unless some kind of relief comes along," Edgington agreed.

The district maintains a 25-to-1-pupil-teacher ratio, tries to hire highly qualified teachers and otherwise to maintain a high standard of education, board chairman James B. Atkin commented. He said the budget could not be revised without either changing the program or raising the tax rate or both.

An answer will be sought in the July 16 meeting.

Reed School District Trustees Also:

JOINT PARK — Put off a decision on an agreement with the City of Tiburon for joint use of a proposed park to be developed on district land, behind the district office, until further information is prepared by Edgington.

PERSONNEL CHANGES — Accepted resignations from Mrs. Helen M. McMillan, Granada School teacher; Mrs. Carol Robles, district receptionist and bookkeeper and Mrs. Pauline Spangenberg, library clerk at Del Mar School. Approved hiring of teachers Ann Burke at $6,100 and John Lisanti at $10,600, both for Granada School. Granted a child-care leave to Mrs. Corinne Greenfield for the next school year.

Bagley Bridge Bill Passes Assembly, Goes To Senate

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Legislation to force the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District to seek competitive bids on all work over $5,000 yesterday was approved 69-0 by the Assembly and sent to the Senate.

The author of the bill (AB 855), Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, said it would help bring the bridge district "back within the realm of governmental morality."

He said he drew up the bill after the bridge board approved a $320,000 subcontract without competitive bidding. Bridge directors maintained the subcontract was for an inspection, even though it would replace rusted suspension cables.

Bagley charged before the Assembly that the board's action was part of a "continuing pattern of callousness that we in the Legislature have to stop."

The bill would require competitive bids for "all contracts for construction, repair, maintenance and alteration, and all similar work." Present law specifies competitive bids for "construction and repair."

Bagley previously asserted that the district's attorney had used "deliberately warped legal reasoning" to justify the subcontract.

Draft Call For August Is Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon announced today an August draft call of 18,300 men for the Army, a slight increase over the July quota.

The August call will support "currently approved force levels and will assure a timely flow of replacements for men completing their terms of service," the announcement said.

The new quota compared with the 15,000-man call in July, the lowest since May 1967.

The peak for this year came in April when 48,000 men were ordered inducted into the Army and the Marine Corps.

Prison Hospital Escapees Back To Face Charges

SAN LUIS OBISPO (AP) — Two escapees from Atascadero State Hospital, originally admitted for psychiatric observation, have been returned and now face a myriad of charges, police said.

Gerard Gallant, 28, and George Quinlan, 25, both of Los Angeles, broke out of the institution May 26. They were captured two weeks ago in Fremont, Ohio, and were returned yesterday to the state institute for the criminally insane.

Gallant and Quinlan took four hostages when they escaped—two male guards and two female nurses. The guards were later stabbed and the women were freed by the pair.

The escapees waived extradition in Ohio and were brought back by two deputy sheriffs.

Firemen, Police Get Pay Hikes

OAKLAND (AP)—An 8.7 per cent wage increase has been voted for Oakland policemen and firemen.

The action was taken last night by the city council, which also approved a 6 per cent boost for other city employes.

An ordinance passed by the voters would have given police and firemen a pay raise of 4.39 per cent.

Courts ruled, however, that the ordinance merely set a minimum and not a maximum increase.

To Study Foam

The Tamalpais Fire Protection District board will watch a demonstration of a high expansion foam applicator by the Western Fire Co. at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow. A regular business meeting will follow the demonstration at the Tamalpais Valley firehouse, 309 Poplar Street.

Transit Problem Outweighs Town Issues At Corte Madera Session

The Corte Madera Town Council and the town's boards and commissions met last night at dinner at Bob's of Marin to discuss town problems and projects, but it was the countywide issue of transportation wgich drew the most attention from the group.

Mayor Edwards W. Colthurst, who is a member of the Marin Transit District board, said that "getting the bridge district into the bus business in Marin County would be an interim solution" for congestion on Highway 101.

The Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District could buy the equipment and Marin County could operate the system, Colthurst recommended.

He added that he thought that in a year or so that personality clashes between the district and the county would be resolved and such a plan might be considered.

In the meantime, Colthurst said that widening of Highway 101 in several places will do a great deal to alleviate traffic stalls.

Colthurst strongly recommended against Marin County trying to take over Greyhound's present bus service. "It would break the backs of Marin taxpayers," he said.

Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher told the group that the latest plan by San Anselmo developer Frank Burke to fill more than half of a 96-acre marshland parcel at the mouth of Corte Madera Creek is not acceptable to the council.

Usher said that Monday night the council instructed him to write to the Bay Conservation and Development Commission to say that Burke's proposal needs "master planning work" and that the proposed 40 acres of marshland preserve is too much.

Another parcel in the East Corte Madera tidelands on which Marin County Parks and Recreation Dir. Pierre Joske had proposed a park to be built on garbage fill was discussed by Colthurst.

He said he has told Joske "to hold off" until the town and the county come to an agreement about the property.

The council plans to discuss this with the Marin County Board of Supervisors at a joint meeting at 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday at town hall.

Other matters on that agenda will be the proposed regional library, Usher said last night, and the unincorporated "islands" in the Corte Madera area. Usher said that the library received preliminary approval from the supervisors yesterday.

Colthurst reported that he and Usher have met with owners of two large apartments on Meadowsweet Drive, presently not in the town limits, and that they want to come into the town. He said he wants co-operation from the county on this matter.

Usher told the group that "there is still merit" in the town's proposal for a merger with the Corte Madera Sanitary District. The Marin County local Agency Formation Commission had asked that a merger between the Corte Madera and Ross Valley sanitary districts be explored first, he explained.

This merger was voted down by both boards because of a wide difference in tax rates.

"About 9.6 per cent of the money now being spent by the sanitary district could be saved in a merger with the town," Usher said.

He added that the town has facilities for bookkeeping and minor repairs for which the sanitary district now contracts.

Bay Fill Loophole Bill Wins Assembly Boost

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill to forestall open season on bay fill won a "do pass'' recommendation yesterday from the Assembly Government Organization Committee.

The bill, by Sen. George Miller Jr., D-Martinez, would plug a loophole in the 1965 law which created the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission. The loophole is that BCDC's power over fill permits expires next January when it makes its final report to the 1969 Legislature.

Miller's bill would extend this power until 90 days after the final adjournment of the 1969 Legislature, thus providing time to enact new controls over bay fill.

The bill, which previously passed the Senate, now goes to the Assembly Ways and Means Committee, where prompt passage is predicted by the bill's supporters. From that committee, it would go to the Senate floor for final adoption.

The committee voted unanimously on a motion by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, to pass the bill.

Attempts to exempt the City of Emeryville from the bill were defeated by the committee. Similar attempts failed in the Senate.

Emeryville's lobbyist, Allan D. LeFevre, reportedly had worked for several weeks reying to convince the committee's members to allow Emryville to do an undisclosed amount of bay filling.

However, Bagley cautioned that the bill was "only a temporary measure, and does not save the bay. The $64 million question," he said, "will be in finding ways to fund and implement'' the master plan for the bay that is being drawn by BCDC.

"There may be hundreds of millions of dollars of financial problems in implementing the plan,'' said Bagley.

Foster Care Session

A workshop on problems in the foster care of children will be held Monday in San Francisco for social workers from Marin and five other Bay Counties, according to the state Department of Social Welfare.

Boardwalk Area To Be Studied

A report on conditions in the Boardwalk One area of Larkspur and plans for improvements will be presented to the Larkspur Planning Commission at 8 p.m. Tuesday at city hall by Marlin Johnson, a resident of the area.

The commission will also continue discussion of the redwood trees on property at 461 Cane Street, where developer George R. Brockmann Jr. plans to build apartments.

David F. Scott, a former planning commissioner, has claimed that Brockman's development maps do not show all the trees on the property, which was the site of the old Rose Bowl Pavilion.

He has expressed fears that Brockmann plans to cut down trees he says are not shown on the maps.

DEMAND IRKS ELDERS

Black Militants Get Record Shop

In a stormy meeting with a group of young black militants, the Marin County Housing Authority last night agreed to furnish improvements in a Marin City clothing shop to allow operating a record store in one part of the shop.

Boone Green and Ephraim Freeman will run the record store in the shop operated by Gregory Baines and the Black Youth of Marin City.

The group wanted the housing authority to guarantee that the needed electrical wiring and wood partitions would be installed "tomorrow morning," but chairman Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. said the work would be done "as soon as possible."

The youths also wanted the electrical work done by Jesse E. Berry, chairman of the Marin City Community Services District. Berry said he would look at the shop this afternoon.

"It's disgraceful that the board should knuckle under" to them, said Mrs. Juanita Cobb, chairman of the Marin City Home Owners and Improvement Club.

New board member Mrs. Collie Gaines said the group was right in what they asked for, but wrong in the way they went about getting it.

Ehrlich said it was difficult to sit and take abuse, but said the board should not get into a full-fledged battle over something so minor as last night's case. Executive Director Donald O. Stutsman said approximately two man-hours of work would complete the improvements.

The terms of Baines' lease are ambiguous, Stutsman said, but it appears the authority is responsible to make the improvements.

Most of the evening was spent in discussing relationships and responsibilities of the housing authority, redevelopment agency, and the Marin City Community Services District.

Ehrlich said the agency and the authority cannot delegate their legal responsibilities to the services district, but "effectively we have . . . transferred substantial power'' to the district.

The two county bodies have been seeking recommendations from the district on appointments, law enforcement, and commercial tenants, Ehrlich said, and "their recommendations have universally been accepted."

The services district has some final authority in its own areas of jurisdiction, Stutsman pointed out.

When the discussion branched into an analysis of the community as a whole, Berry intimated that Marin City had hurt itself badly by opposing plans for a convalescent hospital in the communuity. "You have set a precedent now . . . nobody will come in and invest a dollar here now,'' Berry said.

He scorned the militant youths as "just a lot of holler,'' with no money to invest to help the community. He said several investors were interested in Marin City until a couple of years when the slogan "Burn, baby, burn'' came into the picture. There has been no further contact with investors, he said.

Berry charged that "there are groups that make it their express purpose . . . to condemn any new program'' in Marin City. "It will be difficult to develop any program'' while that is true, he said.

The three bodies took no action after the discussion, but consensus of the housing authority and redevelopment agency appeared to be to consult whenever possible with the services district to try to meet the wishes of the residents of Marin City.

The Marin County Redevelopment Agency also:

DEED — Authorized the release from a deed of trust of 2.769 acres in Hilarita which has been sold to the Reed Union School District.

NEW CAREERS — Indicated its intent to take part in the New Careers program by providing two management trainee positions. The trainees will spend three years in the job, with the cost paid by federal funds the first year and half federal, half local funds the next two.

AUDIT — Agreed to hire the firm of Hackleman, Larzelere, McKenna and Von Kaschnitz to conduct the annual audit.

The three groups jointly also:

SWIMMING POOL — Discussed location and cost of a swimming pool in Marin City, but reached no decisions. Charles W. Story, director of the services district, said the pool should be near the community center for effective control and operation.

RECREATION — Discussed plans for recreational uses on 34 acres owned by the Tamalpais High School District. The school district will not release the land until there is a definite use planned, Stutsman said.

Novato Developer Sued For Land In Foreclosure

A suit to foreclose a deed of trust in an alleged $449,475 default of a promissory note has been filed in Marin Superior Court against Meadowbrook Developers Inc., 1127 Grant Avenue, Novato.

Continental Mortgage Investors of Massachusetts claims Meadowbrook gave Occidental Capital Co. of Orange County a $773,150 note on Dec. 10, 1965, putting up the deed of trust on two San Anselmo parcels of land as security.

Occidental turned the note over to Continental, accoriding to the suit, and Meadowbrook and seven other defendants have defaulted with the $449,475 still due.

Continental seeks the $449,475 through a foreclosure sale of the land, and $25,000 for attorney fees.

Brown Sues Over Jail Segregation

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—H. Rap Brown yesterday filed a lawsuit in U.S. District Court asking that Louisiana jails be desegregated.

Brown's suit was filed the same day Philip Hutchings in Newark, N.J. confirmed Brown was no longer head of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

Hutchings, the new leader of SNCC, indicated Brown did not seek another term. Brown was convicted in New Orleans April 22 for violating the federal firearms act.

The suit said that Brown, a native of Baton Rouge, La., had an interest in the integration of all jails in the state because Gov. John McKeithen had promised to jail him for treason.

Dr. Alan Ellsberg, principal of San Rafael High School, has received a certificate of high academic achievement in recognition of the outstanding scholastic record achieved by four San Rafael High School graduates who entered the University of California at Berkeley during the 1965-66 school year.

The four, David Milton Hellman, James William Kilgore, Theresa Celeste McGinnis and Jeanne Marie Parsons, established academic records during their first term at the University that placed them in the upper 10 per cent of the freshman class. A grade point average of at least 3.25 in 12 or more units of work was needed for the honor.

Officials Must Bear Blame For City Strife

David J. Sumbardo had praise for the Fairfax City Council of the past four years and harsh words for some citizens of Fairfax in his "swan song" as city administrator last week.

He praised the council for "the courage and foresight to adopt the community's first general plan," and for creating a design review board, setting up an annual program of street surfacing, increasing city employees' pay, starting genuine enforcement of fire and building codes, and "involving more than 125 people in community affairs."

But he struck another note when he said:

"The town must mature and put an end to the hate and selfishness that has become so apparent in the past year. It is almost unbelievable for me to try and account for all the rumors, some humorous, others vicious that have spread like wildfire around this community on every possible subject. This type of things accomplishes nothing constructive. It only prohibits the city from concentrating on what is important — making Fairfax a better town in which to live."

THE HISTORY OF FACTIONAL splits in Fairfax goes back far beyond Sumbardo's three years in the city. But Fairfax has an equally long history of conducting public business in private. The latter may be a principal cause of the former.

For many years, it was the practice of the Fairfax City Council to hold all budget discussions in private. Until the last four years, it was usually impossible to find out any budget figures until the night the budget was adopted.

As long ago as 1957, a reporter was expelled from an "informal gathering" of the council at which the budget was discussed and employee salaries were raised. Typical of the method over the years was the 1961 meeting at which employee salaries were raised without a word of discussion — obviously having been agreed upon in advance in private.

After the death of Police Chief Andy Peri in 1961, the council—as usual, in private session — decided to name as acting chief an officer who was 67 years old, or two years beyond the mandatory retirement age. In subsequent public discussion, they talked of his replacement "when he reaches the retirement age."

Not until 1963 did Fairfax even prepare an agenda for its regular council meetings so that anyone could find out what was to be discussed. The first open budget discussions were in 1964.

The prepared agenda meant little when the council decided to adopt city administrator government. It reached the decision at a secret meeting in October, 1964. The ordinance creating a city administrator post was prepared by City Atty. Wallace S. Myers on instructions given at the secret meeting. It was introduced on Dec. 15 without discussion—and without being put on the agenda.

IF ALL THIS WERE merely history, that would be one thing. But it is not. Last week, the Fairfax City Council held an unannounced dinner meeting "to acquaint new councilmen with matters that might affect the budget." There was no attempt to notify press or public.

Last night, the council met behind closed doors to discuss how to divide up Sumbardo's duties. Does this mean it is abandoning city administrator government? As in the past, the Fairfax City Council is making major decisions without the public's knowledge.

It is a tribute to the civic dedication, broadmindedness and patience of many Fairfax citizens that they have been willing to participate in city programs in the face of such treatment by their elected officials.

THE PEOPLE OF FAIRFAX, on the whole, are no different from people anywhere else. Rumors will spread and passions flame when private "dickers" and closed-door "deals" become the way of spending the money squeezed from the taxpayers.

Fairfax is a beautiful community, with great prospects, as Sumbardo noted in his "swan song." Its citizens have proved their willingness to participate in their own government. They deserve a return of the trust they place in those they elect to office.

Taxpayers Of State Forgotten In Special Bill For Bus Firms

By HENRY C. MacARTHYR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — At times, the obligation of the legislators to enact laws for the benefit of all the people of the state appears to be forgotten in its effort to satisfy the demands of their particular districts.

Such a time involves the passage by the assembly of SB 202, by Sen. James R. Mills, D-San Diego, a measure co-authored by Assemblyman James A. Hayes, R-Long Beach.

SENATOR MILLS hails the measure as "a direct form of property tax relief to residents of the areas which have these urban bus companies."

It is a well known fact that most public transit companies are subsidized in one way or another with tax money. However, SB 202 is not designed to stop the subsidies.

Rather, it transfers the obligation to subsidize from the people of the areas in which the companies operate, to all of the people of the state because of the loss of revenue from the diesel fuel tax.

IN SAN DIEGO alone, the San Diego Transit Corp. expects to save approximately $100,000 annually if the governor signs this measure for a tax escape.

Taking other transit companies throughout the state into consideration, the losses to the state highway fund are expected to reach high figures.

And there is no indication that property taxes will be decreased in any of the areas affected. Neither is there any hint that users of the bus lines will enjoy any disadvantage of decreased bus fares through adoption of the measure.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

June 19, 1958

Marin County's population was estimated at almost 136,800, or 8,000 more than a year ago. The increase of 5.6 per cent in a year was the greatest rate of growth in the county's history.

San Rafael Juvenile Officer Joseph J. Brusatori was named Marin County "Man of the Year."

20 YEARS AGO

June 19, 1948

Work began on the "street of the century" on Strawberry Point. A total of 63 homes were to be built and the project was estimated at $1,550,000.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Cruelty To Animals In Rodeo Arena

What Mrs. (Sally) Garbarino (I-J 6/11) and her family experienced at a recent rodeo happens quite frequently but, due to the fact that rodeo is big business and the public is so naive, rodeo people would just as soon look the other way.

This is what you see at a rodeo: The calves used in roping events are no more than two to three months because they are the cheapest to buy. The rodeo stock arrives at the rodeo grounds after traveling many hours without benefit of water or feed, jam-packed in a stock truck and kept there until rodeo time. When the "bucking stock" is put into the chute, a "bucking strap" is placed around the animal's most sensitive area and cinched up tightly. He merely bucks to rid himself of this uncomfortable contraption. (only recently has it become illegal to use spikes). Now if the animal doesn't come charging out of the chute, he is encouraged with an electric prod. This device gives him a jolt in another sensitive area and he transforms into the "wild" rodeo animal you then see in the arena.

Folks, rodeo is strictly for the "dudes." Who, then, are these "cowboys?" They are plumbers, carpenters, etc., who "rodeo" on weekends to pick up extra loot, and I hate to tell you how many calves are multilated just practicing for the "big event . . ."

If you are concerned with humane attitudes, (and well we should be) don't take your child to a rodeo.

Simple Method To Urge Legislation

I was very pleased to see your excellent editorial of Wednesday, June 12, "Time To End Nonsense About Control of Guns."

Would it be possible to insert in one of your next editorial pages a statement with a place for signature which people could clip out and mail to their senators, congresssmen, and /or governor, etc.?

For example:

"Signed ______"

San Rafael.

(Editor's note: There it is. Readers wishing to urge such action may easily copy the statement, sign their names, and mail it to legislators.)

Gun Control Hurts Responsible Citizen

Almost immediately after the shooting of Sen. Robert Kennedy, a barrage of propaganda for federal firearms control was dispensed by certain elements of the news media and politicians.

San Francisco Mayor Alioto came on with an impassioned plea for a constitutional amendment to deprive responsible citizens of their constitutional right to bear arms. It is hard to believe that a man of his caliber is unaware that such laws have always been invoked in all countries before being taken over by a totalitarian government. It is also hard to believe that the mayor is unaware that such laws never prevent the criminal element from obtaining firearms. Such laws restrict only the responsible citizen.

Stop and think! What enemies of our society stood to gain most from the last three assassinations? . . .

It is impossible to keep guns from the hands of the unlawful element. They can make them, if necessary, as has been done, even behind the walls of San Quentin.

It is time the freedom loving citizens of our beloved country become involved in the fight to retain the freedoms guaranteed by our constitution and to stop the Warren Supreme Court from rewriting it.

Fire On Mt. Tam Poses Great Danger

I write this as a plea to all who live in and about Marin County. How often have you looked up and observed the beauty of nature that is around us and reaches its peak in the beauty of Mt. Tamalpais? Even if one has never experienced the joy of Tam's many streams and forests, he surely must enjoy beholding the mountain from here below.

Tonight (Sunday) I was horrified as a long-time fear materialized before my eyes — I looked up and saw clouds of smoke billowing from the peak of Tamalpais. Luckily the Marin County Fire Department encountered favorable weather conditions and contained the fire promptly.

Being a fireman, I have always been fire prevention conscious — but this is something we all must try to be. Not only is Mt. Tamalpais an area of great beauty providing us with a recreation area, but as a large watershed it provides Marin with almost all of its water supply. This is a dangerous year for Marin — our rain level is low, the winds continue to be bad and there are more people than ever using Mt. Tam. Unfortunately, many of these people are thoughtless and careless.

So, I ask all of you to try to save what natural beauty we have left. Observe all fire regulations, and when out in the hills or on the mountain please be careful.

Different Version Of 'Family Life'

I am sorry Mrs. (Kathryn Allison's gross mis-statements of facts in her June 13 letter about the family life programs at Manor School so distroted what happened at the meeting of parents June 5. She claims most, if not all, the parents felt inadequate to teach their children about sex. This could not be farther from the truth if it were deliberate.

Most of us felt we parents could lay the proper foundation and the teachers, through their specialized experience, could broaden the subject of sex to give the children better and more mature understanding of the subject. Both my wife and I previewed the programs on Monday nights. We found them to be quite good and to contain nothing offensive.

Lastly, many of us realized there have been times when parents in general have not given sufficient information to the child for him to fully understand the proper role of sex. The rising incidence of venereal diseases among teenagers is a good indication of this. . . . We feel we need all the right and experienced help we can get to make doubly sure our children are properly trained. . . .

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

A BROWN GRADUATE'S weekly poker orgy lasted so long one Saturday night that he decided to go straight from the game to church where, when the collection plate was passed, he absentmindedly donated a blue poker chip instead of his usual half-dollar. His indulgent pastor caught the transaction with his all-seeing eyes. The next morning the son of Brown University received a small package in the mail. It contrained two blue chips with a note from the pastor reading, "I'll raise you one."

A phony antique dealer put on display in his gallery an "old, old" bench supposedly made in Spain during the Inquisition. A nouveau riche matron yearned for it — especially when she learned how expensive it was — and finally bought it. That's when it was discovered the bench was so big they couldn't get it through the door of the gallery.

Foreign Trade, Along With Aid, Under Heavy Attack In Congress

WASHINGTON — In the irascible, impatient, suspicious mood of the Congress, anything with the word foreign attached to it is in trouble, powerful lobbies for steel, meat, textiles and at least 20 other commodities are taking advantage of this mood to try to ram through quota systems cutting back principal imports from abroad.

Quotas would bring immediate reprisal from nations that buy American products and are responsible for the favorable trade balance only recently jeopardized by rising American prices. It would be a perfect example of the kind of false self-sufficiency that in the 1930s helped to bring on worldwide depression. The Smoot-Hawley tariff, in 1930, passed over the warning of every reputable economist in the country, prepared the way for the blowup.

Although no quota has yet been imposed — the Senate adopted a textile quota amendment later eliminated — more than 60 nations have entered formal protests with the State Department at the threat of such barriers. The folly of posting these "keep out" signs would seem to be so evident and the machinations of the lobbies so obvious that the effort must certainly fail. Yet with the laceration of the Vietnam war along with the pressing needs of the cities, quotas can be made to look like protection of the American worker from the competition of underpaid workers in Europe and Asia. This is the old cry, with its strongly isolationist overtones of "save America from foreign competition."

THE ADMINISTRATION is pressing for a trade bill that would, among other things, repeal American selling price legislation. This legislation sets duties on certain chemicals, not on their cost abroad but on the wholesale price in this country. Repeal would spur European nations to speed up tariff reductions under the Kennedy round procedure.

This last is an incentive for American exporters. But those on Capitol Hill opposing the quota system believe the best strategy is simply to let the administration bill die. They are fearful that pressing it will open the way to a flood of amendments clamping quotas on everything from cheese to steel bars. With little more than six weeks to go, if Congress is to adjourn before the Republican National Convention, the quota lobbies would be stopped by the adjournment bell.

WHILE FOREIGN trade faces a protectionist-isolationist attack, foreign aid is in far deeper trouble. Last year the foreign aid bill was saved from burial by the House by only eight votes. And the sour anti-foreign attitude is much more pronounced today.

Resistance to military aid, notably by anti-Vietnam members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, has made the going rougher for any foreign aid. Chairman J. William Fulbright, long an advocate of multilateral as against direct American aid, was unable to get approval by his committee for $160,000,000 for the International Development Association, a subsidiary of the World Bank that makes "soft" loans to developing countries. Nor could he get the committee to approve an appropriation for the Asian Bank.

Another attempt will be made. But Fulbright is back in Arkansas in a rough primary fight against a hard-line segregationist, Jim Johnson. Perhaps not even for critical votes will Fulbright return to Washington prior to the July 30 primary.

Foreign aid this year got a greatly reduced appropriation totaling $2.3 billion. The White House is asking $2.9 billion for the coming fiscal year, with little chance that anything like this amount will be approved. Such is the mood on Capitol Hill that the best hope appears to be a continuing resolution authorizing the foreign aid administration to spend at the present rate through December. That would avoid a showdown, leaving the issue of aid to the tender mercies of a new Congress.

The warning signals are up as impatient voters show every inclination to punish the "ins" for all the discontents of a time of troubles. That is the real explanation why so much unfinished business will be swept under the rug.

North Korea Threatens New Invasion Of South

By PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — North Korea appears to be positioning its military forces for a new invasion of South Korea.

Recent Communist troop movements near the demilitarized zone, separating north from south at the 38th parallel, are even causing U.S. intelligence experts to warn that the military offensive could come during the June 24-25 anniversary of North Korea's 1950 invasion.

Kim Il-Sung, the Soviet-trained premier of North Korea who launched that first offensive, has pledged to open a "new front against the U.S. at the appropriate time."

Significantly, Kim has in recent days put all his military forces on a wartime alert and issued a decree which in effect has caused full mobilization of North Korean manpower and industry.

In addition to these military moves, Kim has already supplied more than 50 Korean pilots to the battered North Vietnamese air force, which is being rebuilt during the present U.S. halt of bombing above the 19th parallel.

THE PRESIDENT'S intelligence advisers have been warning him that the Kremlin planned a series of closely connected crises in West Berlin, Korea, Vietnam and Cuba this summer. These crises will be linked closely with massive demonstrations and riots planned in Washington and other major U.S. cities.

Most immediate danger area, of West Berlin and South Vietnam, is South Korea, where neither the Second nor the Seventh U.S. Infantry divisions can be called combat ready, according to a study just completed by the Senate Armed Services Preparedness Subcommittee.

While the U.S. Air Force in South Korea has been vastly increased since the USS Pueblo seizure caught it with half a dozen planes, the North Korean jets now outnumber it by around two to one.

The subcommittee's report also noted that both Army divisions are below strength, greatly deficient in captains and majors, and hampered by a lack of equipment and spare parts diverted to Vietnam.

ACCORDING TO the latest U.S. intelligence estimates, North Korea reconnaissance attacks in force can be expected at any time—including this weekend.

A captured North Korean "order of battle" calls for probing attacks all along the 156-mile front in order to disrupt communication lines, create economic chaos, and lay the groundwork for an externally supported and guided revolt.

Several months ago the North Koreans began stockpiling 60 days' supply of food and military equipment, including all types of spare parts and ammunition, just north of the demilitarized zone.

At least five new North Korean divisions have now been moved into these front line positions.

Long Battle May Be Ahead Over Belvedere-Tiburon Line

Michael Kerson, 24, whose parents live in Belvedere, will not turn in guns from his sporting goods store in San Francisco.

With the approval of his parents, George and Grace Kerson, of 30 Lagoon Road, young Kerson decided last December, when he took over the Acme Army and Navy Store, to eliminate the stock of guns and ammunition and not to replace them.

BELVEDERE and Tiburon have several boundary problems to solve in years ahead. In a mutual aid call last Saturday, both fire departments helped extinguish a fire in a home which the owner hopes to transfer from Tiburon to Belvedere, as do the owners of six other homes on San Rafael Avenue and Lagoon Road.

Belvedere City Councilman Edwin J. Drechsel said recently he has worked 10 years to help protect "Belvedere's front door," and helping to realign this boundary has been one of his projects.

Drechsel has written a brief history of the project for the city records, including comments from property owners, such as one woman who said she "would do anything to get out of Tiburon."

As happened in the Saturday fire, residents have been unsure what city to call for service. Both departments usually send out equipment when houses are near the boundary line.

Belvedere and Tiburon firemen arrived once at a toaster fire on Corinthian Island in a home which was partly in each city. P.S.: The fire was quenched before the boundary issue was resolved.

PART OF Corinthian Yacht Club is also in each city. The boundary splitting some property has posed some tax problems as well for the property owners.

Belvedere has long been interested in realigning the boundary on the Boardwalk to include more retail stores in its tax base. However, Tiburon has never appeared willing to relinquish any of its tax base, which includes a large market. All is quiet on this front now, but the battle of the Boardwalk boundary may be a long, hard one in the future.

ART BUCHWALD

Sad Picture Of Genuine Patriot Being Undone By Foul Conspiracy

WASHINGTON — Wallaby Cartridge, the president of the National Gun Lovers of America and Bugle Corps, was enraged the other day when I saw him in a restaurant spoon-feeding an Old Fashioned into the mouth of a U. S. senator.

"Americans are behaving like children," Wallaby said, "parroting nonsense, and trying to bring pressure on Congress to pass antigun legislation."

"But that's lobbying," I said in a shocked voice.

"You're damn right it's lobbying, and the National Gun Lovers of America, through its lobby, is officially protesting. There's a conspiracy going on to take guns away from the American people and we won't stand for it; not after all the money and time we've spend preventing it. Senator, can I order you some caviar?"

THE SENATOR nodded his head.

"What I don't understand, Wallaby, is why the American people just won't take your word that guns don't kill people, people kill people."

"Because the American people are being brainwashed. They think they can prevent crime and keep guns out of the hands of criminals and adolescents and disturbed people by making Americans register their guns. But at the same time they don't realize how much inconvenience they would be causing the sincere hunter and marksman."

"Nobody wants to inconvenience people who hunt," I agreed.

"How about a nice steak, senator?" Wallaby said.

HE THEN CONTINUED. "Do you know one of the things they want to do? They want to pass a law forbidding the sale of long guns and shotguns through the mail. Do you realize what this would do to hunters? They'd have to go down to a store and buy the gun over the counter and give their names to the sales clerk."

"But that's outrageous. Hunters shouldn't be forced to go to a store to buy their guns. They've got enough to do getting up at three in the morning and sitting in a duck blind for four hours in the mud, to find time to go to a store."

"I'm glad you understand it," Wallaby said. "But there's more to it than that. They want to take our guns away from us."

"Who does?"

"They do," Wallaby said, ominously.

"Then it's a conspiracy," I cried.

"OF COURSE it's a conspiracy," Wallaby said. "Who do you think is behind all those letters being sent to congressmen and senators this week?"

"The American people?"

"You fool. The conspiracy's behind it. They know if they can get a list of the people in the United States who own guns they'll be able to take over."

"And the only thing standing between they and us is you."

I thought Wallaby was going to burst into tears.

"Everything was going so well. We had Congress in our pocket. Our mail campaign for guns outnumbered the antigun mail by six to none. We had the thing in the bag. But now the mail is running against us and everyone's blaming me. I've been a good lobbyist, a loyal lobbyist, a free-spending lobbyist. If they pass a strong antigun law, who would have me?"

MY HEART was breaking. "Maybe people will stop writing letters against guns," I said hopefully.

"It's too late." Wallaby shook his head.

"Then why are you entertaining this senator?" I asked.

Only Two Hurt In Hotel Blaze

CHESANING, Mich. (AP) — Two persons were hospitalized following a fire which destroyed an 80-year-old hotel today in this community of 2,700, located 20 miles south of Saginaw.

As many as six persons were originally reported missing by a Saginaw County sheriff's deputy as firemen fought the blaze, which broke out around 5 a.m. and was brought under control about two hours later.

When the owner of the hotel, Henry A. Moldenhauer, arrived at the scene at around 7:30 a.m., authorities began tracking down the 18 residents of the building and determined that all had escaped.

Novato Adopts Wage Scale After Survey

For the first time in its eight and-a-half-year history, the City of Novato has a comprehensive pay plan, adopted unamiously last night by the city council at an adjourned meeting.

The plan was the result of a study begun in February by the city manager and the Novato City Employees Association and comparing 11 official agencies with similar positions. The plan adopted meets the average wages paid by these agencies for similar jobs.

The pay plan will apply to fiscal 1968-69 by agreement with the city employees, according to Henry E. Anderson, salary committee chairman. The total cost will be approximately $651,000 for next fiscal year, according to Charles L. Foster, city director of finance, approximately $45,000 more than the current year's outlay for salaries and fringe benefits.

The pay plan did not make any changes in fringe benefits. Council members said the employees could bring up these benefits at next year's budget meeting.

The council voted to use the same set of goverments and agencies for a review of average wages in connection with next year's budget preparation. They are: San Rafael, Mill Valley, State of California, County of Marin, Marin Municipal Water District, North Marin County Water District, Novato School District, Hamilton Air Force Base, Novato, Petaluma and San Anselmo.

In the new schedule, the lowest paid employee is the first step of typist clerk I at $332 per month, compared to the present $355. The highest paid employee, except for department heads and the city manager, is the assistant city engineer at $1,262 per month, compared to the present $1,038 per month.

Under the new plan, there are six positions which have only two-step increases, 15 positions which have three-step increases and 11 which have four-step pay increases.

The Novato City Council also:

RESIGNATION — After a 15-minute closed meeting, accepted the resignation of John Castleman, chairman of the planning commission and a member of the architectural advisory committee, because he is moving from the city. The council called for citizens to volunteer for this position through notice to City Mgr. J. Julien Baget.

SIGNS — Granted the Dervin Ford Co. a 21-square-foot service sign which was denied by the planning commission. It postponed for one week consideration of Dervin's appeal on denial of a 52-square-foot fascia sign for the front of the new building on Highway 101 south of Novato Creek.

ORDINANCES — Continued until 8 p.m. next Tuesday consideration of two ordinances introduced at its last meeting changing the sign regulations and use permit procedures.

ANNEXATIONS —Appointed Mayor Harley McAskill and City Manager Baget to make a presentation to the next City-County Planning Council on Novato's position favoring annexation to the city of areas contiguous to the city before subdivision plans are submitted to the county planning commission.

ADJOURNED — Adjourned to 8 p.m. next Tuesday.

Democrat Group Cancels Session

The Marin County Democratic Central Committee, which usually meets the third Tuesday of each month, did not meet last night chairman Albert E. Gately reported.

The committee's next meeting, at which it will seat new members and elect new officers, will be 8 p.m. July 9 in the County Courthouse in San Rafael.

The present Marin County Republican Central Committee, according to state election law, will not reorganize until January.

The county central committees of the state's two new parties, the Peace and Freedom and American Independent parties, also do not organize until January, the county elections department reported.

Israeli Soldier Hurt By Land Mine Blast

JERUSALEM (UPI) — The blast of a land mine today wounded an Israeli soldier riding on an army halftrack on the Israeli-occupied Golan Heights, military officials said.

An Israeli announcement said the explosion occurred about dawn as the vehicle drove along a road patroling the territory which Israel captured from Syria during the six-day Middle East War last June.

Laundry Stolen

Quentin Looten, of 3 Peninsula Road, Belvedere, reported to police yesterday that someone took a package of clean laundry and some tools from his car parked at San Francisco Yacht Club between 3 p.m. and 6:30 p.m.

Mill Valley Youths Get Eagle Ranks

Two Mill Valley youths, both members of Mill Valley Troop 34, have been advanced to the Eagle Scout rank at a court of honor held recently at the Mill Valley Methodist Church.

Receiving scouting's highest honor were Eric Andresen, son of Mill Valley City Councilman and Mrs. Robert H. Andresen of 69 Catalpa Avenue, and Charles Mills, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Mills of 5 Hillcrest Road.

The boys, who have been in Troop 34 for the past five years, were presented the awards by John R. Barnard, former Troop 34 scoutmaster.

Charles, a junior at Lick-Wilmerding High School in San Francisco, was the first member of Troop 34 to receive the God and Country award which he earned in study with Rev. D. Murray Hammond, of the Episcopal Church of Our Savious. Eric is a junior at Tamalpais High School.

This could be your lucky break.

Now, if your windshield needs replacing you can get the safer L-O-F windshield. It "gives" on impact to cushion shock—tends to bulge instead of break. We have it for replacement for all U.S. cars back through 1960.

Lynwood Park Club Committees Named

Several one-man committees and officer appointments were made at the meeting of the Lynwood Park Improvement Association board last night at the home of its president, Gerald C. Cullen at 1293 Lynwood Drive, Novato, according to Mrs. Bill Haskell, publicity chairman.

Those named and their committees were: Carlos Rivamonte, beautification; Harold Blue, maintenance of center islands and treasurer; Richard Gomez, architectural engineering; Mrs. James Schmidt, membership and welcoming; Harvey Simpkins, legal affairs, and Cullen, government. Mrs. Allen Bradbury was named corresponding secretary and Mrs. Haskell publicity and recording secretary.

Woman Leaps To Death From Golden Gate Bridge

Three visitors from the Midwest told the California Highway Patrol they were walking on the bridge when they saw a car stop in the curb lane near the south tower about 3 p.m. Janet M. Grunwald got out, ran for the rail and vaulted over, they said.

Her body was recovered by the Coast Guard a few minutes later and taken to the San Francisco coroner's office. She is survived by her husband, George, and a child.

Richard Smith, of San Francisco, later told the patrol he was walking on the bridge at 11:50 p.m. when he saw a woman walking near the south end. When he asked if anything was wrong, she ran to the railing and started to climb over, he said. Smith held her until officers arrived.

The woman, Carol Ann Haggerty, 26, a Redwood City housewife, was taken to San Francisco General Hospital for observation.

San Francisco's Symphony Gains In Fund Effort

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The San Francisco Symphony Association is three years ahead of schedule in its matching fund drive and has so far raised $2.7 million, association President Philip S. Boone reports.

Boone told a luncheon meeting of campaign workers yesterday the original goal of $3 million is now being raised to $3.5 million, with the extra $500,000 going to erase the accumulated deficit of past seasons.

Boone said when the fund drive reaches $3 million, it will then have met the requirements for a $2 million Ford Foundation grant.

The overall deficit this season will be more than $200,000, Boone said, a record amount. However, he added that all money coming in now will be earmarked for the matching endowment funds.

The fund drive will continue through June, 1971.

INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITY

Here's the story: we've just listed a tiny little house, nicely built but kind of run down, and quite a few years old. It really isn't worth too much, but it could be rented for $100 a month, more or less, or it would make a great hide-away for when you need a hide-away. There are fruit trees, and good sun, and a pleasant outlook. However, the little house is on a prime lot zoned for a duplex, and next door to it is another prime lot zoned the same way, which is included in the low price of only $16,950. Get the picture? Then come see it this weekend!

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Unexplained Fever Can Become One Of Most Costly Illnesses

VAN DELLEN

FUO (fever of unexplained origin) is one of the most expensive of all medical conditions. Something is wrong, but symptoms are too mild or vague to pinpoint the causative disease. The only consistent finding is a daily increase in temperature, as high as 101 degrees Fahrenheit.

Expense enters the picture because the physician suspects an infection, cancer, collagen disease, or rare condition acquired in Timbuktu.

This means hospitalization with X-rays, blood and skin tests, stool and sputum studies, and urinalysis. Specialists poke "scopes" into the rectum, bladder, ears, nose, throat, lungs and stomach.

BIOPSIES of the liver, bone marrow, or any suspicious looking tumor or gland may also be needed.

There are many contagious exotic diseases in Mexico, Asia, Africa, the Philippines, South America, and the Caribbean Islands. We also have our share in this country.

Cancers may be associated with various gradations of fever and at times with chills, mimicking an infectious disorder. A tumer of the kidney is always a possibility; so is Hodgkin's disease. Collagen diseases include rheumatic fever, arthritis, lupus erythematosus, and dermatomyositis.

THERE ARE endless possibilities. Some medicos tag these puzzlers a virus and let it go at that. A slight delay will allow time for the true cause to manifest itself.

Now and then the reason is never found and we assume that a temperature of 101 degrees Fahrenheit is normal for the individual.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

BOYS AND DOLLS

C. L. K. writes: I have two daughters and a 30-months-old nephew. Naturally, my children have dolls, and when the boy visits, he plays with them. This is upsetting to the boy's father who thinks his son should not play with toys designed for little girls. Would playing with dolls have an effect upon my nephew or is it harmless at his age?

REPLY

There is no harm at this age. Within a short period of time, he will enjoy trains and other appropriate toys that dad gives to him.

BLESSING PROTECTS

Mrs. G. writes: Why do people say "God bless you" when you sneeze?

REPLY

In the old days, people thought evil spirits were responsible for illness and death and that the demons entered through the mouth. The blessing was said to protect the person when his mouth was wide open for a sneeze.

FALSIES OR PLASTIC?

W. I. writes: Is it safe for a woman to have a plastic disk inserted in the bosom to help retain her figure?

REPLY

Some plastic surgeons report success after inserting special bags containing silicone. There are, however, easier methods. Falsies, for example.

ULCER MEDICINE

M. H. writes: I am in my middle 70s and after an X-ray was told I have an ulcer in the duodenum. Can it be treated with medicine?

REPLY

The majority of duodenal ulcers respond to simple remedies, especially the first bout. But often a change in eating, working, and living habits is necessary to prevent recurrences.

BORN WITHOUT NAVEL

W. B. writes: Can a woman who was born without a navel have children?

REPLY

Yes, but one thing intrigues me: How was she born?

WAYS TO KEEP COOL

K. H. D. writes: What is the answer for a person who becomes tired, disagreeable, and nauseated when the temperature goes above 90?

REPLY

A mint julip is an old southern remedy. It may be healthier to sit in an air conditioned room or go swimming. If this is an annual affair take a summer vacation in the north woods.

CANCER FROM TALKING

T. S. C. writes: Is there a relationship between excessive talking and singing and cancer of the larynx?

REPLY

No. Individuals who abuse their vocal cords may develop nodules but, as a rule, these are not malignant.

POODLES, PUPS, BABY

C. P. writes: My daughter who raises poodles, has five full-grown animals and a litter of four pups. Can a 5-year-old child be harmed living in such an environment? I am a worried grandmother.

REPLY

The child won't be hurt if the animals are healthy and the parents are sensible.

NEURITIS AND NEUROSIS

O. D. writes: What is the difference between neuritis and neurosis?

REPLY

Neuritis is inflammation of a nerve. A neurosis is an emotional disturbance in which the person has symptoms that mimic an organic disease such as heart trouble, peptic ulcer, or bronchitis.

Today's Heath Hint—Fishhook wounds may become infected if treated improperly.

Five Teens Are Cited In Probe Of Marijuana

Five San Rafael boys, four 16-year-olds and a 17-year-old were cited for possession of marijuana yesterday by San Rafael police after a substance suspected to be marijuana was found in a car occupied by three of them.

An officer became suspicious when he noted a "peculiar aroma" as he checked the ages of three boys in a car parked in the lot of Mayfair Market, 340 Third Street, shortly before 1 a.m. He was checking their ages for possible curfew violations.

The three 16-year-olds in the auto identified a 17-year-old, who was picked up later along with a 16-year-old companion, as the owner of the vehicle.

All five were released to their families after being cited to the county probation department.

College Image Worries Cited

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Something vigorous should be done to help restore public confidence in California State Colleges, says Chancellor Glen S. Dumke.

Campus distrubances have overshadowed school financial problems in the public mind and forced the colleges onto the defensive, he said in a newsletter yesterday.

All this has happened at a time when higher education should be on the offensive in quest of more funds, Dumke added.

Playground Leadership School Set

A leadership training program for ground and day camp leaders will be held tomorrow and Friday by the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Department in cooperation with District I of the California Parks and Recreation Association.

The session will include teen programming, bulletin boards and displays, athletic sports workshop, table games, story telling and creative dramatics, arts and crafts and music and gimmicks on the playground.

The two-day session is open to persons in eight other communities including Novato, San Anselmo, Mill Valley, Terra Linda, Marinwood, Las Gallinas, Santa Rosa and Fairfield.

The summer recreation program will open Monday in San Rafael with a variety of activities scheduled, including swimming, baseball, supervised playgrounds, day camps and others.

Information on dates, times and fees for the various programs is available at the parks and recreation department office at San Rafael City Hall.

Explosion Kills 10

Welfare Fraud Indictment Of Hub Mother

A 23-year-old San Anselmo woman was arrested Tuesday on suspicion of grand theft after the district attorney's office said that she had defrauded the county welfare department of about $638 in 1967.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said his office investigated Jeanne E. Williams of 770 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard after the county public social services department said she had failed to report child support payments.

In addition to $180 payments from an absent father, Bales said that his investigator found that Mrs. Williams also did not report to the welfare department $1,200 she earned working for Holiday Magic and the Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

She received about $638 in welfare payments she was not entitled to, Bales said. She was indicted secretly by the Marin County Grand Jury Thursday.

Mrs. Williams was released from Marin County Jail yesterday after paying $250 bail and is to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Another Freeway To Success As Recording Star

West German Athletes Find Riches In Electronics Jungle

MUNICH, Germany (GF) — A good voice will help, of course. But if you'd like to become a pop singing star and, unfortunately, don't have one, why not try the indirect route?—Become a star athlete.

This advice, at least, seems to apply in West Germany these days. Few outstanding sport stars in the country—voice or no voice—are failing to crack the hit parade charts. Several have cashed in big behind the microphone at recording studios.

German ice skating ace Hans Juergen Baeumler, who a few years ago was a world sensation with his partner Marika (Kilius) Zahn, has long since cracked the ice in the pop record business. His "Honeymoon in St. Tropez" has already sold nearly 500,000 times.

Another sport-turned-disc star in Germany is former world record hurdler Martin Lauer, whose "Last Rose of the Prarie" has sold 300,000 records.

And when soccer goal tender Petar "Radi" Radenkovic, the Yugoslavian on contract with a Munich, German star team, voices his way through "I Be the World's Best Singer," there may be some bitter disputing about that contention. But there can be no question about "Radi's" success. His record has already sold 200,000.

Star athletes as pop singing stars is nothing particularly new in Germany, even if the extent of the phenomenon is. It was back in the 1930s that a record company approached former heavyweight boxing champ Max Schmeling asking him to have a crack at pop singing.

Schmeling was reluctant—understandably: "I really can't sing," he protested. But the record company had other ideas. Schmeling ultimately gave in. The result: He was soon a top seller at record stores. Schmeling may not have had the type of voice that normally forms a star. But what voice he had expressed personality and his talk-sing style went over.

Today, having the voice isn't all that important. With special recording techniques even people frightened to sing to themselves in the bathtub can be made to sound like they were born to sing.

More than one athlete, at first hesitant to accept a recording offer to avoid embarrassment, has wound up boasting: "I didn't realize I had such a good voice."

As long as their records bring in profits, record companies are not likely to tell them that they—well, really don't! Why should they?

But, of course, success is the ultimate measure. Record company promotion men obviously keep their ears and eyes primed for the right moment to bring the right athlete on the platter market. And technicians can make up for most of what is missing. But even then, there's the chance of a stunning failure, embarrassing to more than record company.

Thus, discs by soccer star Gert Doerfel, riding ace Alwin Schockemoehle and Olympic sailing champion Willi Kuhweide wound up losers.

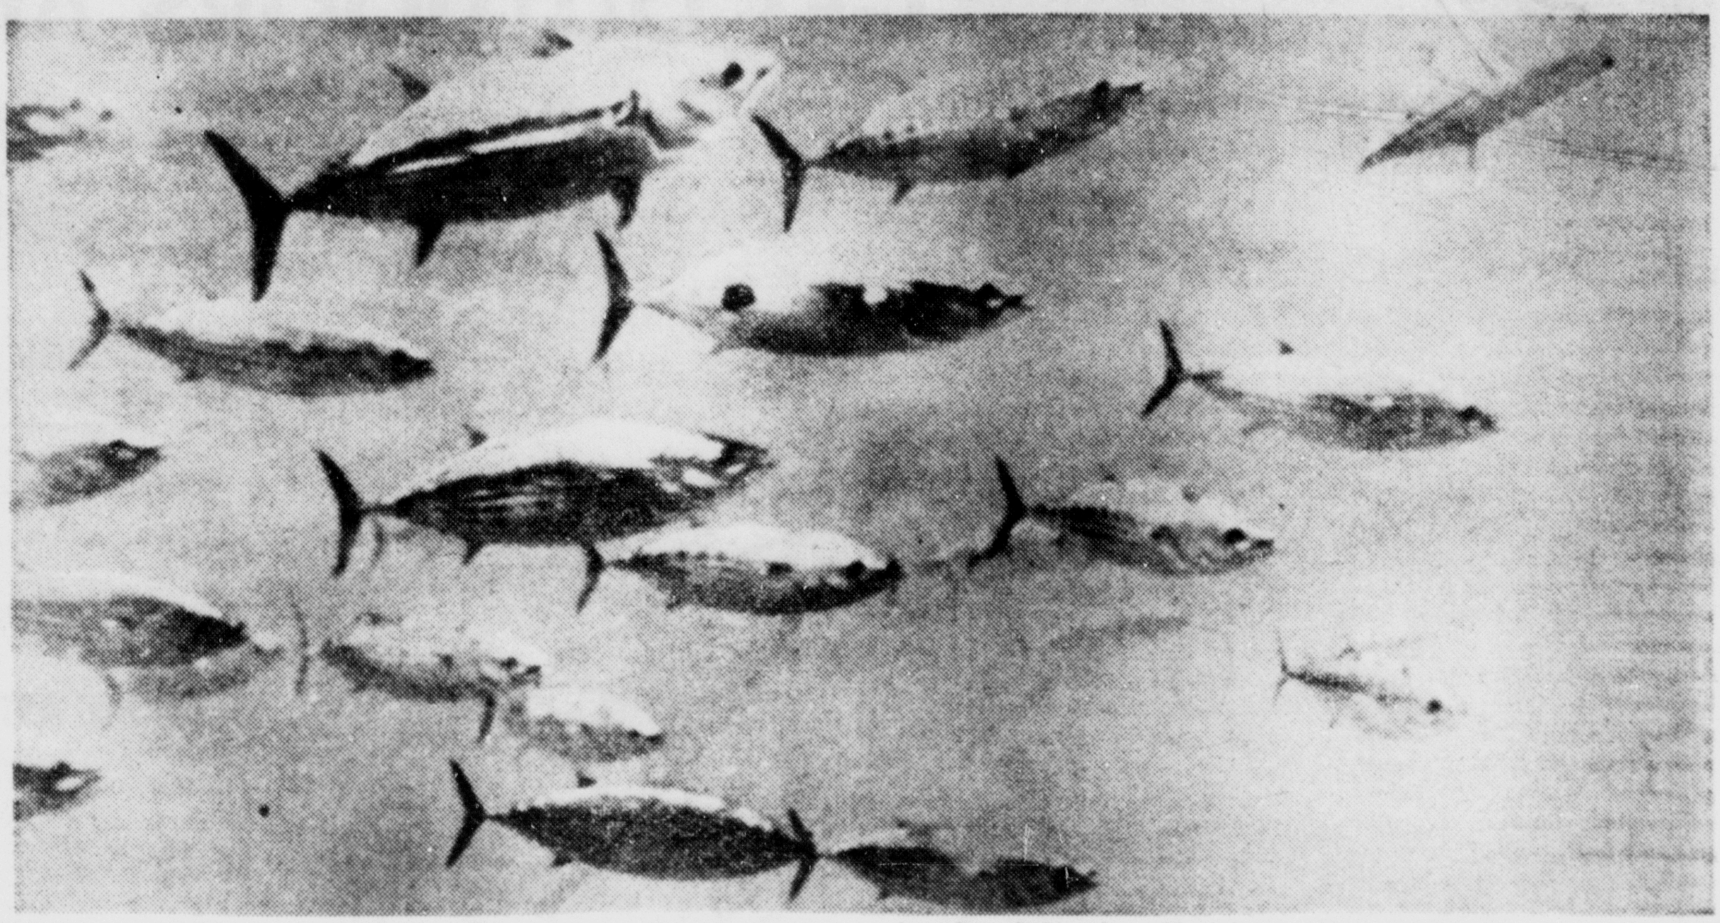
Tuna Boats Find New Hunting Area

By SCIENCE SERVICE



PRIZE CATCH — Schools of skipjack tuna, like this one photographed in the Pacific, have now been found in the Atlantic off Africa. The discovery promises a bonanza to a harassed industry. (Science Service photo)

An oceanographic expedition has unlocked some of the riddles of the enormous seasonal water movement discovered along Africa's Atlantic coast, and confirmed that conditions within it attract some of the largest scrools of prime tuna ever found.

These schools could mean a multimillion dollar bonanza for unhappy U.S. owners of Pacific tuna - fishing craft, plagued by closed seasons and limited catches of the prized yellowfin species and declining stocks of others.

The West African oceanic probe was made by a group of oceanographers and marine biologists headed by Dr. Grant L. Beardsley Jr. from the staff of the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries' Tropical Atlantic Biological Laboratory in Miami, Fla. They have just returned aboard the laboratory's 143-foot research vessel Undaunted, after four months and 18,000 miles of investigations.

The mysterious water movement or front has come to be known as the Guinea Tide, because it originates in the Gulf of Guinea, below Africa's great western land bulge, at a point close to the equator and approximately on an east-to-west line parallel to the cities of Libreville and Port Gentil, in former French Gabon.

It was first noted early in 1966 by scientists attached to France's Office de la Recherche Scientifique et Technique Outre-Mer. (While France has pulled out of West Africa, its oceanic research stations are still maintained at Abidjan, on the Ivory Coast; at Pointe-Noire, in former French Equatorial Africa, and at Dakar, farther north in Senegal, former French West Africa).

Despite the coolness that has developed between the U.S. and the de Gaulle regime, French and American ocean research groups continue to exchange reports.

It was the Pointe-Noire staff that first became aware of and advised U.S. scientists about the unique oceanic water movement and the massive schools of fish it attracts. This discovery occurred when exploring fishing vessels that had not previously worked the region made unprecedented catches of yellowfin tuna.

Yellowfins range up to 150 pounds and are the most sought after of all the tuna species, since they consistently bring premium prices. The craft also made substantial catches of the smaller but highly valued skipjack tuna.

French marine biologists reported that the Spanish seiner Lerez landed 85 tons of yellowfin and eight of skipjack, for a total of 200,000 pounds, in only six days of fishing. Later checks showed that in 117 trips, vessels using the less efficient baited pole lines caught more than 14 million pounds of fish, of which about 90 per cent were the prized yellowfin.

French oceanographers then discovered the tremendous seasonal oceanic water movement. (Oceanographers do not call it a "flow.") It had apparently gone unnoticed for centuries because when under way it travels slowly, almost imperceptibly, advancing only about seven or eight miles per day. Moreover, it is centered in a region that has never before been heavily fished or used as a major shipping lane.

When the front gets under way, it is as powerful as any other daily oceanic tide, sweeping along a broad area whose exact perimeter has not yet been charted. It heads southward above the cold Benguela Current, which is not affected, and which flows steadily northward from the lower reaches of the Atlantic. Also flowing north above the Benguela Currents is a warmer oceanic stream known simply as the Tropis Water, but the so-called Guinea Tide is powerful enough to push this back southward.

Thus, when the Guinea Tide is moving southward, it is traveling opposite to the known counter-clockwise rotational pattern of the South Atlantic Gyre, which is what creates the northward flow of the Benguela Current and the Tropic Water.

Up to now, American craft have undertaken very little tuna fishing in any part of the Atlantic. For decades, the main U.S. tuna fleet of about 110 sizeable vessels has been concentrated in southern California. Employing highly efficient purse seines costing about $50,000 each, they work southward to central Chile. But there have been difficulties with Ecuador and Peru, both objecting to operations of the craft off their coasts.

Just One Idea Really Needed

Read, composer in residence at Boston University's School of Fine and Applied Arts, appeared at Millikin University as guest lecturer and conductor.

"Every work is approached in a different way," he pointed out. He said he often begins with a plan or form, then finds the material that will fit the form.

Artificial Lake Is Filling In Kentucky

MARION, Kan. (AP) — The Marion Reservoir on the Cottonwood River is beginning to fill up. At normal pool level, the $13.6 million project will cover more than 6,000 acres and have a shoreline of 60 miles in east central Kansas.

More than 60,000-acre feet will be available for floodwater storage. The project is 90 per cent complete and officials say dedication ceremonies are being planned for later this year.

Humans Grow Tall, But Getting Obese

LONDON (UPI)—The human race is getting taller. That's good. But it is also getting fatter. And that's bad.

Quoting Shakespeare's "The grave doth gape for thee thrice wider than for other men," two scientists warned that overweight is now so common it is in danger of being regarded as normal.

Dr. C. R. Lowe and Dr. T. Khosla of the Welsh National School of Medicine in Cardiff reported in the medical weekly, "The Lancet" on current studies of working men compared with similar surveys in 1930 and 1943.

WEIGHT VS. HEIGHT

They found that adult male height has been increasing about one inch every 25 years since 1850. But, they added:

"Weight seems to be increasing at a much greater rate than height so that the adult male population is becoming progressively more obese. Young and middle-aged men today are probably about 15 pounds heavier than men of the same age and same height 30 years ago."

In the earlier decades and 35 years ago it appeared that men slowly increased in bulk until the age of about 55.

OBESE YOUNG MEN

"But in our studies," the scientists said, "obesity increased with age only until 35, after which it flattened off. It seems that cohorts of increasingly obese young men are moving into the adult population."

They prepared a table of weight and height from their studies which they said was intended "more as a warning than as a standard for 'normal' weights." It showed that under the age of 40 men today are from 25 to 30 pounds heavier than their counterparts of 1930 and 1943.

SHORTER IN 60s

The present study found that men aged 60 to 64 were about two inches shorter than men of 20-24. This has usually been thought due to alleged "shrinking" of older people. But the scientists said they did not think this was the case.

They believe that older people represent the height of the era in which they were born — a height below that of their children and grandchildren.

British Hunting Master Criminals With Computer

LONDON (UPI)—A train is robbed or bullion is stolen or jewels disappear from a plane in transport and the police find when they arrest the culprits that none of them is capable of engineering a really ingenious crime.

Scotland Yard then assumes that a planner or "thinker" put the exploit together and the actual robbers are his pawns. But since he generally manages to be sunning himself in the south of France when the crime is committed he is free to plan another day.

For years police have tried to find a way to identify these master-minds and now they are putting an automated detective on the trail—a computer.

The problem that experts of the Home Office hope to solve, with the help of specialists at the National Physical Laboratory is how to pinpoint a planner even though he has no police record. The first targets will be several score "honest" men—about 100 is the figure usually given—who are believed to work secretly with the underworld.

Everything known about these men would be fed into the computer—who they talk to, with whom they have lunch; anywhere their cars are spotted, and so on. Hopefully, over a period of time, Scotland Yard would amass a vast data bank about the suspects from its own sources and from other police forces in Britain.

Scientists On Track Of Gravity Waves

By SCIENCE SERVICE

WASHINGTON — The long search for gravitational waves, which scientists have believed for 50 years should exist but never were able to find, may end within the year — successfully.

The latest report on detection of events possibly caused by gravitational waves, from Dr. Joseph Weber of the University of Maryland, moves close to definite commitment. Others using the same experimental information would probably have been even more definite.

Dr. Weber's cautious report reverses the language of the one he made in March 1967. Then he said:

His judgment now is that his instruments which operated 24 hours a day for several years, respond about once a month "to a common external excitation which may be gravitational radiation." Observations of other events made in the two months since he submitted his report to Physical Review Letters have not changed Dr. Weber's mind.

However, he will not make a stronger statement at least until the results of other tests now underway are available.

If these results are negative, then Dr. Weber and his coworkers, or others in the field may be able to pinpoint the cause of the events so far recorded by his instruments.

One experiment in progress is a search over other frequencies and bandwidths than those already detected. Another is the separation of the two detectors over a distance of 700 miles between Argonne, Ill., and College Park, instead of the slightly more than one mile used so far on the Maryland campus.

The existence of gravitational waves is predicted by Einstein's theory of general relativity. Any mass that is accelerated should generate gravity waves.

If a gravitational wave as strong as the earth's magnetic field hit this planet, you would be lifted from your seat and buildings from their foundations. Since nothing remotely resembling such events has ever been detected, gravity waves are known to be extremely weak.

Dr. Weber's instruments to detect gravity waves are based on the small effect they are predicted to have on a relatively large mass. When the gravity wave penetrates the mass, it is jiggled slightly.

Dr. Weber's group uses aluminum cylinders weighing 3,000 pounds to search for gravitational radiation at 1,660 cycles per second. The cylinders are mounted in delicate isolation to prevent mechanical or electromagnetic effects from setting them into vibration.

Because the radiation is so weak, the changes that have to be measured amount to only a few parts in 100 billion. The Maryland team, however, has developed equipment sensitive enough to measure the imperceptible motion occuring when a possible gravitational wave jiggles a cylinder.

Two instruments are used to help eliminate unwanted effects, their response in time being checked against each other. Delicate seismometers and tiltmeters are used to check against the events recorded being natural or man-made earthquakes, or a slowly subsiding building, either of which will confound the readings.

The ideal detector for gravitational waves would have serveral instruments such as Dr. Weber uses spread out over miles in the form of a cross. In that way, the source of any gravitational wave would be detected through time differences.

Magicians Concentrate On Performer Technique

About 200 members of the International Brotherhood of Magicians, meeting in Hollywood, were uninterested when merchandizers displayed novelty items and magicians showed their new tricks. Their greatest appreciation was for the way Rowan Brooks exticated himself from a straitjacket and Nick Marconick performed the standard tumbler trick.

On the vaudeville stage, with 30 assistants and a large stage, a magician could entertain with less skill and style than is needed now before close-up audiences in cabarets and small nightclubs, he said.

Interest in extra sensory perception simply draws on psychology, every magician's valuable weapon, he said.

Bullet-Fast Gas Clouds In Outer Space

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Enormous clouds of hydrogen gas, each containing as much matter as 300 suns, appear to be plunging into our Milky Way galaxy from space at speeds up to 124 miles a second.

The literally shocking effects of these gigantic collisions were described by Prof. Robert A. Gross of Columbia University at a recent meeting of the American Physical Society.

LIKE RE-ENTRY

Gross, an authority on shock waves, likened the plunge of these immense masses of gas to the re-entry of a satellite nose cone into the earth's atmosphere after a journey in space.

The Milky Way, containing 100 billion stars including the sun, is one of billions of such star assemblies in the universe. In addition to its billions of stars, it harbors enough swirling dust and gas to make billions of new stars.

Hydrogen is the basic stuff of the universe. It is what stars are made of. A typical Milky Way hydrogen cloud is about 190 trillion miles in diameter, adds up to about 300 solar masses, and moves in interstellar space within the galaxy at around six miles a second.

But Dutch radio astronomers, aiming their instruments at regions outside the Milky Way, have observed some 30 hydrogen clouds which appear to be diving into our galaxy at speeds of 60, 90, and 124 miles a second.

SHOCK WAVES

Gross, while on leave from Columbia, worked recently with Dutch scientists at the University of Leiden on a study of the complicated shock waves created when these strange high-speed clouds collide with the interstellar hydrogen native to the Milky Way.

He said the origin of these invading clouds is a mystery. Perhaps they were ejected into outer space by convulsions in the center of the Milky Way and now are falling back, like the aforementioned nose cones.

Perhaps, on the other hand, they originated somewhere else in the universe and sailed close enough to be captured and pulled down by the gravitational power of our galaxy.

In any case, their plunge produces shock waves which generate temperatures up to 2.7 million degrees and a "blinding flash" lasting 10,000 years—a brief moment in the galactic time scale—before they slow and cool to equilibrium with the native gases of the Milky Way.

TESTS TOLD

Gross told of laboratory experiments at Columbia with electromagnetically powered shock tubes which some day may generate temperatures in hydrogen gas of 180 million degrees.

At such temperatures, H-bomb reactions can be initiated, theoretically in a controlled way, for peacetime power. The sun owes its fantastic capacity to such reactions.

Gross predicted that scientists, through study of laboratory and galactic shock waves, eventually will be able to create "states of matter which thus far have been created only in the interiors of stars."
